

Western World's Interests Not Benefited by Ike's Trip

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
Tokyo—UPI—Dwight D. Eisenhower's goodwill tour of Asia drew to a close today, seven months exactly from the day he will step down as President of the United States. He leaves behind him a turbulent situation in this most populous part of the world.

The most that can be said is that the interests of the Western world, in sum total, have not been benefitted by the President's well-intentioned visit.

Loss of face in the Japan fiaco, coming on top of the collapse of the summit conference and of the planned visit to the U.S.S.R., has been damaging here particularly in the fact that it contributed directly to the expected personal political elimination of Japan's pro-Western Premier Cites Gains

There have been three unquestionable gains from the Eisenhower trip. First resulted from the effect of the warm and candid Eisenhower personality upon the people of the Philippines, going far to extinguish minor irritations accumulated over the years between the two nations.

Second, in chronological order, was the quick and emphatic manner in which the President put the spotlight squarely on Red China's heartless bombardment of Quemoy as a clear demonstration of the true warlike intent of the Communists.

Here 88,000 rounds of ammunition were expended to impress Eisenhower by killing 13 civilians, at an estimated cost to the warlords of the Chinese mainland of some $5 million for ammunition alone.

Finally in strife-torn Korea, American diplomacy seems to have been equal to a dangerous situation from the start, and the President today contributed his full part by conferring with leaders of the movement which unhorsed the Syngman Rhee regime at a point where it was assuming aspects of a dictatorship.

The problems of the West are far from settled in South Korea, but at least the people are well aware that the United States will see that the nation's democratic processes are protected.

Here again, as in the Philippines and Taiwan (Formosa), the Eisenhower personality has had tremendous impact upon the people.

Only in Japan, where the Western story remains in such sore need of telling by such a world leader as Eisenhower, has the effort registered more than failure.

The Japanese-American security pact, which came into being at the behest of the Japanese themselves, is now hanging on a cliff with its future in grave doubt.

WANTS HANDSHAKE—A young Korean girl, Kyung Mu Dai, official residence of Korean Premier Huh Chung in Seoul, is halted by police after she broke their lines in an attempt to shake President Eisenhower's hand as his motorcade traveled to Seoul.

Fort Lewis—UPI—Soldiers of the 41st Division, a National Guard outfit, marched for their governors Saturday.

2 Cuba Diplomats Booted From U. S.

Washington—UPI—The state department has ordered two Cuban diplomats to get out of the country within 48 hours. It accused one of them of illegal arms transactions, smuggling and espionage.

The department charged that Carlos Manuel Lazaro Felix Sanchez, assistant to the Cuban consul in Miami, has been "the principal Cuban intelligence agent in the Miami area."

The other diplomat ordered expelled is a woman, Dr. Berta Pla, cultural attache in New York City.

The department accused her of distributing propaganda against the United States and with agitating to "augment racial dissension" in this country.

Earlier this week Fidel Castro's Cuban government ordered two U. S. embassy attaches in Havana to leave Cuba immediately on grounds they had conspired with "counter revolutionists."

Another delegate, Oregon GOP chairman Peter Gunnar of Salem, said his alternate will be GOP U. S. Senate candidate Elmo Smith, former governor and publisher of the Albany Democrat-Herald.

Congress Okays Lusk Amendment

Washington—UPI—An amendment to the Omnibus Rivers and Harbors bill sponsored by Sen. Hall Lusk (D-Ore.) has been unanimously adopted by the Senate, renaming Detroit dam and reservoir on the North Santiam river after Oregon's late governor and former secretary of the interior, Douglas McKay.

Sen. Lusk said the bill now goes to the Senate-House conference to iron out differences in Senate-House versions of the bill.

Hope for Astoria Stamp Fading

Astoria—UPI—Astoria's hope for a special commemorative postage stamp for the 150th anniversary of the city's founding is apparently dead.

Gov. Mark Hatfield said the post office department had rejected the idea. The governor had written the Post Office department on behalf of the sesquicentennial committee's petition.

Senate Votes To Retain 10 Per Cent Taxes on Phones, Telegrams, Travel

Washington—UPI—The Senate voted today to retain for another year the 10 per cent tax on phone calls, telegrams and travel tickets.

The action, reversing the Senate Finance committee which had recommended repealing those levies, would save the federal treasury an estimated $752 million.

The Senate first voted 54 to 30 to keep the tax on phone calls and telegrams. Then it voted 55 to 29 for the levy on travel.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders urged the action as a demonstration of "fiscal responsibility."

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Ark.) who favored repeal of the taxes, told the Senate he was "shocked by this orgy of fiscal responsibility." He reminded his colleagues they voted 79 to 0 last year to repeal the transportation tax.
