Mothers Of Twins Organize

First meeting of Mothers of Twins, a unique new group in the valley, was held Wednesday, June 22, at the home of Mrs. Neil Jackson, 216 Haven st.

Mothers of twins are eligible for membership in the club. Aims are to promote interest in and knowledge about twins; to help new mothers of twins through exchange of ideas about baby care; to provide an equipment exchange for members; and to help needy families with twins through equipment and clothing assistance.

Mrs. James Parton was elected temporary president; Mrs. Edward Hinkle, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Doehner, secretary, and Mrs. Elisabeth Underhill, treasurer.

Meetings will be held the third Wednesday of each month and anyone with twins who wishes to attend or obtain information about the club may call Mrs. Parton, Spring 2-8583.

Meeting Planned For Iris Society

Mrs. Marjorie Roark, Grants Pass, will show slides of dwarf iris.

Mrs. Fred H. Gardner (at left) who served as installing matron for the recent installation ceremony of Adarel chapter, Order of Eastern Star, is shown presenting a historic gavel to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fred M. Gardner, new worthy matron of the chapter. The women's husbands, Fred M. Gardner, new worthy patron, and his father, Fred H. Gardner, look on. The ceremony, in which the parents, past matron and patron of the chapter, installed their son and daughter-in-law into these offices, was one of a series unique in the history of Warren Masonic Lodge No. 10 in Jacksonville and Adarel chapter of the OES. Adarel Chapter Installation Is Unique

Jacksonville-Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Gardner were installed worthy matron and patron of Adarel chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, in open ceremonies held June 18 at the Masonic hall in Jacksonville. Mr. Gardner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Gardner, past matron and patron of the chapter, were the installing officers, this being the first time that such an event had taken place in the 80-year history of the chapter.

The ceremony was one of a series of father-son Masonic events for the Gardners which are noteworthy. The elder Mr. Gardner "raised" his son as a master Mason in Warren lodge in Jacksonville, in later years installed him as master of the lodge, in the capacity of a past master, initiated the younger man into Adarel chapter, OES, and then installed his son as worthy patron of the lodge.

This is unique in the lodge now in its 109th year and No. 10 in the state.

Others installed were Mrs. J. E. Crawford, associate matron; Mr. Crawford, associate patron; Mrs. Lloyd Hamlin, secretary; Mrs. Bernice Janosky, treasurer; Mrs. Donald C. Shores, conductress; Mrs. Gail Buffington, associate conductress; Mrs. Clarence Williams, chaplain; Mrs. Huldah Thurman, marshal; Mrs. Erwin Hoffman, Adah; Mrs. Donald Edwards, Ruth; Mrs. C. A. Young, Esther; Mrs. Roy Picard, Martha; Mrs. Lewis Applebaker, Electra; Mrs. L. L. Ostrand, warder; Donald C. Shores, sentinel.

In addition to the Fred H. Gardners, who were installing matron and patron, the installing officers were Mrs. Gertrude Wingham, marshal; Mrs. Orval Shores, chaplain; Mrs. Dale Billekenstaff, organist; Mrs. C. E. Coggin, courtesy secretary; Mrs. John Pond, courtesy conductress.

Guests included Morris Boughner, Medford, worthy grand patron for Oregon; Mrs. Lorena McNair, Ashland, a past grand matron; Mrs. Boughner, grand Electa; Mrs. Jack Doud, ESTARL committee member; Donald C. Shores, endowment committee; Mrs. E. G. Randolph, grand representative of the District of Columbia in Oregon; Mrs. Audrey Roberts and Carl Oestreich, matron and patron of Reames chapter, Medford; Mrs. Jack Ward and Wyles Berry, matron and patron of Nevita chapter; Mrs. Murial Jacobson and Larry Kelly, matron and patron of Josephine chapter, Grants Pass and Mrs. George F. Ward Jr., matron of Alpha chapter, Ashland.

The retiring matron and patron, Mrs. Lytle sang, and presented the matron and patron gifts. The Daisy Chain courtesy officers also presented the new matron and patron with gifts.

Mrs. E. C. Root presented gifts to the patron and to the Junior past patron, Gail Buffington, senior warden of Warren lodge presented the worthy matron with yellow roses from the lodge.

The retiring matron was accepted into the Past Matron club. Past matron and patron jewels were presented to Mrs. Evernham and Donald Shores by Mrs. Mero and Gail Buffington.

During the evening the new matron's husband presented her a ring of original design crafted by Roy Picard. The installing matron presented her daughter-in-law a historic gavel made by a Jacksonville pioneer, Ernest Langley, who had presented it to her at her own installation in 1948.

The Daisy Chain courtesy officers for the ensuing year are Mrs. E. C. Wolgamott, Mrs. Ralph Lawrence, Mrs. Willard Smith, Roy Picard and Gail Buffington. The organist pro-tem will be Mrs. Bernice McCue.

Following recitation of the Mizpah benediction, a reception was held in the dining room. The chapter room and dining room were decorated in the worthy matron's colors and flower, yellow, white and green with yellow and white daisies. The tea table was centered with yellow and white daisies, white delphiniums and yellow and green candles. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. McNair, Mrs. Bert Freeman, Mrs. Fred Fick and Mrs. Ray Clary.

Head Nurse Honored On Retirement

Twenty years of service by Mrs. Anna Barnes, R.N., were formally recognized Thursday as members of the Rogue Valley Memorial hospital medical staff, board of directors and employees held a tea honoring her on her retirement.

One hundred and fifty friends and associates attended the event at which the medical staff presented her with a jet plane ticket to her home in Savannah, Ga., via New York City, where she will vacation for several days. In addition, Mrs. Barnes received substantial cash gifts, a transistor radio and other gifts.

Administrator Charles Gustafson awarded the hospital's 20-year service pin to Mrs. Barnes who has served as a head nurse since she joined Community hospital in 1940.

Representing the medical staff, Dr. Edwin R. Durso described the petite nursing veteran as "the ideal bedside nurse," while Dr. Ralph Thompson recounted her rigorous wartime schedule of voluntary night duty following a full day shift at the hospital.

Mrs. Chester Guches spoke on behalf of the hospital board of directors, acknowledging the nurse's "selfless and loyal service to the community," and citing her vital contribution in the training of wartime nurses' aides.

The nursing staff held a farewell dinner for the retiring nurse Tuesday night.

Miss Trafton To Speak Here

Miss Lois Trafton, northwestern director of Union Oil Company of California's "Sparkle Program" will conduct a luncheon meeting for Union Oil Company Associated Wives at the Rogue Valley Country club in Medford, Tuesday, June 28, at 12 noon, it was announced today.

The Sparkle Program was originally designed for the further acceptance of the Union Oil company service stations throughout the entire retail marketing area by the rapidly increasing number of women motorists throughout the country, it is said. Several months ago Miss Trafton was employed as northwestern director of the Sparkle Program. In this capacity she speaks to women's organizations, conducts meetings for Union Oil Company Associated Wives, and, in general, represents the company in this new service.

W. L. Cochran, retail sales supervisor for Union Oil in this area, will be present to answer any questions the women wish to have answered about the many ramifications of their husbands' business. Miss Trafton will speak on "enjoyable auto travel and fashion - wise wardrobe," and will show a color coordinated travel wardrobe.
