

Crandall Stars as Braves Keep Pace; Detroit Fans in Near Riot

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

There was a fist fight in Cleveland and a near-riot in Detroit, but peace-loving Del Crandall of Milwaukee caused the biggest disturbance in the City of Brotherly Love.

Considering it was the Sabbath, a lot of baseball people forgot their Sunday manners.

-Vic Power of the Indians and Earl Battey of the Senators exchanged punches as Washington swept a doubleheader from Cleveland, 3-2 and 5-3.

-Angry Detroit fans showered the field with all sorts of debris in a wild scene reminiscent of the 1934 World Series but were placated when the Tigers won both ends of a twin-bill from the first-place Yankees, 12-2 and 3-2.

-And Crandall paced the on-rushing Braves to within 2½ games of the National league lead with his second straight perfect day at bat in a 7-3 triumph over the Phillies at Philadelphia.

Win Fifth Straight

The victory was the fifth in a row for Milwaukee and it was credited to Lew Burdette, who went the distance for his 10th triumph. Crandall, who had two homers and two singles in four trips Saturday, collected three singles and scored three of the Braves' runs. Ed Mathews helped matters with his 19th home run.

The White Sox reclaimed third place in the American league by beating the Baltimore Orioles twice, 2-1 and 14-2, while the Red Sox made it three in a row over the Athletics, 4-2.

In the National league, the first place Pirates salvaged a split with the Reds by winning the nightcap, 5-0, after dropping the opener, 6-5. The Cardinals took over third place with 6-0 and 8-1 victories over the Cubs, and the Giants may have saved Manager Tom Sheehan's job for a day or so with a 5-4 win over the Dodgers.

Engage In Fisticuffs

The fight between Power and Battey flared up during the sixth inning of the opener between the Indians and Senators. It came about when Power was thrown out at the plate trying to score from second on a single. Both players got in several good licks but Umpire Charley Berry got in the last word by ejecting both from the game.

The Senators beat Jim (Mudcat) Grant for the first time in his career after he had defeated them 14 times previously by breaking a 2-2 tie with three singles in the seventh inning of the opener. Tex Clevenger was the winner. Reliever Ray Moore was credited with the nightcap victory which Washington clinched with four runs in the fifth.

The furor in Detroit came about when Umpire Joe Paparella called Bill Skowron's drive down the right field foul line a two-run homer in the eighth inning of the nightcap. Detroit right-fielder Rocky Colavito charged Paparella and the game was held up 10 minutes as irate fans rushed toward the front of the stands and littered the field with refuse in the greatest Detroit demonstration since the 1934 World Series between the Tigers and Cardinals when St. Louis outfielder Ducky Medwick became a target of wrath for sliding roughly into Tiger third baseman Marv Owen.

Colavito Gets Satisfaction

Skowron's homer tied the score at 2-2 but Colavito had the satisfaction of singling some Charley Maxwell with the winning run in the bottom of the eighth to bring Pete Burnside his fifth victory. The Tigers made a shambles of the opener when they raked Ralph Terry for seven runs in the second inning. Colavito hit his 19th homer with one on during the rally and Norm Cash connected with the bases full to make Frank Lary an easy winner.

Roy Sievers ran his hitting hit of his career. Bob Purkey won his ninth game in the finals.

Larry Jackson of the Cards set the Cubs down on four hits in the first game and Ray Sadecki won the nightcap with a six-hit effort. Ken Boyer's triple with the bases loaded sparked a five-run outburst in the fifth inning of the opener and Stan (The Man) Musial took over fifth place in the all-time major league base hits department with two singles in the nightcap. The two hits gave Musial a total of 3,252, one more than Nap Lajoie. Only Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner and Eddie Collins collected more.

Willie Mays tripled home Joe Amalfitano with the winning run in the eighth inning as the Giants first jumped to a 4-0 lead and then let the Dodgers tie the score. Reliever Billy O'Dell was the winning pitcher and Ed Roebuck the loser.

streak to 20 games in the White Sox' sweep of the Orioles. He doubled home both Chicago runs in the opener and connected for his 14th homer in the nightcap. The White Sox erupted for seven runs in the sixth inning of the second game, Gene Freese highlighting the rally with a three-run homer. Bob Shaw and Early Wynn were the winners.

Tom Brewer pitched an eight-hitter against Kansas City and hit his first home run of the season for Boston. Russ Nixon also homered for the Red Sox, who handed Dick Hall his seventh defeat. The victory was Brewer's sixth against seven losses.

Pirate Rookie Wins

Rookie Tom Cheney of the Pirates limited the Reds to four hits in the nightcap. Don Newcombe started for Cincinnati but never faced a batter. He was ejected from the game when he became involved in an argument with Umpire Dusty Boggess over the length of one of his shirtsleeves. Cal McLish replaced Newcombe and served up a home run to Bill Virdon on the first pitch. Don Hoak doubled home two more runs in the fifth.

The Reds won the opener with a 16-hit attack, 10 of which came off loser Vern Law. Pirate shortstop Dick Groat collected seven hits in 10 trips during the doubleheader, including the 1,000th

Mays Aids SF Victory

San Francisco — Don't sell out the Giants — not as long as they have Willie Mays in the batting order.

The $85,000-per-year center fielder smashed a triple in the eighth inning Sunday to bring across Joe Amalfitano and carry the Giants to a 5-4 victory over the high riding Los Angeles Dodgers.

Then Billy Loes came to the rescue of Billy O'Dell in the ninth inning and struck out Frank Howard with a man on second to give lantern-jawed southpaw his fourth win against eight losses.

Mays also knocked in a run in the first inning and made a fine catch of a long smash by Tom Davis in the fifth which would have brought in two runs if Willie hadn't made a last minute grab of the ball.

San Francisco gets today off then opens a three-game series with the Philadelphia Phillies on Tuesday night. Juan Marichal, a strike out whiz with Tacoma of the Pacific Coast league, is scheduled to start for the Giants in his major league debut.

Giants Send McCovey To Tacoma

San Francisco — Willie McCovey, an overnight major league sensation just one year ago, is back in the minors today — far from the jeering San Francisco fans who once adored him.

Willie, who stormed to the National league's rookie of the year award last season, was optioned Sunday by the faltering Giants to their Tacoma farm team in the Pacific Coast league.

"I could hit this major league pitching if I could play regularly," the 6 foot, 4 inch first baseman said after being told he was all through — at least for now — in the big time.

And McCovey did hit major league pitching — last year. Willie checked in from the Pacific Coast league farm on July 30 with a driving range swing and clubbed Robin Roberts of the Phils for two triples and two singles in a smash debut. He could do no wrong then, and his fielding lapses and hesitant base running all were erased by his skyscraper drives.

Differed This Year

McCovey wound up the season with a .354 average and 13 homeruns, and was instrumental in keeping the Giants in first place until their collapse the final week of the season.

But this year was a different story. His average skidded to .244 and Willie was rated as the fall guy in San Francisco's collapse of the past two months.

Manager Tom Sheehan recalled on more than one occasion. "This year Willie can't hit, run or field."

"Stretch," as he likes to be called, was tabbed in some quarters as a card-playing addict who stared at the pastebards until dawn, then was a sitting duck in the afternoon for anything the pitchers wanted to do.

This spring word got around that McCovey could be had if the hurlers kept the ball inside. "Jam him," was the secret.

SHEPHERD PICKED

Ablene, Tex. — The Olympic Track and Field Committee Saturday night picked Sharon Shepherd of Mapleton, Ore., in the shot put and Doris Severson of Gig Harbor, Wash., in the 800 meters to go to the three-week pre-Olympic training camp at Emporia, Kansas. The two northwest women were picked in hopes they could improve enough to meet Olympic qualifying standards.

Sweep Gives Indian Nine 5 1/2 Game Lead

By ROY WEBSTER
United Press International

San Diego and Spokane both refused to say die Sunday night and came on in 11 and 13 innings respectively to win their Pacific Coast league ball games.

The Indians then trimmed Seattle in the second game, 3-0, to sweep the doubleheader and shoot five and one-half games out front of the pack.

San Diego took the measure of second place Sacramento, 9-7, after the Solons had knotted the count, 5-5, at the end of nine innings. Spokane's first game marathon win was a 10-9 decision.

Tacoma and Salt Lake each won a game in their doubleheader with the Giants taking the first, 10-4, and the Bees the second, 8-4. Portland nudged out Vancouver, 8-7.

San Diego trailed 3-2 going into the top of the ninth when Floyd Robinson slammed a three-run homer to put the Padres ahead. The Solons then came back with a pair and threw the game into extra innings. After the Pads combined five hits and an error to score four runs in the top of the 11th, Sacramento once tried to rally, but fell short getting only two markers on a double and a single.

Two-Run Homer

Valmy Thomas had earlier put the Padres ahead, 2-1, with a two-run homer in the sixth, but Bobby Jacobs tied it again with a solo clout for Sacramento in the bottom of the stanza.

Spokane and Seattle were 9-9 at the end of nine frames in the opening contest and continued at that pace until Ron Fairly singled to drive home Tony Roig in the top of the 13th. Roig had doubled to lead off the inning. It was Ray Remproch's third straight win in three decisions, all against the Rainiers.

Seattle had gone ahead in the eighth on a pair of round-trippers scoring three men in all. Joe Taylor blasted the longest homer in the 22-year-old existence of Sick's Seattle stadium when he put a solo clout over the center field fence. The ball carried a distance of 500 feet.

Lou Skizas then singled and Buddy Gilbert homered him around.

In the nightcap, Ford Young held Seattle to three hits and no runs as Spokane brought home all its runs in the fourth for the win. The Indian tallies came on a double, two singles, an intentional walk and two wild pitches.

Tacoma unloaded 10 hits off four Salt Lake pitchers in

Youth Cops Trap Honor

Reno — Sanford Speck, 14, Salt Lake City, reigned today as overall champ of the Grand Pacific Trapshoot tournament.

He won honors, compiled from shooters' scores for the entire 10-event shoot, by defeating Ron Sellars, Bountiful, Utah, in a special shootoff Sunday.

Speck and Sellars each finished with 969 points out of a possible 1,000 in over-all competition. But Speck blasted 99 of a possible 70 targets in the shootoff, while Sellars hit 68.

The all-round trophy was won by Bill Salt, Bountiful, with 396 of a possible 400 targets. Janet Hurt, Harrisburg, Ore., won a four-way shootoff to win the handicap championship, final event of the five-day shoot.

Other over-all class winners: George Neary, Los Altos, Calif., Class AA, 988; Harry Abernath, Welches, Ore., Class A, 961; Sellars, Class B, 969; Armand Borel, San Ramon, Calif., Class C, 916; Lloyd Eide, Riggins, Idaho, Class D, 912.

Betty Fumay, Lompoc, Calif., won the women's handicap with 98; Speck was high junior at 97; Ron Johnson, Wasco, Ore., was high sub-junior with 85; and Larry Dick Pinole, Calif., won the high professional title with 99.

Dodgers Await Pirate Visit

Los Angeles — The Dodgers enjoyed a day off today with only the thought of a series with Pittsburgh coming up and Sunday's loss to San Francisco dulling the glow of recent victories.

The Pirates, in first place 2½ games in front of Milwaukee, hit town Tuesday night for the first of a three-game set. Dodger manager Walter Alton will send Don Drysdale, who has three wins in a row, against the Bucs' Bob Friend.

The Pirate series will be the first of a 12-game home stand which will include games against Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Milwaukee.

to England for gin?
to Russia for vodka?

what for?

Schenley does it better here at home and there's no duty to pay!

Why look abroad for the finest gin and vodka? We do it better in America. Take Schenley London Dry Gin. Here's a gin made from only the costly center cut of the spirits. We literally throw away the rough spots—the first and last spirits to come off the still. As a result, it's the smoothest gin anywhere. And take Schenley Vodka. Its authentic character comes from old world charcoal formulas, and the extra Schenley touches make it the lightest, driest vodka on earth. So, why buy imports, and pay for added freight and duty? You'll find Schenley London Dry Gin and Schenley Vodka (both cost the same) at popular prices everywhere.
