Photographic Show to Premier Here

The northwest premiere of an outstanding photographic exhibit which will be sent abroad later under the auspices of the U.S. State department will be held at Rogue gallery in Medford. In announcing the exhibit, officers of the Rogue Valley Art association state that the group is "proud to be able to present the exhibit." It opens Tuesday, August 2, at the gallery, 220 West Main street.

Titled "The Evolution of a Dance Drama," the photographic exhibit was created by the San Francisco Contemporary Dancers foundation, and filmed by Chic Lloyd, theater photographer.

The exhibit of 133 photographs, ranging in size from a few inches to several feet, "meticulously and dramatically" outlines the entire evolutionary process of the creation of the dance-drama "A Season in Hell," one of the dances in the repertory of the San Francisco Contemporary Dancers.

Cryptic captions and notes coordinate the show into a finely organized graphic experience achieving outstanding photographic as well as dance-educational results, it is reported.

"The San Francisco Contemporary Dancers Foundation represents the fulfillment of an essential esthetic need which was demonstrated by the Contemporary Dancers company," a release states. "This performing company, with its widely experimental attitude and efforts, clearly demonstrated the need in this country for an educational institution capable of bringing new vitality and purpose, importance and social significance to the world of the dance. The formation, therefore, of the San Francisco Contemporary Dancers Foundation was a necessity, the answer to the question which asked how the dance might win the honor and respect which the fine arts of our world enjoy."

Immediately following the close of the exhibit in Medford on August 23, "Evolution of a Dance Drama" will be shown at Bush House, Salem, by the Salem Art association and then travel abroad under the auspices of the State Department until the end of 1981. At that time it will complete its northwest tour with showing dates in Portland and Seattle.

The Rogue Gallery is open from noon until 4 p.m. every day except Monday. The public is invited. No admission is charged.

Barbecue Honors Miss McDermott

Eagle Point - Miss Ann Nora McDermott, Cave Junction, Ore., was guest of honor at a barbecue party given by Miss Marcia Ackerman at her parents' home on Stevens road July 22. Guests attending were Miss Sandra Wallis, Miss Connie Gregg, Miss Paul-ette Anderson, Miss Kay Thurman, Jack Straub, Danny Hugo, Ricky Meyer, Charles Pomeroy, Steve Gustafson, Jim and Lola Ackerman, John Karr, Marysville, Wash., and the guest of honor. Miss McDermott spent a week with her hostess.

California Girl Visits Relatives; Teachers Return

A valley visitor is Miss Leila Turner, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Turner, Sunnyvale, Calif. She is visiting Mrs. Elsie Turner, 39 Oak drive, Medford, and Mr. and Mrs. John Stille, Shady Cove, her grandparents. Miss Turner arrived in Medford recently with Mrs. Turner. Mrs. Turner, a teacher at Eagle Point, was a delegate to the National Education Association convention to Los Angeles earlier this month. She traveled south with Mrs. Viola Pomeroy, also a teacher in the Eagle Point schools and delegate, and Mrs. Pomeroy's sister, Mrs. Etta Orr, Roseburg.

The three women visited relatives in Los Angeles after the convention. Mrs. Turner then traveled to the San Francisco area where she visited the families of her two sons, Claude Turner, who is principal of Belmont Junior High school, and Robert Turner, San Lorenzo, Calif. She visited there about three weeks before returning to the valley accompanied by her granddaughter.

Last week a daughter of Mrs. Turner's, Miss Gail Turner, visited her mother in Medford and two sisters, Miss Gail Turner is a teacher in Eugene.

Music Teacher Named Chairman

Mrs. Effie H. Kurtz, 4 Newtown avenue, attended Music Teachers National association fifth biennial western division convention at the University of Oregon, Eugene, last week. The Medford piano and voice teacher was appointed ethics chairman for the state by the incoming president.

Following the state convention Mrs. Kurtz continued on to Missoula, Mont., where she is attending a workshop of the National Association of Teachers of Singing. The workshop, which started today, will continue through August 6.

At the Eugene meeting outstanding music students from six states gave recitals and concerts for those attending. Representing Oregon was Miss Sonja Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Peterson, Jacksonville highway, a graduate of Willamette university.

Ashland Man To Teach Art Class

David Hagerbaumer, Ashland artist, will teach the art class at the Senior Activity Center, Medford, for part of August during the absence of Mrs. Victoria Staley.

Mr. Hagerbaumer is known for his game bird paintings. They have been seen in both the Ashland and Medford Greenwich Village art shows of the Southern Oregon Artists association.

The first class will start Tuesday, August 2, at 1 p.m. and new members are welcome. The session will be on drawing techniques and members are to take pencils. Drawing paper will be furnished.

The Arm Chair Travel group will see slides taken by C. G. Smith, 517 Haven street, while on visits with his son-in-law who is with the U.S. national park service. The colored pictures will include scenes in Death Valley, British Columbia, and Baranof Island, taken while Mr. Smith lived at Sitka, Alaska.

Dr. Frank Roberts, who is in charge of the weekly program on world travel, announced that any one who has colored slides to show to get in touch with him at SPring 2-2674.

No new programs and classes will be started at the Center until cooler weather. The Spanish and orchestra classes will continue to meet each Thursday morning until further notice.

The committee in charge of the Center said that an awning is needed for the south front of the building during the hot part of the summer. Any one having a used awning may contact John Gribble, SPring 2-5932 or William Jones, SPring 2-3733.
