

Sober Mood of Reassessment Prevails in Washington As Aftermath of Cancellation of Ike's Visit To Japan

Thunderbird Market Construction Slated

Construction of the Thunderbird Village market to be located on a six-acre tract at Jacksonville highway and Lutzer lane is to start shortly, according to R. H. Erichsen of Coos Bay, consulting engineer.

Contract for the local project has been awarded to Jack Mathis of Roseburg. Subcontract figures are now being accepted.

The market will cover some 22,500 square feet of floor space with the construction of other buildings and departments sometime in the future.

The market itself will be about 140 by 160 feet using concrete block for construction. Other features are to include acoustical tile on the ceiling, a heating and air conditioning system in the form of a heat pump and refrigeration and fluorescent lighting. The market area will have blacktopped parking areas and metal poles with mercury vapor luminaires.

TO DELIVER ADDRESS

New York - (UPI) - German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss will deliver an address today at ceremonies commemorating a German uprising in the Soviet-occupied zone of Germany in 1953. The ceremony is being held under the auspices of the American Council on Germany, Inc., and the German consulate general.

Time Seen for Deep-Ranging Study of Tactics

Washington - (UPI) - A sober mood of reassessment rather than recrimination prevailed in Washington today as an aftermath of the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

In Congress and at the State Department, officials said it was time for a deep-ranging appraisal of Communist tactics to disrupt this country's policies throughout the world.

On Capitol Hill, there was temperate Democratic criticism of the administration's recent foreign policy setbacks - Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's torpedoing of the summit, his canceling of the President's trip there, and Thursday's Tokyo development.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate foreign relations committee called for "some close review and attention to our affairs in foreign policy."

Comment Restrained

He spoke of "lack of foresight and ineptitude in planning" in recent developments.

But general tenor of congressional comment was restrained. A question of "Where do we go from here?" was heard instead of any partisan cries of blaming the President.

State Department officials were inclined to minimize the immediate impact of the Eisenhower trip cancellation but acknowledge privately the development called for a long-range look at the entire cold war situation.

Most agreed that for a long time, the personal diplomacy approach pursued recently by both Eisenhower and Khrushchev is a dead soldier. Most also agreed that the spirit of king mob, which in three riot-marked months has brought the fall of governments in South Korea, Turkey and now probably Japan, seemed to be gaining ground, as a political and diplomatic technique.

Urges Review
Fulbright said "It's not where do we go from here but where do we stay. We need to stay home and work."

Another foreign relations member, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), said the Japan incident shows that the whole subject of American military overseas bases needs constant review.

Some officials contended the demonstrations in Japan were inspired and probably financed by Russia and Communist China. There were reports of unusually heavy diplomatic courier traffic from Soviet-bloc nations to Japan in recent months.

Thornton Rules on Property Tax Levy

Salem - (UPI) - Tax levy imposed against annexed property cannot be altered during subsequent years to reflect an amount that could have been levied at the time of annexation, according to Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton.

Union County District Attorney George L. Anderson Jr. requested the opinion.

In 1958-59, a school district increased its territory through annexation and did not levy taxes to the fullest extent authorized under the constitution.

Thornton said that after the first levy following annexation, the tax base of a district is the highest amount of tax levied by the taxing unit in any one of three preceding years plus six per cent.

Youth Hurt When Forced Off Road

A 13-year-old Medford boy was slightly injured Wednesday evening when he and the bicycle he was riding were forced over a bridge embankment by a passing car.

Raymond Harold Newman, 428 Holly st., told city police he was riding his bicycle along Jackson st. near the Bear Creek bridge about 7:20 p.m. when a car suddenly swerved towards him. In order to avoid being struck by the car, Newman said he swerved his bicycle causing him to fall over the embankment. He said the car did not stop.

He was taken to Rogue Valley hospital by the Medford Ambulance service where he treated for cuts and bruises. Police said his injuries appeared minor.

'Blind' Man Held As Drunk Driver

Houston, Tex. - (UPI) - George Albert Kingston, 49, a carpenter who has been legally blind for some time, faced 18 months in prison today for driving while drunk.

Judge Miron Love handed down the sentence Thursday after Truett Childre of the state commission for the blind testified that "Kingston has 22 per cent vision in his best eye. He is legally blind."

Kingston committed the offense of which he was convicted last December. A motorist told police Kingston's car almost hit his head-on.

Kingston's lawyer, Richard Haynes, said "his trouble is that he insists on trying to function as a sighted man. He has struggled on at his trade."

The conviction was his seventh for drunk driving since 1948.

D.C. Vote Rights Up To Legislatures

Washington - (UPI) - The fate of a congressionally approved amendment that would give residents of the District of Columbia the right to vote in presidential elections was in the hands of the state legislatures today.

The legislatures of at least 38 states must ratify the amendment to put it into effect.

The Senate approved the legislation Thursday night. The House passed it Tuesday.

District residents now have no voice in national elections. The amendment could not be ratified in time for citizens of the nation's capital to vote for president and vice president in November. It could become effective in time for the 1964 election.

Research Balloon Lingers Off Coast

Point Arguello, Calif. - (UPI) - The Navy's last research balloon-which has kept a crew of Navy men traipsing after it across the country and onto Hawaii-has been found lingering off the coast.

Radar stations at this Pacific missile range base between Los Angeles and San Francisco located the runaway gas bag Thursday. It was floating in lazy circles 68,000 feet in the sky about 190 miles over the Pacific.

The Navy was to make a decision later today on whether to shoot down the balloon or continue waiting in hopes it would come down on its own.

Tentative Agreement Made In Convair Machinist Strike

Los Angeles - (UPI) - Negotiators reached a tentative agreement on a two-year work contract today to end the 11-day machinists strike at Convair which has tied up production and testing of the nation's Atlas missile.

Air-space industry observers were optimistic the settlement would lead to a quick end of the three-day Lockheed Missiles and Space Division strike and prevent a threatened machinists strike set for midnight against Douglas Aircraft.

Covers 26,000 Workers

Convair, a division of General Dynamics, and the Machinists Union said the tentative pact covered the union's 26,000 workers at the company's plants and installations at key Atlas missile bases across the country.

The Atlas is the nation's only operational intercontinental ballistic missile. It is capable of striking at Russian targets from launch sites in the U.S.

The new tentative agreement must be approved by the International Association of Machinists' 28,000 workers at Convair before it becomes effective.

Expects Picket Removal
The company expected picket lines to be removed at all its plants and installations and workers to return to the job today.

The agreement covers workers at Convair's astronautics division and San Diego, Calif., its plant at Pomona, Calif., and Convair machinists at such key missile bases as Vandenberg AFB, Calif., Warren AFB, Wyo., Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Offutt AFB, Neb.

Terms Reinstated
R. H. Biron, Convair vice president, said terms of the old contract had been reinstated for a period of 10 days pending ratification of the tentative agreement. Workers under the old contract received $2.72 as an hourly minimum wage.

The dispute at Convair and Lockheed already had hindered production and testing of Atlas missiles and Polaris submarine missiles.

Japan Opposition Party Man Stabbed

Tokyo - (UPI) - A top ranking member of the opposition Socialist party was stabbed and critically wounded today by a young rightist.

The victim was identified as Jotaro Kawakami, a member of the Diet (parliament).

He was stabbed in the left shoulder at the rear of the Diet building. His assailant was identified as Toma Seizaburo, 20.

Police said Kawakami was critically injured.

United Press International Correspondent Tony Kase who was at the scene saw Kawakami being put into an ambulance on a stretcher.

Toma was arrested on the spot and taken to the Kojimachi police station.

Kennedy Would Pick Stevenson

New York - (UPI) - Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said Thursday night it was possible he would name Adlai Stevenson and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. to his cabinet if he were elected President, but he refused to make any flat commitment.

"A candidate doesn't name his cabinet before he's in office," Kennedy said in answer to a question.

Kennedy praised both Stevenson and Roosevelt, who campaigned for him in the West Virginia primary, as "very able people."

He had been asked directly whether he would appoint them to the cabinet. He granted it was a "possibility."
