

Trujillo Pair Accepts Positions Out of Country

Realistic Look At Open Burning Held Necessary

Portland — (UPI) — A Portland committee on air pollution met Thursday with state sanitary officials, and emerged from the session with both sides in agreement that a "realistic" approach must be found to open air burning problems.

Curtis M. Everts, secretary of the Oregon State Sanitary Authority, said the state's ban on open air burning was intended to control "public nuisance" burning, but Everts said the state meant to be "realistic" in interpreting its ban.

To Schedule Meetings

Everts met with a special Portland committee set up by private industry to study the air pollution problem. Howard Arnett, spokesman for the group, said the sanitary authority had agreed to begin meeting at once with representatives of each industry to work out an ultimate solution to the air pollution problem.

The meeting between state sanitary authority officials and the Portland group was held at the same time that the city directed a letter to the sanitary authority and to Gov. Mark Hatfield protesting the state's burning ban. Called Unnecessary

The letter, sent Thursday by Mayor Terry Schruink and four city commissioners, called the state's prohibition of open burning an "unrealistic, and unnecessary obstacle," and urged a meeting with the state sanitary authority to work out a "realistic approach."

Referring to reinstatement of a city ordinance Wednesday, the letter warned that the city would again begin issuing fire permits authorizing open burning. Furthermore, the letter stated, the city "will not be a party to the attempted enforcement" of the present Ossa burning ban.

Detrimental To Industry

The letter called the burning ban detrimental to the growth and retention of industry in Portland. The Ossa ban, it declared, would add $200,000 to the city's urban renewal costs, and would cause "enormous" increases in federal land clearing costs for new freeways.

The letter added unless a solution is worked out the burning ban would hike costs for industry and probably cause some industries to move away from Portland.

Stock Market Gets Generally Firm Tone

New York — (UPI) — Electronics, aircrafts and scattered specials gave the stock market a generally firm tone during the first hour of trading today.

International Business Machines trading ex-dividend, spurred more than 4 points in the electronics where Texas Instruments and RCA tacked on small fractions.

Autos were neglected in the early trading with Ford, General Motors and Chrysler all moving narrowly on either side of the previous close.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer added a point on the statement of its president that earnings in the fiscal year ending Aug. 31 would rise sharply.

Steels were narrowly mixed. Merck and Vlek rose more than a point in the drugs and National Lead more than a point in the metals. Boeing added a point and Lockheed a half in the aircrafts.

Exile Sources Expect Imminent Coup d'Etat

Ciudad Trujillo, D. R. — (UPI) — Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., playboy son of the Dominican strongman, has joined his father in accepting an assignment out of the country, the government disclosed today.

The younger Trujillo was preparing to leave for Geneva, where he will act as "adviser" to the Dominican delegation at a multi-nation trade conference. His father, the generalissimo, was appointed Thursday as ambassador to the United Nations. The government said he would attend the September session of the General Assembly.

Predict Military Coup

In Buenos Aires, Dominican exile sources said the Trujillo family faced an imminent military coup d'etat. They said the new assignments were made to allow the Trujillos, who have ruled for 30 years, to leave the country without causing alarm.

Sources close to the Venezuelan government believed Trujillo was attempting to remove himself and his family from the public limelight so as to obscure responsibility for recent actions of his government. The Trujillo regime currently is being bombarded by protests from Venezuela, Mexico and other Latin nations over alleged violations of international law.

Brother Resigned

Earlier this week the generalissimo's brother Hector resigned unexpectedly from the presidency and two other relatives were dropped from the cabinet. It was not known whether other assignments awaited them.

Nixon Says U.S. Will Never Tolerate Being Pushed Around

Honolulu — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon declared Thursday night that the United States will never "tolerate being pushed around" and that it will stand with forces of freedom in West Berlin, Cuba or "wherever it is."

He told 11,000 people in Honolulu's picturesque Kapiolani Bowl on Waikiki Beach that the United States must be "firm without being belligerent" in foreign affairs.

If he is the next president, Nixon served notice that the Soviets could expect negotiations only from a position of U.S. strength and only if there is a reasonable prospect for success.

Test Pilot, Remembering His Lessons, Flies at 2,190 MPH

Edwards AFB, Calif. — (UPI) — Test pilot Joe Walker, "remembering his lessons," flew the X-15 to a world air speed record of 2,190 miles an hour — almost 3 1/2 times the speed of sound, the National Space Agency said today.

The new speed figure, arrived at by National Aeronautics and Space Administration engineers, gave Walker a 40-mile an hour boost over the record claim based on preliminary flight data.

"This new figure will not be changed," a NASA spokesman said.

Walker was hailed as the fastest man alive after a 10-minute flight over the desert base Thursday in the experimental plane. After his flight, he told reporters his wife sent him off with the admonition:

"Be sure to remember your lessons."

"That was just the first thing that popped into my head at that early hour," said Mrs. Grace Walker, 35. "I knew this was a special flight for Joe."

Walker, NASA test pilot of 15 years, broke the old record of 2,094 miles set in 1956 by Capt. Milburn Apt in the X-2. Apt was killed on that flight when the experimental plane disintegrated in flight.

"I was more aware of this flight than some of the others," she said, "because of all the publicity."

"I feel more than a little wifely pride in Joe's accomplishment," she added, "not only this flight but all of them."

"Of course, I worry about him. I know he is a competent pilot, but I just can't help but worry," the mother of three said.

Walker, greying at the temples and usually pretty quiet, was all smiles after his flight. He broke the record during a 10-minute hop after being dropped from beneath the wing of a B-52 bomber about 100 miles east of this desert base.

"I'm sitting up there, watching the needle go around, and saying 'go, go,'" Walker said. "There were no problems, everything was fine, just fine."

Walker probably will be the first pilot to take the X-15 to its maximum speed and altitude when the plane has a new, bigger engine that can carry the short-winged craft to 100 miles above the earth at speeds of 4,000 miles an hour.
