Hopkins Receives Insurance Plaque

Curtis L. Hopkins of Hopkins-Saffley associates, Medford insurance counselors, was recently awarded a plaque by the Aetna Life Insurance company for his outstanding achievements in the Group Insurance field.

Hopkins has written more than $25,000,000 of group insurance volume during the past 10 years. He has written over $1,000,000 of volume each of these years.

Presenting the plaque at a dinner was D. J. McCook, regional supervisor of the Aetna Life's group division. Aetna officials and their wives attended the event.

According to McCook, this coveted award is given to few insurance men.

McDonald Gets 2nd Jail Term

Oregon City—Levi S. McDonald, Portland stereotyper, Friday received a second 10-year sentence for the Oregon City dynamiting of trucks used by the Oregon Journal and the Oregonian.

The sentence was passed by Marion County Judge Val Slopier who heard testimony earlier this month when McDonald was convicted of the Oregon City dynamiting.

McDonald received an earlier ten-year sentence on a similar truck dynamiting charge in Multnomah county. Judge Slopier ruled that the two sentences were to be served consecutively.

McDonald has appealed the Multnomah sentence. Judge Slopier released McDonald under $10,000 bail pending appeal.

Utility District Setup Discussed

Lyons—The Oregon Hydroelectric commission conducted a hearing here Friday on a proposal to form a peoples utility district in the Lyons area.

Witnesses favoring the project included Jack Frisbie, manager of the Salem Electric Cooperative, and three Lyons residents who said they were for the PUD if it meant lower electric rates.

Officials of Pacific Power and Light company, which serves most of the area now, said this would not be the case. A PP and L treasurer estimated the proposed PUD would operate at a loss as high as $20,000 a year even if it succeeded in serving all customers in the Lyons area.

Burlington, N.C.—Five Negro men were arrested Friday on charges of defrauding insurance companies by insuring the use of their hands and then deliberately cutting off the fingers of one hand with a power saw.

Relief for Ingrowing Toenails

Anyone who has ever had trouble with an ingrowing toenail knows how much torture it can produce. A good way of avoiding the trouble is to get a chiropodist's instrument, such as he uses for cleaning out the furrows on each side of the big toe nails. With this, perhaps once a week, after a bath when the tissues are soft, the furrows can be cleaned out.

Dr. Wolfram Korner of Berlin says that if trouble has started an excellent way of getting relief is to get two short lengths of small plastic tubing, such as doctors use. With a scissors they are split into two little U-shaped troughs. One of these is pushed back under the hurting edge of the nail and, according to the doctor, relief comes instantly. I cannot vouch for this as I haven't tried it, but perhaps to some of our podiatrist friends it is an old story, and they can tell us if it will work.

Incidentally, if anyone—especially an elderly person—has sore feet, he or she ought to go and learn how wonderful is the comfort a good podiatrist can give. I remember that years ago, when I visited a large Old Peoples' Home, I found that the most-loved person in the place was the podiatrist. Why? Because he made the old peoples' feet so comfortable.

Small Red Spots
Many elderly people write wanting to know if they should be anxious about a number of little red nodules, some about the size of the head of a pin, which have appeared, perhaps mainly on the skin over their breast bone. I doubt if anyone need worry about these little nodules. I have never seen them turn into cancer.

Sportsmen Ask Zoning on Lake

Salem—The Oregon Marine board Friday heard requests from sportsmen for establishing zoning and speed limits for water skiers on Detroit lake in Marion county.

Generally, the lake's center would be designated for water skiing and speedboats. Fishermen would have the rest.

When regulations are set up by the board, they will be enforced by the county sheriff's lake patrol and by special officers.

FALL PLANTING NEEDS FOR LAWN and GARDEN

Fall planting is just around the corner and many of us are wondering how to make our soil more productive. High organic content is a characteristic of our most productive soil. Multi-Bark is a natural organic soil conditioner that improves heavy clay soil, giving a desirable crumbly structure, makes it more favorable for seed germination and plant growth. Apply 2 to 3 inches of Multi-Bark now and this Fall fill it to a depth of 6 inches. Because of Multi-Bark's slow decomposition rate it will last for years and make your gardening and landscaping a pleasure instead of a chore. For more information on its many uses call Kogap Lumber Ind., SP 3-6601, Ext. 46.
