'Temporary' Job Holder Retires

Salem—(UPI)—Fred H. Paulus, who took a "temporary" job 35 years ago with the Oregon Treasury Department, will retire June 27 as deputy state treasurer. The occasion will also mark his 70th birthday.

Paulus went to work for the state treasury Aug. 1, 1925 as a cashier. He assumed the deputy's post in March, 1927 and has held it ever since.

Paulus has seen eight administrations come and go and is credited with writing nearly all of Oregon's major fiscal laws. During his term, the treasury grew from $80 million to a $1,375,000,000 operation.

The constitutional amendment providing financing of Oregon's reforestation program was written in large part by him. He co-authored such legislation as the veterans' loan act, self-liquidating bonds amendment for college building and the sewer bond revolving fund act.

the General Assembly, convening in September.

The Oregon Senator said the appointment was "probably the greatest honor and opportunity for public service that has come to me since I have been in the Senate." He said he would give attention particularly to judicial procedures of the U.N.

The Oregon Senator observed:

"Ever since the San Francisco charter has been signed, I have taken the position that the best hope for peace in the world is through the judicial processes of the United Nations. I shall go to the United Nations with a determination to do whatever I can to help strengthen and develop the judicial procedures of the United Nations for the settlement of issues that threaten the peace of the world."

Morse is the first Oregonian to be so honored since ex-Gov. Charles A. Sprague, Salem publisher. Each year two members of Congress are among the five members of the U.S. delegation, rotating between House and Senate members.

Eisenhower Bids Farewell To Philippines

Red China Assault On Quemoy Feared

Manila—(UPI)—President Eisenhower, his trip to Japan cancelled, said an emotional farewell to the Philippines tonight and sailed for Formosa amid cries of "Mabuhay" (long live) and the strains of an Army band's "Auld Lang Syne."

Before he left aboard the U.S.S. St. Paul, flagship of the U.S. Seventh Fleet, the President accepted with regret the decision of the pro-Western Japanese government to bow to Communist-led violence and call off his visit to Tokyo because it could not guarantee his safety.

Bombardment Feared

As he departed, a grim note was injected with a report from Taipei that fears were growing in Formosa that Communist China might launch a massive artillery bombardment against the offshore Quemoy Islands to underscore the leftwing victory in forcing him to bypass Japan.

To replace his planned trip to Tokyo, the President will advance the time of his arrival in South Korea from June 22 to this Sunday June 19, the date on which he was to have arrived in Japan.

Might Skip Okinawa

He was still scheduled to stop at the U.S.-held island of Okinawa after he leaves Formosa, although U.S. embassy sources in Seoul said he might skip it and fly directly from Taipei to Korea.

Eisenhower wound up his last day in the Philippines with a major speech before an estimated 400,000 persons in Manila's Luneta Park, and then acted as host at a formal dinner in the U.S. Embassy for Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia.

In a communique issued jointly with Garcia, Eisenhower agreed that American military aid to the Philippines should help to modernize this island republic's armed forces.

U.S. Population Said 179,500,000

Washington—(UPI)—The U.S. population totalled about 179,500,000 on April 1.

The Census Bureau, in reporting the figure, said it may be revised upward when the 1960 head count is completed. The total was based on a preliminary count in the 50 states and the District of Columbia, which produced a figure of 177,733,190.

But the Census Bureau estimated the higher figure on the basis of the number of persons in the armed forces overseas, persons counted away from home, those counted too late and members of crews of U.S. military and merchant ships.

Japan Treaty Due in Senate

Washington—(UPI)—Senate leaders, acting on the State Department's advice, decided today to go ahead with action on the U.S.-Japanese security treaty despite cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit.

Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson announced that the Senate would act on the treaty "at an early date," conceivably tonight or Friday.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said he had consulted with State Department officials, and they advised that the Senate proceed with action on the treaty regardless of developments in Japan.

The department's view was confirmed by acting press officer Joseph W. Reap who told reporters the department knows of "no reason" why the Senate should hold up ratification of the treaty.

Asked when the treaty will reach the floor, Johnson replied that the big defense appropriations bill, the fed-

Three Appear in Circuit Court

Judge Edward C. Kelly overruled motions sought by Delbert Lee Crow, of Missouri, who was serving a 25-year sentence in the state penitentiary for burglary with explosives. Crow was one of three men who appeared in circuit court Wednesday afternoon.

Crow alleged that he was denied the due process of law in 1955 since information on which he was charged and tried was fundamentally defective.

He was sentenced in 1955 by former Circuit Judge Herbert K. Hanna. Earlier this year the sentencing was set aside by Judge Val D. Sloper, Salem, and Crow was remanded to Jackson county.

Judge Kelly sentenced Crow to 10 years in the state penitentiary, with the sentence to start at the time of the first sentencing.

Also appearing before Judge Kelly was Lyle Edward Lunceford, route 2, box 205A, Medford, who was sentenced to three years in the Oregon correctional institute. Lunceford was arraigned on district attorney's information, and pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary not in a dwelling.

Lawrence Orson Allen, Medford, was arraigned on district attorney's information for larceny by embezzlement. He waived the right to a grand jury and the case was continued for him to enter a plea following receipt of FBI reports.

Bail was continued at $1,000.

eral employees pay increase bill and a motion to approve House action on suffrage in the District of Columbia were tentatively scheduled for action first.

"My best judgment is that we will proceed at an early date," Johnson said. His tentative schedule suggested that ratification of the treaty, while it could conceivably come today, will more probably come Friday or Saturday and might even be deferred until next week.

Rooster Crowing Contest Scheduled In Rogue River

Rogue River—Preparations for the annual National Rooster Crowing contest Saturday June 18, at the Rogue River grade school grounds are almost complete, according to the Rogue River Boosters, sponsors of the event.

A cash prize of $250 will go to the owner of the rooster crowing, the greatest number of times during the 30-minute period, with another $250 being given in other classifications of judging such as the best decorated and most original cages.

Honorable mention is to be given to the best commercial cages. No entry fee has been set for the roosters.

The "Cant Bust 'Em Over-all" manufacturing company, San Francisco, has prepared overalls for the roosters participating, which are free to the contestants.

Registration will start at 9:30 a.m. at the school, and the parade will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the "Huck Finn" boys, from which a "King of the Rooster Crow" will be chosen by mayors of different cities, leading the event.

Several Go-Karts from the Medford area also will be featured in the parade, along with the Klitte Bag Pipeband from Medford, Central Point, and Ashland. The latter group will put on a concert at the triangle at Main and Depot st.

Tour of New Lake Area Is Planned

Members of the county court, Parks and Recreation Director Bob Haworth, James A. Callan, bureau of reclamation, and Ross Youngblood, bureau of land management, will tour the Howard Prairie recreation area Friday.

According to County Judge Earl Miller, the group will check the area for a location to establish a multi-use camp for youth. He said the trip is being made at the request of the parks and recreation commission. The commission said that many groups have shown interest in such a camp at Howard Prairie, and organizations have offered to donate materials and labor for its construction.

Miller said the group would also check for a possible garage disposal area outside the recreation section.

Mossing Operations Planned by District

Water users in the Medford area will be affected late Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday when mossier operations will be conducted by the Medford Irrigation district, according to Jack Hoffbuhr, district manager.

Water users on the east side of Bear creek will be affected Friday, and users on the west side Saturday.

Initiative Petitions Filed in County

Valley Cities in Urban Renewal Study

Washington—Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.) said today the Urban Renewal Administration has granted $21,000 to the Oregon Board of Higher Education for preparation of comprehensive plans for the growth and development of Ashland, Grants Pass, Independence, Medford, Monmouth, and Roseburg.

He said planning work covers land use, public utilities, schools, recreational facilities and base maps.

Portland Firm Low Talent Project Bidder

River Bend Contractors, Inc., Portland, was apparent low bidder today for rehabilitation of the Oak st. diversion dam and Talent lateral station 3 plus 54 to station 125 plus 68, according to Francis J. O'Connor, officer engineer of the Bureau of Land Management, White City.

The bid was $198,750. The engineer's estimate was $207,843.

Democrats and Republicans as well as State Department officials said they were relieved that Eisenhower would be spared danger from fanatical leftist-led Japanese mobs.

But top Senate Democrats contended that the forced cancellation of the visit resulted from what they called administrative ineptitude. They said American prestige had been damaged seriously.

"This is a matter of grave embarrassment to be deeply regretted," Johnson said.

The grum-faced Kishi announced the news to reporters himself at his official residence after a cabinet session at which the decision was made.

He blamed the postponement on what he called a Communist-inspired effort to destroy democratic procedure in Japan.

He made it clear he was acting because he believed Eisenhower's life would be endangered if he flew here Sunday as planned.

Kishi said he himself would not resign until the U.S.-Japan treaty is ratified.

The whole future of U.S.-Japanese relations now was thrown wide open—a development certain to be welcomed by international Communist leaders who had egged on the Japanese leftists through their Peiping and Moscow propaganda organs.

Sewage Problems To Be Aired at Meeting

A public meeting on sewage problems in the area southwest of Medford will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the Jackson county courthouse auditorium, according to Wallace Brill, committee chairman for the area.

Members of the committee will report on a meeting held June 7 with county and city officials.

Petitions were to be circulated throughout the area southwest of Medford to determine sentiment of the residents toward annexation to Medford in order to hookup with the Medford sewage system.

The Medford city engineer's department was scheduled to make a preliminary engineering study of the area as to feasibility for annexation and service by city sewer systems.

The area tentatively includes Lozier lane, Ross lane, Maple Park and South Peach st. No definite boundaries for the area considered for annexation have been set, Brill pointed out.

The committee was appointed during last Friday's public meeting in the county courthouse of area residents to study the problem of septic tanks draining into Medford Irrigation district ditches and laterals.

KISHI UNABLE TO ASSURE PROTECTION

Tokyo—(UPI)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's pro-Western government bowed to Communist-led violence today and canceled President Eisenhower's trip to Japan because it could not guarantee his safety.

The President accepted the decision with regret in Manila, where he wound up a three-day visit to the Philippines and sailed for Formosa on the next leg of his Far East journey.

In Seoul, the South Korea government announced that the date of Eisenhower's visit there has been advanced from June 22 to June 19 in view of the Japanese cancellation, June 19—Sunday—is the date Eisenhower was to have arrived in Tokyo.

Kishi announced his decision personally following an emergency meeting of his Cabinet, while an estimated 25,000 leftwingers milled outside and screamed for his resignation.

The cancellation was hailed as a great victory by international communism, Kishi's political opposition, and by leftist student and union groups here which had staged a month of violent demonstrations against the visit.

Kishi was crushed. It probably meant his ultimate resignation. Eisenhower, receiving word of the postponement request in Manila, was deeply disappointed.

He blamed the postponement on what he called a Communist-inspired effort to destroy democratic procedure in Japan.

He made it clear he was acting because he believed Eisenhower's life would be endangered if he flew here Sunday as planned.

Kishi said he himself would not resign until the U.S.-Japan treaty is ratified.

Speakers Announced

Frank Van Dyke announced that the chamber's legislative committee will have three speakers at its 7:30 a.m. Wednesday meetings in the Jackson hotel.

The first speaker, June 22, will be R. W. Jackson, public relations manager for the General Electric company in San Francisco. He will discuss the ways that a community may improve its business climate and the essential factors for plant location.

Bob Lee of the Medford water department will discuss the departments budget with the committee June 29.

State Sen. Edwin Durno will discuss taxation and the forest development program July 6.

Housewife Cut by Broken Window

A Medford housewife received several minor cuts on her back from broken glass last night when a gunshot was fired through a bathroom window while she was washing her children.

Mrs. Geraldine Christine Wright, 1482 Grand ave., was not seriously hurt, according to her husband, William Harrison Wright. He told city police that the incident happened about 9 p.m. while Mrs. Wright was getting their children ready for bed.

Police said the shot left an eight-inch hole in the window. It appears to have been made by a BB or a pellet from an air gun, they said.

Police searched the area and questioned several neighbors but could find no clue as to who might have been responsible for the incident.

"It is vital, obviously," he said, "that we get to work immediately in providing the basis to take care of the population growth which is surely coming our way."

Frank added nearly 8,000 new business firms were expected in the next 10 years.

Hatfield to Head GOP Delegation

Portland—(UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield was selected Wednesday to head Oregon's 18-member delegation to the Republican national convention at Chicago in August.

Hatfield was picked as chairman at a meeting of the delegates in Portland. The meeting lasted two hours.

Sig Unander, a member of the federal maritime board, was named vice chairman, and Howell Appling Jr., Oregon secretary of state, was selected as secretary of the group. Hatfield told the group's members they would look back at their part in the convention as "one of the greatest experiences of their lives" since their task was concerned with world leadership for the next four—and possibly eight—years.

The Oregon delegation is pledged to support Vice President Richard Nixon.
