The Family Council

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a Judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a woman's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Margaret S. - He hates my parents. Peter S. - They make me sick!

Margaret S. - My husband and I have been married nearly three years and have a son, 16 months old.

All our problems started with the birth of the baby. My parents are just crazy about Butch. He is their first grandchild and they want to see him nearly every day. My father works so he can only come early in the morning. My mother comes during the afternoon and usually stays the night.

Pete just hates to see my parents around and is always nasty to them. Lately he has refused to get out of bed until my father leaves. This makes him late to work. Then he won't come home until he's sure my mother is gone. This means he doesn't get home until nearly seven - and then with several beers in him.

Peter S. - It's true I just can't stand the sight of my in-laws. They make me sick. My father-in-law is a jerk who doesn't let you get a word in edgewise. He always has a million stories and shoots his mouth off before he gets his foot in the door.
