

Convict, Gambler Key Figures In Senate Probe Into Boxing

Washington—UPI—A convict brought from a New York State Prison today refused to tell Senate investigators anything about Frank Carbo, described as the "underworld czar" of boxing. The witness said he had been threatened with violence if he talked.

The prisoner, Irving Mishel, is serving a 10 to 20 year sentence at Clinton State Prison for grand larceny. He has been accused of being an "underworld banker" in fight fix attempts which ex-middleweight champion Jake La Motta testified to Tuesday.

By NORMAN G. CORNISH

Washington—UPI—A witness brought from a penitentiary cell and an elusive Miami Beach gambler became key figures today in the Senate investigation of boxing which already has turned up a tale of top-level fakery and bribery from ex-champion Jake LaMotta.

The convict being brought from New York state's Clinton Prison to the Senate hearing witness chair was Irving Mishel, who is serving a 10 to 20 year term for grand larceny.

Mishel has been accused of being an "underworld banker" in fight fix attempts which ex-middleweight titleholder LaMotta testified to in opening hearings Tuesday.

The missing witness was identified as Joseph DiCarlo, who has been linked to a $100,000 bribe offer to La-

Motta when he was in the title picture in the 1940's. Took Dive

LaMotta, known in his heyday as "The Bronx Bull," told the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee during a nervous appearance Tuesday that he had been offered but refused the $100,000 bribe to throw a June 6, 1947, fight to Tony Janiro. LaMotta won a 10-round decision over the Youngstown, Ohio, fighter in Madison Square Garden.

However, LaMotta testified he "took a dive" in a later fight the same year in a match with Billy Fox. The ex-champion, who now lists himself as an actor, said he did so in return for an underworld promise he would get a crack at the middleweight title. But LaMotta said he ended up paying $20,000 for the arrangement.

Senate investigators said law enforcement authorities have been searching for DiCarlo for the past 10 days. They said he was believed to be hiding out somewhere in Florida.

Southern Oregon Junior Baseball Slates Drawn

Schedules have been drawn up for competition in three Southern Oregon Junior Baseball leagues, according to Don Miller, Central Point, new commissioner.

Intermediates will begin on June 22, pee wees on June 28 and cubs on June 29.

Most activity will be in the pee wee circuit in which there will be northern and southern divisions of five teams each playing on Tuesday's and Thursdays. Four teams are in the Intermediate League which has Monday games and three in the Cub loop which has play on Wednesdays.

Grants Pass, which had two teams in the circuit, and Illinois Valley don't have entries in the SO Cub league this year. Members are Ashland, Medford and Central Point. Miller has asked anyone interested in fielding a team in this loop, for players 15 years of age and under, to contact him. Grants Pass has its cubs playing three times a week at home and the clubs cannot travel out of town.

Teams Listed

In the northern division of the Pee Wee league for boys 12 years of age and under will be Central Point, Eagle Point, Gold Hill and Rogue River. Central Point will also have a club in the southern division, competing with the Ashland Cubs, Ashland Bears, Medford Tigers and Medford Wildcats.

Medford Giants, Medford Yankees, Ashland and Central Point will play in the Intermediate circuit for youths 14 years of age and under.

A four team playoff, involving the top two teams in each division, will decide the Pee Wee league crown.

Boys who have not reached their 12th birthday by June 15 may play as pee wees, those who have not become 14 by June 15 may become intermediates and those not 15 by the same date may participate in cub ball.

Games are five innings for pee wees and seven for the other classifications.

Last year the Southern Oregon Junior league produced the Oregon Junior Baseball association champion, Central Point Crater Cubs took the mantle.

Honestly, wouldn't YOUR family look good in this?

Volkswagen Convertible

The top of the Volkswagen Convertible is like no other. It is air-tight and water-tight because it overlaps the windshield frame. It has a real glass rear window and is completely lined and padded — no struts or crossbars show.

The VW Convertible shares every mechanical virtue of the sedan. The air-cooled rear engine can't freeze or overheat. No anti-freeze needed. All wheels are individually suspended with torsion bars (uncanny control over the roughest roads). You get 32 mpg—regular driving, regular gas. You can go 70 mph all day and park where others can't fit.

Patterson's Inability To Avoid Rights Boosts Support for Johansson

By JACK CUDDY

Newtown, Conn.—UPI—Floyd Patterson's apparent inability to avoid right-hand punches less than a week before his return heavyweight title fight with Ingemar Johansson cause these two developments today:

—The betting odds favoring champion Ingemar to beat Patterson Monday night lengthened from 6-5 to 7-5.

—A poll of 20 American and foreign sports writers, who were ready to make their picks, favored Swedish Ingemar, 18 to two. The poll was made right here in Floyd's camp.

Four of the voters were from Sweden and five from England.

But Patterson, taking the day off, declared: "Neither the odds nor the poll mean anything to me this time. I'm not reading the papers this time."

He explained he had eagerly read the sports sections before his first fight with Johansson last June 26 and had found himself a 5-1 betting favorite and an overwhelming choice in all polls. But underdog Johansson knocked him out in the third round and took his title.

Defense Question Mark

With only two more sparring sessions remaining on 25-year-old Floyd's schedule—Thursday and Friday—his defense was a big question mark although he was fast and effective on attack.

The ex-champion was the first to admit his lack of alertness against the right hands of sparmates John Henry and Julio Mederos in Tuesday's three-round session.

"I showed nothin," he said. "I didn't feel in the mood. It was a lazy day for me."

Improving his defense has been the big job during Floyd's 38 days here. Trainer Dan Florio and advisor Joe Louis have changed his style from the feet-even and hands-even peckaboo stance to the modified peckaboo, with the left foot and left glove slightly forward to improve his balance.

Ingy Ends Full Scale Drill Today

Grossinger, N. Y. —UPI— Heavyweight Champion Ingemar Johansson was to engage in his final full-scale workout today for his return title fight with Floyd Patterson.

Following today's drill, the handsome Swede began five days of loafing to "store up my strength" for next Monday's battle at the Polo Grounds. Ingo followed the same training pattern before last year's fight with Patterson.

Johansson also will undergo an official pre-fight medical examination today. He said the sprained back which sidelined him last week still is painful "but it does not affect my fighting."

The champion scaled 197 pounds following a brisk workout Tuesday. He said he feels "20 to 30 per cent better than this time last year" and hopes to weigh 196 on fight night.

22,500 Homes Bill Fight TV

New York —UPI—The closed circuit telecast of the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title bout next Monday will be beamed into 22,500 homes through 12 community antenna systems, it was announced today by the TelePrompster Corp.

Irving B. Kahn, president of TelePrompster, said subscribers were asked to authorize voluntarily an additional charge of $2 on their monthly bill for the telecast and that the response was "excellent."

Close circuit television of the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title boxing bout will be seen at the Craterian theatre here.
