

Noisy Throng Greet's President in Manila

Differences Can Be Negotiated, Eisenhower Says

Cheering Humanity Lines Boulevards

Manila—UPI—A wildly enthusiastic crowd of almost 2 million Filipinos welcomed President Eisenhower to this pro-American island republic with frenzied joy today at the start of his two-week tour of Asia.

IKE IN MANILA—President Eisenhower is escorted from his plane by Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia, left, after arrival at Manila airport on the first leg of his two-week tour of the Orient. President Eisenhower was greeted warmly by many thousands of Filipinos at the airport and along the roadways leading into the city.

After an emotional "welcome home" greeting by Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia at the airport, the two leaders drove about 10 miles into downtown Manila through boulevards lined with cheering humanity.

Enthusiasm of the greeting here, and the prospect of a more tranquil welcome in Japan, led observers to feel that the President's advisers had been correct in having him go through with his Oriental trip.

'K' Says Policy Of Coexistence Wins in Kremlin

Premier Seen Victor in Argument

London—UPI—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has served notice on the Communist camp and the West that his policy of peaceful coexistence has won out in the Kremlin.

Soviet affairs experts said today this was the essence of two consecutive major policy pronouncements made in official Moscow publications within the past 72 hours.

These sources quoted the official Communist Party newspaper Pravda and the influential party and government organ "Sovetskaya Rossiya" as indicating that Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence has been confirmed by the Kremlin.

Pravda strongly attacked the left-wing "tough line" advocates last Sunday. Soviet-skaya Rossiya, the organ of the government and of the party of the Russian republic, the largest of the Soviet republics delivered a similar attack.

The Khrushchev victory was understood to have been the outcome of behind the scenes discussions since the collapse of the summit in Paris last month.

The discussions in the inner circle of the Kremlin were believed to be still in progress in preparation for the important Communist party Central Committee meeting in Moscow July 14.

Kennedy Lists Program for Foreign Policy

Washington—UPI—Sen. John F. Kennedy, front-runner for the Democratic nomination, set forth today a 12-point foreign policy program which he said would rescue the United States from "the increasing deterioration of America's world position."

In a prepared Senate speech, billed in advance as a major foreign policy announcement, the Massachusetts Democrat caustically hit out at both President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon for having failed, in his opinion, to deal effectively with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Deplored what he considered U.S. failure to deal with Khrushchev and the Russians from a position of strength, Kennedy said:

"As a substitute for policy, Mr. Eisenhower has tried smiling at the Russians; our State Department has tried frowning at them; and Mr. Nixon has tried both. None have succeeded."

In spelling out his foreign policy program, Kennedy backed the current U.S. stand against recognizing Red China or admitting the Peiping regime to the United Nations. But he suggested bringing the Chinese Communists into the Geneva nuclear talks as a test of their good behavior.

In his other proposals, he called for stronger U.S. defenses, greater efforts to help underdeveloped and newly independent nations, attempts to "wean" restive satellite countries from Russia, and more flexible approaches to the Berlin and Middle East problems.

Kennedy told the Senate there was "no point in returning to the summit" until the United States developed "carefully prepared, long-term policies designed to increase the strength of the non-Communist world," in lieu of Eisenhower's "good intentions and pious principles."

The lawmaker, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, placed major blame on Khrushchev for wrecking the summit conference but also sharply criticized Eisenhower for his role.

Contracts Let For School Items

Ashtland—The Ashtland school board last night awarded contracts for typewriters, furniture and a set of bleachers for the new million-dollar junior high school.

Contract for 35 Royal typewriters went to Jewett Office Supply, Medford, whose bid of $3,810 was lowest of the five submitted. The district also will trade in 10 used typewriters.

A single set of bleachers, 88 feet long and containing 12 rows, will be purchased from Northern School Supply, Portland. Price on the Medart-type bleachers is $8,368. There were five other bidders.

Contracts for 42 items of school furniture, including desks for students, teachers and office workers and various types of tables and chairs, were divided among six firms. Ten companies submitted bids.

Major winner was Northern School Supply, which was awarded a contract for $11,712.53 worth of furniture.

Other contracts were awarded to Virco Manufacturing company, a California firm, $7,139; Frank D. Coan, Inc., Portland, $3,226.64; Washington-Oregon School Supply, Seattle, $2,783.50; Rod Muzzy and company, Portland, $2,592.84; and J. K. Gill company, Portland, $2,105.74.

Superintendent of Schools Stanley Jobe spent three days in Portland last week inspecting merchandise offered by bidders.

Flag Day Observed In Valley Today

The American flag, known as the Stars and Stripes, and as Old Glory, was adopted as the United States emblem by the Congress 163 years ago today.

As a result, today, June 14, is known as Flag Day. It is not a national holiday, but a day of commemoration, and for honoring the flag.

Most downtown Medford merchants had the flag flying in front of their places of business today.

The resolution reads: "The board of directors of the Oregon Shakespearean Festival association, acting in saddened unanimity, hereby expresses its sorrow at the untimely and tragic death of Dr. George Verne Blue, scholar, wit, public servant, teacher, mentor, critic, leader, a gentleman of parts."
