Canners Return In California

San Francisco - Workers at 66 Northern California canneries returned to work today after an 11-day strike that threatened the area's $10 million ripening apricot crop.

The strike ended officially Monday night when members of the Teamsters Union ratified a two-year contract with the California Processors and Growers, Inc., reached after a 17-hour bargaining session Sunday.

A management spokesman said the growers ratified the contract unanimously and the union by a vote of nine to one.

The agreement provides hourly wage increases of 11 to 15 cents for men and 10 cents for women, retroactive to March 1, and a general 9-cent an hour raise next March 10. With the increases, average wages are $2.28 per hour for men and $1.77 to $1.87 for women.

Illustrator Dies

New York - Percy V. E. Ivory, 83, illustrator and painter of the American West, died Saturday.

Dr. Becker said sunlight does have beneficial effects, in spite of the dangers of over-exposure, which include skin aging and cancer. Sunlight produces vitamin D in the skin and causes an unexplained drop in blood pressure and serum cholesterol. But the skin color may become a yellowish or blotchy brown after prolonged exposure, Dr. Becker said.

Trees . . .
By JOHN GRIBBLE
(Editor's note: The following comments on trees, particularly those adaptable to street use in Medford, have been prepared by John Gribble, well known retired forester, and will be run in a series from time to time.)

LITTLE LEAF LINDEN
Tilia cordata, is an excellent street or yard tree, grows to 30 feet tall, with roundish top. This tree has only good qualities, beautiful rich green foliage, pleasing fragrant flowers, small stature, low cost maintenance.

This is the tree for Kenyon and Melrose st., 50 to 60 feet apart, on property.

The European Linden, Tilia vulgaris, gave the name to Berlin's Unter den Linden. There are several trees in the Tilia genus group. In Central Europe it is Linden, in England, its lime tree, while in America it is commonly known as basswood, sometimes as whitewood, with no less than 18 species in the United States, in places once large areas of almost pure stands. The leaves are simple, alternate, 3 to 7 inches long, heart-shaped at base, sawtooth edge, lopsided, abruptly pointed. The Linden is resistant to smoky air pollution.

Clusters of Flowers
Tilia may be recognized by its leaves, and especially by its clusters of sweet-fragrant yellowish-white star-like flowers dangling on long stems, blooming in late June and honey is extra-special. The fruit is a dry, round small pea-like berry, in clusters. The seeds decay slowly, may be found under trees most any time of year. It may take years to sprout a baby tree.

The seeds are distributed by their own sails or helicopters carrying pay-loads in the autumn winds of potential little trees. The bark is comparatively smooth outside, a thick bark, or bast, from which its name, basswood, often used as inner soles of shoes, baskets, chair-bottom. (Nothing to do with the bass fish.) The wood is clean, white, odorless, soft and light, non-splintery; used for yachts, venetian blinds, artists' charcoal, carriage panels and wagon boxes were made of basswood as it is light, strong and does not splinter.

Several of these trees about Medford will soon break out with a harvest of light yellowish-white, one-half inch, star-shaped blossoms dangling in clusters of half dozen or so from the center of a 3 to 4 inch special leaf, which in October or November will whirl the seed-berries slowly earthward.

Some Sunning Oils Inferior to Cream

Kansas City, Mo. - (Science Service) - After a single, moderately severe sunburn, blood vessels are abnormal for four to 15 months, Dr. William Becker Jr. of the University of Illinois has reported. Writing in the June issue of GP magazine, published monthly by the American Academy of General Practice, he said plain vanishing cream, containing 10 per cent para-aminobenzoic acid, gives 30 times more protection than many commercial sunning products.

Dr. Becker said sunlight does have beneficial effects, in spite of the dangers of over-exposure, which include skin aging and cancer. Sunlight produces vitamin D in the skin and causes an unexplained drop in blood pressure and serum cholesterol. But the skin color may become a yellowish or blotchy brown after prolonged exposure, Dr. Becker said.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SOMERSET MAUGHAM quit writing for the theatre many years ago, despite the fact that many of his plays had been big hits, and confined himself to turning out novels and essays. Asked why he had become disillusioned with the stage, Maugham stated bluntly that a few drama critics wielded entirely too much power to suit him. With a few crushing paragraphs, those critics could make a $400,000 theatrical investment worthless overnight.

"It is too difficult," admitted Maugham, "to please both the scullery maid sitting in the top balcony and the critic for the London Times at the same time. I believe I can write for either one—but please both, never! Their tastes are too dissimilar."

Frank Sullivan reports that he had a fine day at the track recently: he sold his wrist watch for $15.

Tanker Plane Crash Kills Five

Bethel, Main - (UPI) - All five crewmen were killed Monday night when an Air Force tanker plane crashed and exploded "into a thousand pieces" in the foothills of the White Mountains.

The huge KC-97 from Plattsburgh, N.Y., Air Force Base turned like a flickering candle as it plunged into the rugged forest in the hamlet of Newry, six miles north of here.

Identification of dead was withheld pending notification of kin.

Volunteers walked and motored nearly two miles up a narrow mountain road to the wreckage.

Trucks and bulldozers to penetrate the dense forest were dispatched from Dow Air Force Base at Bangor, 160 miles away.

Two Air Force officers from Plattsburgh, Majors William Cook and W. D. Burnham, began a preliminary investigation into the crash.

North Dakota Picks Senator

Bismark, N.D. - (UPI) - North Dakota voted today in a special senatorial election closely watched by experts to see which way the political wind is blowing in the farm belt.

The election, which could be a tip-off on how farmers will vote in November, has stirred up so much interest that 200,000 of the state's 627,000 population were expected to go to the polls.

The senatorial race between GOP Gov. John Davis and Rep. Quentin Burdick, first Democratic congressman in North Dakota history, also touched off a Senate investigation.

Sen. Theodore Green (D-R.I.) ordered the inquiry Monday into Democratic charges of anonymous pamphlets directed against Burdick. Green, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on elections, sent two investigators to North Dakota after receiving a sworn complaint by Scott Anderson, the North Dakota executive Democratic director.

The election itself, to fill the 4 1/2 year unexpired term of the late Sen. William Langor, was rated a toss-up by most observers.

Waves Batter Philippines

Manila - (UPI) - Twelve-foot tidal waves churned up by receding typhoon Olive battered the western coasts of the Philippines today, adding to the damage wrought by the most destructive storm in recent years. At least 109 were dead and 55,000 were homeless.

Properly damage caused by the typhoon's winds and rains was estimated at $25 million.

Huge waves spilled over the protective seawalls at the U. S. naval base at Subic Bay northwest of Manila today.

An official Navy spokesman told United Press International there was no loss of life at the base. He said damage was not extensive among the vast complex of harbor facilities, dry docks and airfields at the base. He said the base got off lightly because of advance preparations and an "emergency alert" called before the storm struck.
