Gov. Rockefeller Claimed Supplying Democrats With Political Ammunition

Kennedy-Johnson Deal in Works, Morton Declares

Washington—(UPI)—Republican National Chairman Thurston Morton said at the White House today that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was supplying political ammunition to the Democrats with his attacks on policies of the Eisenhower administration.

Morton conferred with the President about plans for the GOP convention.

Of Rockefeller, Morton commented: "I do not agree with the substance of Governor Rockefeller's attacks on the administration and I think it is unfortunate that he keeps giving the Democrats ammunition. I certainly think he is not speaking for the Republican party or any large segment of the party."

"Of course, he has a right to criticize. I don't think, however, that it is hurting the party; in fact, it is solidifying the party."

Morton said his conversation with the President was confined to plans for the GOP convention in Chicago.

Earlier, Morton said the decision by former President Harry S. Truman to resign as a Missouri delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention was the tip-off to a "deal" among the Democrats to a ticket of Sen. John F. Kennedy and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

Morton, who also is a GOP senator from Kentucky, said the tip-off was former President Truman's announcement that he would not attend the Democratic convention opening July 11 in Los Angeles.

The decision of congressional leaders to recess the Senate and House for a month and come back to work after the political conventions was further proof of a "deal," Morton declared in a statement.

"It seems clear from all indications that a deal has been made and there will be only one ballot in Los Angeles," he said.

To the suggestion that he might accept the vice presidential nomination, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) had this comment:

"The silly season is on and I'm sorry it is affecting people who otherwise would talk more sense."

A spokesman for Sen. John F. Kennedy (Mass.), current front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination, declined to comment on the Morton statement.

Morton said Truman's announcement Wednesday that he was resigning as a convention delegate "is proof that he sees the handwriting on the wall and rumors of the Kennedy-Johnson deal that have been floating around Washington are true."

Truman has endorsed Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.) for the Democratic presidential nomination. He said he would explain his reasons for not attending the convention at a news conference Saturday.

'Grape-Shooting' Results in Fine

One Medford youth was arrested and four others taken into protective custody by Medford city police Wednesday night following several "grape-shooting" incidents in the city.

Paul Lynn Moore, 18, of 829 Palm st., entered a plea of guilty to a charge of disorderly conducting in municipal court this morning and was fined $25. The four other boys, aged 16 and 17, were confined in the juvenile detention home.

All five admitted to police that they shot grapes through blow-guns at Harold W. Hewlett, 1533 Oregon ave., about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening. They also said they are responsible for several similar incidents in recent weeks.

The boys were apprehended by Hewlett himself. Hewlett told police he was standing in his driveway when a car passed and the boys hit him in the head with several grapes. He said they were shot with such force that they traveled all the way from the street to the end of his driveway.

Hewlett said he and a friend gave chase in his car and forced the boys' car to the curb several blocks away. They then held the youths until police arrived.

$600 Million Surplus Possible At Close of Treasury's Books

Washington—(UPI)—A federal budget surplus which grew and grew may be as hefty as $600 million when the government's books close at midnight on fiscal 1960.

Final figures on revenue and spending will not be available to government officials for several days. But indications were good that the surplus could climb to $600 million, and possibly even higher.

When President Eisenhower 18 months ago presented his budget for fiscal 1960 it envisioned a surplus of $70 million. Few people then thought it could be achieved. By last September, the official forecast had edged up to $95 million. It jumped to $217 million in January, 1960.

In the past few days administration officials have said that the surplus would be greater than the January estimate, but they have declined to say how much greater.

It will mark the first time since 1957 that the federal budget has been in the black and the third time in the seven fiscal years of the Eisenhower administration.

The reason for the unexpectedly large surplus is that tax revenues have poured in at a heavy rate. The total tax intake may even hit the $78.6 billion estimate of January, which later was discarded when corporation taxes ran about $600 million below expectations.

A surge in individual income tax collections has about made up for the shortfall in corporation taxes.

Expenditures are expected to total slightly less than $78 billion, about $400 million less than forecast. Much of the savings was made possible by unexpected export sales of government-owned surplus farm products which had been running up huge storage bills.

His Hobby Brought Trouble With Law

Buffalo, N.Y.—Arnold January testified that he had a drinking problem eight years ago and was advised to take up a hobby.

"So I took up betting," January said.

January's horse activities were found to go beyond just betting. He was convicted in City Court of bookmaking.

Nepal Bolsters Armed Forces

Katmandu, Nepal—(UPI)—This tiny Himalayan country moved quickly to bolster its armed forces today in the face of Communist Chinese attacks from Tibet on Nepalese border outposts.

The upper house of Parliament unanimously passed a resolution calling for formation of auxiliary armed forces and compulsory military training for boys and girls over 14 years old.

At the same time a leader of the rightwing opposition, Bharat Shamsler, demanded that the government declare the newly signed treaty with Communist China "null and void."

The government Wednesday night sent a strong protest note to the Communist Chinese embassy in Katmandu charging that Red army troops entered Nepalese territory at Mustang, in the northwest, "fired at unarmed civilian officers and looted their belongings and horses."

"Seventeen Nepalese civilians are still missing," a government statement on the note said.

Mother of Local Woman in Storm

The elderly mother of a Medford woman narrowly escaped death or injury in the midwestern storms reported in yesterday's Mail Tribune.

Mrs. Noel Davis, 535 Oakdale dr., Medford, said her mother, Mrs. Charlie McMillan, of Birmingham, Ia., is safe at a son's home, after a tree crashed into the rear of her home, smashing both bedroom and kitchen.

A neighbor of Mrs. McMillan had come to be with her during the height of the storm, and reported she was shaken by the event, but unhurt. Mrs. McMillan is about 85.

Winds ranging up to 75 miles per hour blew the tree over about 7:15 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Davis said.
