Boy Scout Camp At Lake of Woods Enters Fourth Week

The annual Boy Scout Camp McLoughlin at Lake of the Woods is now in its fourth week, according to Don Chilcote, activities director for the camp.

The camp, which began July 10, lasts five weeks with new Scouts coming each week. Most all of the boys come with their own troops as a unit, usually reserving a camp site in advance. About 600 boys participate each year from the Crater Lake Scout council.

The Scouts usually register Sunday afternoon, get settled, then join a central campfire that evening. All first year campers enter the circle and add a piece of wood to the fire.

Orientation Tour
Monday reveille is at 7:15 a.m., although most Scouts are usually up earlier doing their chores and getting ready for the day. After breakfast they attend an orientation tour of the Rifle, Mo-Skeet, and archery ranges as well as the handicraft area.

While the boys are on this tour, the Scout leaders tour the activities area where they receive instruction from the activities staff, so they in turn can instruct their own troops.

In the afternoon, the youths work on merit badge work and the "Pick and Choose" program, designed to allow them to do what they want to between 4 and 5 p.m.

The second camp day is spent in scheduling into the activities field sports and water front activities and learning the Scout skills. Both Monday and Tuesday evenings are free so each individual Scoutmaster can hold a troop campfire if he desires.

Wednesday mornings, cooking and packing demonstrations are held besides the regular schedule. Scouts were instructed how to prepare a pack properly while the Scoutmasters and Patrol cooks were given pointers on how to cook a meal with dehydrated food. In the afternoon the troops go on hikes.

Meeting Planned For OSC Students

Dr. Dan W. Poling, dean of men at Oregon State college, and Bob Knoll, alumni director for the college, will be in Medford this week to speak at a meeting of students planning to enter college this fall, and their parents.

The meeting is set for August 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Miss Karen Culbertson, 2615 Hillcrest rd., who is county chairman for Beaver Invitation to Education.

Miss Culbertson said that students planning to enter OSC this fall, or have not yet chosen a college, are invited to attend. Dr. Poling, Knoll and others will speak, and the students and their parents will be encouraged to ask questions. An OSC movie will be shown.

Miss Maurine Samuelson is Medford chairman for the event.

SWORD AND SHIELD
London - (UPI) - Police Sgt. Percy Pettit used a garbage can lid and his truncheon Tuesday to disarm and arrest a man with a knife.

New York - (UPI) - California will be talking to New Jersey via the moon Wednesday, the first time two-way voice transmission will be bounced off the earth's satellite.

Last week 44 campers and staff went on the Mt. McLoughlin Scenic tour. Others went to Harriet Lake, Four Mile Lake, the Brown Mountain trail, and Heavenly Twins. These groups returned Thursday afternoon.

Thursday evening a farewell party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Dick Clark, Medford. Clark has been serving as assistant camp director and program director. They are now preparing for his trip to the Schiff Scout reservation in New Jersey. During his six weeks stay there he will prepare for professional scouting.

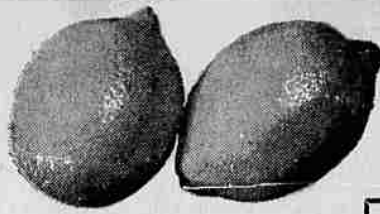

Central Campfire
Friday the Scouts continued their activities and in the evening conducted another central campfire planned by the Scoutmasters. Skits, songs, and stunts were presented by the individual troops.

Saturday morning was spent in preparation for the afternoon board of review and the evening Court of Honor. A water carnival was also held during the afternoon. Other events included an egg and spoon race, fire building race, tootsie pop dive, and big bag of wind watermelon scramble.

Sunday morning a Protestant church service was held and at noon Scoutmasters were presented with their 1960 Camp McLoughlin Staff neckerchiefs and the Senior Patrol leaders were given camp patches and year tags for their troops.

Highlighting the current week of camping is the annual midnight climb up Mt. McLoughlin. It was to take place last night. Flares were lit at various intervals from the base of the ridge to the top of the mountain. Three flares were to be lit on the top sometime between 11:30 and midnight.
