Out of the mouths of babes

"Men are such boors!"

"You're not planning to go in that hat!"

"If you want anything, just whistle."

"My opponent has accused me of lacking integrity..."

"Now, George, let's not have a scene!"

"Ethel, aren't those shorts a bit tight!"

"Okay, wise guy, pull over to the curb."

"Oh, you're single and you work here!"

"No daughter of mine is going to wear lipstick at 12 years."

"But I haven't a thing to wear!"

"Yes, I was Afraid of Father Drake!"

It was not physical fear, of course, that had kept Dave Smith from calling on the Catholic priest. Just timidity.

"I would have come sooner, Father," he said, "but I know so little about the Catholic Faith... and I hated to show my ignorance."

People like Dave Smith are beginning to call on Catholic priests more and more. Some of them know little or nothing about Catholicism. A few are quite well informed. Unfortunately, some others are possessed of a good deal of information concerning the Church... but it isn't correct.

Dave Smith, for example, thought the important things he had to learn had to do with prayer beads, medals, statues and what he called "fancy" ceremonies. He was surprised to hear that these are what the Church calls externals, and that they are significant only because of the profound truths behind them which are found in the Catholic Creed.

"All people," Father Drake told Dave, "need to understand the moral principles which Catholics are instructed to observe. These are the moral principles of the Ten Commandments which, when rightly applied, reach into everyone's conscience as standards of right and wrong in everyday life."

As Father Drake talked on, Dave began to understand Christ's seven Sacraments as an aid to Christian living and a preparation for eternal salvation. He began to realize that the Mass, in Catholic eyes, is not merely a religious ceremony but a true and holy sacrifice. If he had felt the need of Catholic instruction before he had entered the parish house, Dave felt the need to be greater and more urgent now.

There are lots of people in the same predicament as Dave Smith was. They want to learn more about the Catholic Faith, but hesitate to visit a priest.
