Improved Library Service to Result From New Program

Improved library service to Jackson county residents will result from a program of cooperation between the Public Library of Ashland and the Public Library of Medford and Jackson county, Librarian Omar A. Bacon has announced.

Charges for service by either library are eliminated and borrower's cards will be honored at either library. Besides this, patrons will be allowed to return books at either library or its branches at his convenience.

Ashland Public Library books will be cataloged and processed by the Public Library of Medford and Jackson county as a result of a state grant, which will run for one year only. Significant books will be included in the catalog of both libraries.

May Use Either File

A library user will be able to tell what the other library has in recent adult books from the use of either file.

The centralized processing will save time for the Ashland library staff and will make the cataloging department of the Public Library of Medford and Jackson county more efficient. Trained staff members will be able to use their time for more skilled functions in serving the public, Bacon said.

Other cooperative measures include consultation between the two librarians on the purchase of books so as to avoid duplication of expensive items. The two libraries will also develop an improved system of inter-library loans to speed the filling of requests.

The continued cooperation between the two libraries after the grant's expiration will depend on local support, Bacon said.

Passenger Traffic Shows Increase

Passenger traffic at Medford's municipal airport during June totaled 5,605, up from last month's 5,017 passengers, but below the 6,432 passengers recorded during the same month a year ago, according to the airport manager's monthly report.

A total of 5,989 aircraft, including 902 air carriers, landed or took off at the airport during June. This was up from both last month's total, 5,340, and the total during June, 1959, 5,482.

Air express last month totaled 3,632 pounds, up from both last month's 2,135 pounds and the 3,383 pounds of a year ago.

Air freight totaled 20,224 pounds, up from last month's 16,145 pounds, but below the 26,841 pounds of a year ago.

Total airport revenue last month was $6,530 including $436 in landing fees.

Complaints Filed In Accident Cases

Two complaints were filed in district court against drivers as a result of two accidents Thursday, state police said Friday.

A complaint has been filed against Ernestine Hicks, 62, of 208 Hawthorne st., Medford, charging her with failure to stop at a stop sign, police said.

State police said the Hicks car was traveling west on Head rd. when it failed to stop for a sign and the right front fender hit the right side of a car driven by Charles William Hutchison, 62, of 540 Cherry st., Central Point.

A complaint was also filed in district court charging Robert John Zimmermann, 37, Hastings, Neb., with violation of the basic rule. The Zimmermann car collided the rear of a pickup truck driven by Ivan McDonough, 73, route 1, Jacksonville, Thursday night, state police said. McDonough had signalled for a left turn off Highway 99 when the accident occurred, officers said.

Battleships of the United States Navy are named for the states.
