Nez Perce Power To Be Sold at Cost, Says Group

Seattle - UPI - Nez Perce power will be sold at cost and distributed on a regionwide basis for the maximum economic benefit of Washington, Oregon and Idaho, according to a policy adopted here Friday by the Washington Public Power Supply System.

The marketing and distribution methods were outlined in a statement by Owen W. Hurd, managing director of the system.

The WPPSS has filed an application with the Federal Power Commission for a license to build the Nez Perce project on the Middle Snake river.

Plans call for an interconnection of Nez Perce power with the Bonneville Power administration's grid system to avoid duplication of transmission facilities and to maintain and enhance the integrity of the federal system, the statement said.

Consideration will be given to a supplementary heavy voltage line to southeastern Idaho for the development of phosphate resources.

The directors also said that Nez Perce would be operated in coordination with downstream federal and other plants to achieve optimum firm power production; be developed for maximum recreational use; operated for maximum floor control and navigation benefits, and be equipped to protect fisheries, both upstream and downstream.

Portland Asks Complaint Dismissal

Portland - UPI - The City of Portland argued in circuit court Friday for dismissal of a state sanitary authority complaint requiring the city to stop emptying sewage into the waters of the Columbia and Willamette rivers.

The city attacked both the legality of the pollution law and the right of the sanitary authority to proceed against the city.

State Attorney Cecil Quesseth charged Portland with creating a public nuisance that is hazardous to public health by pouring sewage into the two rivers.

Ullman's Record Rapped by Phair

Fossil - UPI - Ron Phair, Republican congressional candidate from Oregon's second district, Friday charged Democratic Congressman Al Ullman with "having a spend-thrift voting record in Congress."

Phair called the recent Democratic party platform a

"giveaway" program that would "mean new and back-breaking taxes." He claimed a vote for Ullman would be a vote for a tax hike.

Phair spoke at the close of a swing through sixteen Oregon counties.

He will leave this week end for the GOP national convention in Chicago, where he is a delegate.

Right of Way Claims Released

The Jackson county court has signed an agreement with Chester A. Wise and Mary A. Wise which releases the county from all claims on a right of way for the Pleasant Creek timber access road, County Judge Earl Miller said Friday.

The county has agreed to pay the property owners $100. The county court also signed a resolution to make the Pleasant Creek rd. part of the general county road system.

A suit has been filed against the county by Chester and Mary Wise over use of the Pleasant Creek rd. through their property to provide access to bureau of land management timber.

Grocery Operator Foils Holdup Man

Portland - UPI - A holdup attempt by a man described as about 27 to 29 years old was foiled Friday night by a 64-year-old grocery store operator.

Heine Perlman, owner of the Wagon Wheel grocery here, said he disarmed the would-be robber after a scuffle and a bullet had been sent into the ceiling.

Inmates Won't Be Used at Courthouse

The county court Friday decided not to use county prisoners for any more work details around the courthouse until liability insurance can be obtained to cover them.

The decision followed an opinion from District Attorney Thomas J. Reeder, which stated the county court has legal authority to work county jail prisoners. However, the county court has absolute control and responsibility for the prisoners while working on public property. If an accident should occur the county would be liable, Reeder wrote. They are not covered by workman's compensation insurance, he added.

During other business Friday the county court decided to delay awarding a contract for courthouse annex awnings until the next regular agenda meeting.
