Ram Rocket Fails In Second Stage

Washington—UPD—A seven-ton Ram rocket, designed to study space communications problems, "failed to achieve its test objectives" when fired Tuesday night from Wallops Island, Va.

A malfunction in the second of five stages prevented the rocket from reaching its intended height of 200,000 feet, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

A NASA spokesman said the rocket was not meant to go into orbit.

Quotes From the News

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Washington—President Eisenhower, stating he will work for the Nixon-Lodge ticket but indicating he planned to do much of his campaigning in non-partisan settings:

"Now this doesn't mean that I possibly should be out on the hustings and making partisan speeches. I'm not so sure... that it would be a good thing. I've got a lot of other responsibilities and a lot of other commitments around the country."

Washington—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, wishing the father of U2 pilot Francis Powers "God-speed" on his trip to Russia for his son's espionage trial:

"My best wishes to you. You've got a lot of people behind you so keep your spirits up."

Springfield, Ill.—William Tranquilli, 20, admitting he and a 20-year-old buddy planted the human bones that led police to suspect the remains of a long forgotten murder victim had been found on a construction site:

"This didn't do anybody any good except the museum. They got an extra human skull they probably didn't need anyway."

Hollywood—Italian starlet Leticia Roman, 18, stating that girls grow up more slowly in Italy than in the United States and expressing surprise at seeing teen-age American cuties in mink coats:

"I am looking forward to a mink coat myself, but not until I'm 21 years old."
