

Neale Fraser Wins Wimbledon Singles

Wimbledon, England—(UPI)—Neale Fraser won the men's singles title at what may be the last "amateur" Wimbledon Tennis Championships today by using his powerful serve to defeat Rod Laver in the fourth all-Australian final in the last five years, 6-4, 3-6, 9-7, 7-5.

A standing-room crowd of more than 15,000, headed by Princess Margaret, her husband, Anthony Armstrong-Jones; The Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra, watched Fraser strengthen his standing as the world's No. 1 amateur.

It was Wimbledon's 74th men's final. It was the first ever played between two left-handers and perhaps the last all-amateur final if the International Tennis federation sanctions open tournaments between amateurs and professionals when it meets in Paris this month.

With Americans eliminated in men's and women's singles competition, U. S. survivors battled today for honors in the doubles divisions. Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Karen Hantze of San Diego, Calif., each have a chance to share in two championships.

Miss Hantze and Janet Hopps of Seattle, Wash., were underdogs in a women's doubles semifinal against the top-seeded pair of Brazil's Maria Bueno and Miss Hard.

CAUGHT FROM BANK—Paul Hennick, above, of 721 East Jackson st., is justly proud of this chinook salmon, one of two he caught last Sunday. This fish, which weighed 35 pounds two hours after being caught, is thought to be the largest caught from the bank from the Upper Rogue river in the season just over. It was taken two miles from Trail up Crater Lake highway. Hennick, began fishing around 6 a.m., hooked this chinook at 7 a.m. and brought it to shore about 7:30 a.m. In the afternoon he landed a 25½ pounder for a total of 60½ pounds of fish in 2½ hours time.

1st Innings Fatal In PCL Encounters

By JOE SANDERS
United Press International
The first innings were fatal in two Pacific Coast League games Thursday night and welfare was the key in a third as Vancouver beat Tacoma, 12-7. Salt Lake City downed Seattle, 4-1, Sacramento blanked Portland, 3-0, and Spokane edged San Diego, 4-3.

Altogether 17 runs crossed the plate during the initial innings of Thursday night's games.

Here's the way it went:

Tacoma opened against Vancouver with a three-run spurge, then the Mounties unleashed their own version of massive retaliation by scoring nine runs to take a 9-3 first inning lead to which they added three runs.

Spokane pushed across four runs in the first inning, and made them stand up through the remaining eight as they held off San Diego, who scored once in the sixth, seventh and ninth innings.

And finally, the Bees stepped off to a 1-0 lead over Seattle in the first inning of a game which the Rainiers made something of a welfare case. The Seattle club contributed two errors, a hit batsman and five walks to the Bees' behalf, and at the end of it all traded places with Salt Lake in the standings going from fourth to fifth.

In Portland, Sacramento's Winston Brown shoved the Beavers a little deeper into the league's cellar by tossing a four-hitter at them. Brown gave up three singles and a triple in recording his sixth victory.

Walks, plus errors at key times, figured in the Tiger Bear combat. Medford's winning run in the bottom of the fifth panel came on a walk to Alan Brooks, a single by Jim Brenner, a Dick Anderson but which forced Brooks at third base and an overturn of second which allowed Brennan to score.

Anderson singled in two runs in the Tigers' five-inning third and Jim Douglas had two hits for Medford. Ashland got six runs in the fourth frame on four walks, two errors, a hit batter and a single.

Sanford for the Braves struck out 11 batters but walked nine. A base on balls and two errors got the Jacksonville run, Jim Gillette, Bill Buckles and Sanford each had two hits for CP. Junior League Commissioner Don Miller has reported that Gold Hill will not field a team, as originally planned, in the Pee Wee north division. Rogue River situation is uncertain.

Coen and Parent each have four wins and no losses in pitching. Coen has struck out 35 batters in 32 innings and Parent 29 in 34. In his mound service, the Roseburg chucker has given up just five bases on balls.

Only teams which have not completed the first half of play are Grants Pass and Crescent City, Calif. They will play a series over the holiday week end with the first game of the series counting in the loop. The week end is otherwise open in the circuit.

4th-Round KO Scored by Hank
Detroit—(UPI)—Second-ranked middleweight Henry Hank, back on the victory trail after Thursday night's fourth-round knockout of Argentina's Victor Zalazar, wants to get Hank Casey "out of the way" before he goes after the title fight with NBA champion Gene Fullmer.

"I want to square accounts with Casey first," Hank said in his dressing room Thursday night. "then I'll start thinking about a possible shot at the championship."

Hank, fighting before a hometown crowd for the first time in more than two years, ended Thursday night's bout suddenly when he floored Zalazar with a savage right to the jaw to score a knockout at 2:11 of the fourth round.

Woods, Water, Wildlife

Sometimes people can get too wrapped up in their own immediate and local problems. So much so that the problems of other people and other areas affect them very little and it is difficult to do more than become aware of them. Perhaps this is as it should be—that people should try to solve their own problems before they try to solve the problems of others. But sometimes the problems of others can help us find better answers to our own.

KEEP OUR WORD?
The Seneca Nation of Indians in western New York has a reservation assured to them by a federal treaty signed by George Washington. The lands they once owned were given up when they were promised that the small portion making up the reservation would be theirs in perpetuity, to enjoy "as long as the sun shall rise." Now it appears that the federal government is preparing to take away most of that land which they now occupy.

MORE DAM TROUBLE
The U.S. Corps of Engineers wants to build a dam on the Allegheny river which will flood almost all of the ancestral home of the Seneca Indians. This is a flood control dam by which the corps plans to protect the city of Pittsburgh. The Indians do not wish to give up their home unless there is no alternative to the proposed project, called the Kinzua Jam. The difficulty seems to be in convincing the corps that there is any alternative to consider.

A FRIEND IN NEED
The Senecas have enlisted the aid of an engineer who claims to have an alternative plan for consideration. His plan, called the Conewango-Cattaraugus, is to divert flood waters of the Allegheny into its pre-glacial channel northward to Lake Erie. Glacial ice dug a hole—the site of the proposed Conewango reservoir—and pushed the dirt into a dike which diverted the Allegheny from Lake Erie to Ohio. The plan is to cut through the dike and use the hole for a reservoir.

Since the Kinzua project calls for $110,000,000 in appropriations from congress, his plan would save the taxpayers approximately $100,000,000.

THE CRUX OF IT
The Senecas are asking that the Conewango-Cattaraugus plan be given an impartial and competent examination before a final decision is made on either plan. So far, there has been no comparison of the two plans and, as well as can be determined, the corps has no intention of allowing a comparison to be made. It remains to be wondered whether or not they have a valid reason for refusing.

A LESSON?
The fact that there is more than one solution to a problem has been a part of human knowledge for a long time. But there is a great deal of difficulty in applying this fact in cases where only one solution—and the right one—is wanted. The corps wants its solution, the Senecas want theirs, and only time will give them a solution they can both agree on.

THE ANGLER'S LOG
It would have been nice to finish the last day of salmon fishing without having to watch some snappers working hard to foul-hook a fish. But such was not the case yesterday and the experience was not one that would produce a kindly feeling towards some of the more ignorant of the human race. Any person

Northwest League Star Game July 25

Portland—(UPI)—The Northwest league all-star baseball game will be played Monday night, July 25, at Yakima, home of the first half champion, league President Jim Fleishman said today.

The game will be between Yakima and an all-star team to be named next week.

LADIES PGA BEGINS
French Lick, Ind.—(UPI)—A wide open struggle was expected today in the first round of the sixth Ladies Professional Golfers association championship, a 74-hole medal contest on the hill course at Sheraton French Lick Country club. Defending champion Betsy Rawls, though winner of two tournaments this year and leading money winner in 1959 with earnings of $26,774, was the only one of at least a dozen in the field who were given a chance to triumph.

NEED SITTER

Newton, Mass.—(UPI)—Jimmy Piersall, problem-child outfielder of the Cleveland Indians, had child problems of his own to solve today before he could rejoin his ball club. Piersall was invited to bring his wife, Mary, with him and rejoin the Indians at Cleveland on Monday. But the Piersalls, parents of seven, needed a baby sitter before they could end the 31-year-old player's doctor-ordered mid-season vacation.
