Funeral Services Set Thursday for Charles A. Wing

Funeral services for Charles A. Wing will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday with Dr. D. Kirkland West officiating.

Mr. Wing died in Florence June 17 where he planned to spend a month fishing with his wife. He suffered a heart attack at a cabin on Woahnik lake, four miles from Florence.

Entombment will take place in the Siskiyou Mausoleum, Medford, with the Medford Lodge AF and AM participating.

Mr. Wing was born in McPherson, Kan., and was educated at Bethany college, Kansas, and Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. He participated in many business and civic activities, and moved to the Rogue valley in 1923. Starting as a teller in the First National bank, he entered the real estate business in Medford, and started the Charles A. Wing agency in 1924.

During this time he purchased orchard properties in the valley, and became an exporter of apples and pears. He was the former director of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate association, former Medford councilman, member of several committees on land appraisals and finance, past chairman of the Mayorality campaign, past president of the Rogue River Dairymen's association, and builder and owner of many business properties in Grants Pass and Medford.

A veteran of World War I, he was a Legionnaire, Rotarian, Lion, S. R. Mason, Shriner, and a former trustee of the Presbyterian church.

Honorary pallbearers will be Frank P. Farrell, Glenn Schneider, Herbert G. Wing, Donald Coulter, Ray Wilson, and Wilford C. Allen.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth H. Wing, and daughters, Mrs. John Robert Ebbesen, and Mrs. George H. Lynch.

GE Official to Speak in Valley Ways that Medford may better its business climate will be discussed Wednesday by Robert W. Jackson, western region public relations manager for General Electric company.

Jackson will speak before a joint meeting of the Medford Chamber of Commerce legislative and industrial development committees at breakfast in the Jackson hotel, and at noon at the Kiwanis club meeting at the Rogue Valley Country club.

Jackson serves as a consultant to the western companies of General Electric, and has responsibility for directing its public relations activities in the 10-state Pacific region.

Editors have labeled him "the West's Evangelist of a Better Business Climate." This crusade, in which the General Electric company was a founding spirit, stresses that it is in the self-interest of all citizens of a community to maintain an environment which will attract and hold desirable employers.
