Shower Honors Nanette Grow; June Rites Set

Eagle Point — Miss Nanette Grow was honored with a bridal shower at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Jack Fortin in Eagle Point Saturday afternoon, June 11. Mrs. Fortin and Mrs. Jack Grow, both grandmothers, were hostesses for the party.

Miss Grow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grow, Crater Lake highway, and was graduated from Eagle Point High school this year. Miss Grow is the bride-elect of Terry Edmondson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edmondson, Butte Falls. He was graduated from the Butte Falls High school and is employed by the U.S. Forest Service. The couple plan a small family wedding June 25 and will live at the Lodge Pole guard station for the summer.

Guests honoring the bride to be were Miss Yetta Olson, Miss Gale Gros, Mrs. David Rasmussen, Mrs. Jackie Klinge, Mrs. Kenneth Porter, Mrs. Orville Stephenson, Mrs. Jack Tynell, Mrs. Billie Grow, Mrs. Ray Tungate, Mrs. Mattie Brown, Mrs. Ruby Stowell, Mrs. Lottie Van Sey, Mrs. Frank Edmondson and daughter, Andy, Mrs. Vern Stephenson, Mrs. Julie Dow, Mrs. David Harbison, Mrs. Bill Hunting, Mrs. Loyd Damon, Mrs. Mallie Reddell, Mrs. Kizie Edmondson, Mrs. Harold Grow, Miss Kathy Grow, Mrs. Golden Zundell, Mrs. Eldon Grow, Mrs. Waterson and the two hostesses.

Games were played. The gifts were placed on a table with a pink nylon net umbrella hanging from the ceiling from which tiny silver raindrops dripped. Mrs. Klinge made bouquets of the wrapping ribbon and Mrs. Harold Grow, mother of the bride-to-be kept the gift list.

Family Reunion Held at Shorts

Eagle Point — A belated "mother's day" was enjoyed by Mrs. William Short of Eagle Point when all nine of her children were together for the first time on May 22 when they came to visit Mr. and Mrs. Short at their home on Stevens road. This was the first reunion in 10 years for the older youngsters and the first time all the older and younger children had even been home together.

Attending the reunion were Don Cantrell, a son from Eugene, and Mrs. Crantell; Miss Alene Cantrell, Los Angeles; a daughter; Captain and Mrs. James Bradford, Abilene, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Markel, Klamath Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peabody, Medford, the women all being daughters of Mrs. Short.

The four younger children living at home are Billy, Danny, Susan and Cindy Short.

Seven of Mrs. Short's 10 grandchildren were also present.

Mrs. Neuberger is Guest At Fund-Raising Event

By YVONNE FRANKLIN
Mail Tribune
Washington Bureau

Washington — (Special) — Maurine Neuberger dropped into Washington last week, starred as honor guest at a fund-raising "Good Luck to Maurine" luncheon, and went home $15,000 richer in the campaign pocket.

Five hundred Democratic supporters paid $25 each for their luncheon chicken to help raise money for their Oregon senatorial candidate, Oscar Chapman, former secretary of the interior, who introduced the guests, proudly pointed out several senators and their wives who were lending their presence to boost Mrs. Neuberger's candidacy.

Mrs. Neuberger told the crowd of her struggles on the campaign circuit, and reminded them that it all takes lots of money.

In characteristic plainspoken fashion, she scolded the Oregon press for not "informing the people better" on international affairs. She flattered her eastern audience by comparing favorably the eastern newspapers with those in Oregon.

Oregon Interests

She was telling her audience of the issues which interested Oregon audiences. She said that she was amazed that the Forand bill, which would use the Social Security System to provide for medical care of the aged, always was mentioned by the people after her speeches.

"The Summit was of concern, but not of great concern. They are not ready yet to say all is lost. I think they have to be told more. They are concerned, but they don't know. It is of concern to me that they don't know more. One of the reasons is that we have very poor information via our newspapers in Oregon," she said.

Mrs. Neuberger then turned her attention to former governor Elmo Smith, her Republican opponent in the senate race.

"My opponent and I are talking opposite views on most subjects, although he is beginning to take on the aura of a great liberal," she said.

Photographer Writes Article For Magazine

An illustrated article in the last issue of "The Rangefinder," professional magazine for photographers, was adapted from a letter by Duane Smith of Medford's Classic studio.

Entitled "Shakespeare Never Knew How Much He Needed a Photographer" the material concerns Mr. Smith's work as staff photographer for the Oregon Shakespearean festival at Ashland.

The photographer begins the season by taking identification pictures of each company member, then takes portraits of those in the cast and on the staff, these numbering about 90, and makes about 16 special photographs for the festival program.

In addition Mr. Smith takes dozens of publicity shots for newspapers and magazines, and during the time the plays are in production, takes stage shots after performances.

In the article Mr. Smith gave details of the type of equipment he uses and other information of interest to professional photographers. Mr. Smith closes his Medford studio during the time of the festival season, and does little photography outside of his festival schedule.

Mr. Smith and his wife, who assists with the studio work, were in Portland recently for the Pacific International Photographer's meeting, held at the Sheraton hotel. Four of Mr. Smith's portraits were selected for the exhibit which was a part of the convention. One was of Philip Hanson, actor, another was a wedding portrait of the former Sally Harris, the third was a portrait of Miss Sandy Cauble and the fourth a profile of Sandra Carmichael.

This 'Break' Helps

Livingston, N.J. — (UPI) — Eight billion cups of coffee are consumed annually during coffee-breaks in 3,000 industrial and business organizations, the American College of Nutrition reported.

Estimated cost to the employer is 5.5 cents per employe per hour. The ACN said there exists good evidence that fatigue, absenteeism, accident rate, turnover and waste are lowered — as a result of the coffee break.

No 'Moo' About It

New York — (UPI) — A lot of folks who never saw a purple cow probably will be resting their eyes — and maybe themselves on purple cow-hide during 1960.

The prediction, from members of the Upholstery Leather Group, is coupled with a report that orders for purple leather are up.

Perfume 'Round the Clock

Q.—Dear Leigh: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. G. B.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $2.25 plus tax at Wainwright's Pharmacy, 322 E. Main. Pd Adv.

Hoover Faculty, Staff Honored At PTA Party

Members of the Hoover Parent-Teacher association board entertained the faculty and staff of the school at a luncheon June 8. The meal was served on the terrace at Rogue Valley Country club.

For entertainment teachers were given a "test," this being on their ability to recognize pictures of themselves and their co-workers taken when they were babies or young children. The pictures, displayed one at a time and then passed around, ranged from one of a dirty-faced two-year-old presumably smoking a pipe to the traditional baby on a bear rug photograph.

The pictures had been secured from husbands, wives, mothers and other relatives of the teachers without their knowledge, the committee having worked about three months to acquire the collection.

At the end of the "test" the teachers exchanged papers for grading, as they often do in classes. During the test they were disciplined for talking too much and for comparing notes. The prizes were such articles as an apple for the teacher, and a pencil sharpener for the teacher with the lowest score.

Mrs. P. F. Brainerd was master of ceremonies for the amusing program.

Mrs. Richard Knoll, retiring president, was presented a silver tray from the board. Mrs. A. J. Johansson, retiring vice-president and new president, spoke. Gerald Martin is the retiring secretary, and Mrs. Frank Blaer will serve in this capacity the coming year.

The retiring treasurer, Mrs. Ray Mencke, is being replaced by Mrs. Robert Dickey. Mrs. Richard Knight is the new vice-president.

Entertaining and complimentary poems written by Mrs. Brainerd about the teachers were at each plate. Unusual place cards and flowers also decorated the tables.

Brides Should Plan Man's Castle For Him

Urbana, Ill. — (UPI) — Plan a home with your man in mind, Mrs. Graham, University of Illinois home economist, advises the bride.

She urges the bride to confine her favorite feminine colors to the kitchen and dressing room and consult with her husband on styles, colors and textures for the rest of the house.

For the dining room, select chairs big enough for a man's comfort, Miss Graham said.

Living room furniture should be comfortable for either sex or include chairs that say "his" and "hers" by their sizes. Miss Graham urges engaged couples to decide on the style of furniture they prefer and make a long-term plan for buying it.

This will be the first time in 44 years that the annual session has not been held in Portland, and the only other time the grand lodge held an annual communication in Eugene was 101 years ago. Lloyd E. Wilson, a past grand master of California and long time grand secretary of the lodge, will speak at a banquet Wednesday night.

Luncheon Given By PTA Board Honors Teachers

"A Vacation in Hawaii" was the theme for a luncheon given for the Washington school faculty by Washington Parent-Teacher association's executive board members.

A Hawaiian hula number and song was given by Mrs. William Towne, Mrs. Al Bradford, Mrs. Hayden Dorsey, Mrs. Thomas Antley and Mrs. Charles Whitwood. Mrs. Kathryn Larson was pianist and soloist.

Miss Marjo Murray was presented gifts from the faculty and executive board in honor of her approaching marriage June 19. Mrs. Robert Huff was presented a baby gift, and Miss Louise Basford, special education supervisor who is retiring from the system this year, was also presented a gift.

Mrs. Lee Hedgepath, who is retiring from the cafeteria staff, was also thanked for her service to the school and a gift presented to her.

Mrs. Donald Coltrane, retiring unit president, was given a silver dish, a gift from executive board members.

"Farewell to Thee" was sung by the group. A prize was won by Mrs. Kenneth Davis.

The luncheon was held in the school cafeteria, with about 50 members of the faculty and staff and the executive board attending.

American Woman Serves As 'Hand of the Cause'

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

New York — (UPI) — She was born Mary Maxwell of New York, daughter of a famous architect.

Today, she is Ruhyyih Rabbani, one of nine members of an international body directing the affairs of the Bahai religious faith from its world headquarters in Haifa, Israel.

"All of my life I wanted to serve," said the attractive, brown haired Mrs. Rabbani, a widow in her late 40s. New York was one stop on a 22,000 mile trip to attend Bahai conventions in Toronto and Wilmette, Ill., and visit the faith's centers in North America, Europe and Africa.

In an interview, Mrs. Rabbani explained what Bahai's believe, how the religion has spread since it was founded in 1844 by a Persian scholar named Baha'u'llah, and how she met and married Shoghi Effendi Rabbani, the great grandson of the founder.

They Work For Peace

Baha'is, she said, are Christians, work toward the principles of world brotherhood, for peace, and abolition of all prejudice because of race or creed.

There is no priesthood or clergy, she said; it is up to each member of the faith to tell others. "We are not an aggressive religion," she explained. In 116 years, Baha'u'llah's teachings have spread to 256 countries, territories and islands. She said there are 6,000 centers—1,700 of them in the United States.

Mrs. Rabbani's mother was a New York girl who married William Sutherland Maxwell, the Canadian architect who designed the Parliament buildings at Regina, Saskatchewan, and the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City.

Her mother was a part of the first American pilgrimage to Haifa and the first Bahai in North America.

Haifa became world headquarters, she said, because the founder died there in 1829—an exile from his native land because of his teachings.

How She Was Named

Mrs. Rabbani said she was on a pilgrimage to Haifa when she met Rabbani, then the "guardian of the faith." They were married in 1937, and he gave her the name of Ruhyyih—meaning "spirit-like." He died three years ago of a heart attack.

She will continue at least until 1963 as one of the nine appointed "hands of the cause" stationed in Haifa. She said there are 27 hands in various parts of the world. One other woman is stationed in Haifa — Mrs. Amelia Collins, 86, Phoenix.

"You haven't asked me yet what has been the highlight of my visit to the United States," said the Bahai leader.

"I'll tell you. I visited a Blackfoot Indian reservation where there are a lot of Bahai members. I was invited to address their council and afterwards they named me 'Natu-Okkist.'

"It means, 'Blessed Mother.'"

MEETING ANNOUNCED

Jolly Stitches club will meet at the home of Mrs. Don Miller, 542 North Bartlett street, Wednesday, June 15, at 6:30 p.m.

New York—The "personal" look, reflecting a woman's own good taste and flattering her particular figure, is the "look" for fall, 1960. Silhouettes are subtle, centering mostly at the waistline which is frequently lowered, or, when belts are used, softly defined by a sash belt. The London House of Dior reflects the trend in a suit of black and white tweed wool with its longer jacket nipped by a black suede sash belt. The style is Porte Douphine.
