

Sprinkler Parts Taken - Some $50 worth of sprinkler parts, including wheels and axles for mobile sprinklers, were taken from McLoughlin Junior High school sometime recently, police were informed Tuesday.

Shed Burns - A small unused shed was destroyed about 4:15 p.m. yesterday on property behind the residence of Mrs. Elsie Ragsdale, 160 DeHague st. Firemen said that the cause was not determined.

Local and Personal

Minor Fire - Ashland firemen at 6:05 p.m. Tuesday extinguished a small trash fire near a log bed at Walker ave. and the railroad tracks.

Surgey Patient - Surgery patients listed at Rogue Valley hospital today include Mrs. Kittie Smith, Mountain View Nursing home, Ashland.

Add to Residence - The city building department recently issued a $1,850 building permit to B. R. Mathelsen to add to a residence at 2105 Roberts rd.

X-Ray Clinic - The chest x-ray clinic at Sacred Heart hospital, sponsored by the Jackson County Tuberculosis and Health association, will be open Thursday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Surgery Patients - Sacred Heart hospital reported today that Mrs. C. P. Van Ortwich, 1369 Poplar dr., Medford, and Mrs. Hazel B. Jones, 38 N. Oakdale ave., Medford, were listed as surgery patients.

Rummage Sale - Young people of the Eagle Point Assembly of God church will hold a rummage sale in the Fehd building, Medford, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. this Saturday to raise funds for tile for the main sanctuary of the church. Anyone wishing to donate clothing may contact Mrs. Roy Dunn at Hillcrest 6-3880.

Business Name - The business name of Medford Electrolighting company has been assumed by V. C. Reavis, K. W. Reavis and C. S. Reavis, 618 North Columbus ave., and San Leandro, Calif., according to records in the county recorder's office.

Patients - Medical and surgery patients listed today at the Crater Osteopathic hospital include Roy Hilderbrand, Butte Falls star route, box 20, Eagle Point; Mrs. George C. Krauss, route 1, box 8, Gold Hill; Mrs. Roy Simmons, route 1, box 488, Central Point; Mrs. Matilda Gimachlich, 1046 Lozier lane, Medford; Mrs. Milford White, 2537 Sunny View, Medford; Eugene T. Stevens, 770 Head rd., Central Point; Mrs. Willis Pratt, 155 DeHauge rd., Medford; Robert C. Criswell, Days Creek, Ore., and Mary Ann Oden, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Oden, Wolf Creek, tonsillectomy.

Alarm Sounds - Water flow alarm on a sprinkler system at Sacred Heart hospital sounded about 10 p.m. yesterday. The alarm was caused by a broken sprinkler head on the fifth floor and there was no fire, city firemen stated.

Paper Ignites - City firemen were dispatched to the home of Mrs. Anna Mae Arnold, 219 North Grape st., about 8:40 a.m. yesterday when a fire in a wall was reported. They found that an overheated flue had caused paper covering an unused chimney opening to ignite.

Debris - Firemen said that the contractor will have to excavate to extinguish a debris fire in the fill for the 10th st. bridge over Bear creek. Firemen reportedly were unable to put the fire out last night because of the fill along the creek bank. They were dispatched about 8:30 p.m. and again about 8:05 p.m. A trash fire along the Bear creek bank behind Cedar Lodge motel was put out about 4:50 p.m.

Inquiries concerning the Siskiyou Band camp may be directed to Dr. Herbert Cecil, band camp secretary, Southern Oregon college.

Contempt Hearing For Mrs. Kittle Held Last Night

A hearing on contempt of court charges against Marie K. Kittle, former Medford resident, has been continued until 10:30 a.m. Monday, June 20.

During rather turbulent proceedings which started here at 9 p.m. yesterday, Charles S. Woodrich, Douglas county circuit judge, told Mrs. Kittle she has until 5 p.m. Thursday, June 16 to obtain her own attorney. Otherwise, he will appoint William V. Deatherage, Medford attorney, to represent her.

The contempt of court charges arise from orders of the court directing Mrs. Kittle to return property she obtained from the late August Lorenzen, former Medford resident. The will was contested during a trial held for three weeks in 1958 and 1959 over which Judge Woodrich presided.

Crowded Docket
The Douglas county circuit judge explained a crowded court docket in his own county made it necessary to conduct the trial last night.

As Mrs. Kittle angrily protested against parts of a transcript from the former trial the judge reminded her several times that "that issue has been settled and cannot be retried."

Judge Woodrich explained that he had set the bail low enough so Mrs. Kittle could be released on bail and arrange for an attorney. She replied that her cousin had been unable to obtain an attorney for her due to the sudden scheduling of the hearing. She said being in jail she couldn't contact anyone.

Brian Mullen, deputy district attorney, assured the judge that Mrs. Kittle had been allowed to make one telephone call herself and the jailer is allowed to make additional calls for a prisoner. Jail records show that a call had been made, he said. The telephone has been and will continue to be available to Mrs. Kittle, he emphasized.

At the conclusion of the contest of will suit Mrs. Kittle was ordered by the court to turn over all papers and properties in the Lorenzen estate. She disappeared, but was found by Jackson county sheriff's deputies and arrested last Thursday.

Mrs. Kittle is the former self-appointed executrix of Lorenzen's estate, was his housekeeper, and claimed to be his daughter. She was also his nurse in Medford and California. Lorenzen, a German carpenter who had migrated to this country about 1900 left an estate valued at over $50,000. He died in Sacramento, Calif., Dec. 23, 1955, after residing in Medford for several years.

During last night's proceedings, Mrs. Kittle continually referred to Lorenzen as her father.

"I don't like to willfully disobey a court order," she stated. "But the money belongs to me. I worked hard for it." Pounding her fist on the table she declared, "The property is mine. Even if you stick me in jail until I rot I won't give it to anybody."
