Salem Visitor Shot 3 Times by Surprised Burglar

Salem—William H. Paulus, 60, San Jose business man, was in critical condition at a hospital here today after being shot three times by a burglar he surprised at his home Wednesday night. Paulus and his wife had recently arrived here to visit with the younger Paulus, a Salem attorney.

Paulus is vice president of the San Jose division of the Dole Pineapple Co., of Hawaii.

Police said Paulus surprised the intruder in an upstairs bedroom of the house about 10 p.m. The burglar, wearing a stocking cap over his face, fired three shots at Paulus and fled. One shot struck Paulus in the face, one in the back and a third in the hand.

Wife Saw Burglar
Mrs. Paulus, who is nearly deaf, said she did not hear the shots, but came upon the burglar as he leaped over her husband's prostrate body. She said she flattened against a wall and the man dashed past her and fled.

The intruder left behind a stained tweed jacket, a flashlight and a box of small .22 caliber pistol bullets. Police speculated that the assailant may be the same man who attacked three women in Portland earlier this week.

Toothpaste Wins Dentist Approval

Chicago—(Science Service)—The American Dental association has for the first time approved a fluoride dentifrice. The ADA, at the same time, has recommended fluoridation of the community water supplies as the most desirable method of preventing tooth decay.

Dr. Lester W. Burket of Philadelphia, chairman of the ADA Council on Dental Therapeutics, who reported the approval of Crest in the Journal of the American Dental association (August) said, "the standard fluoride dentifrice is an aid in combating dental decay; it is not a cure-all. Nor will it substitute for fluoridation of community water supplies. Fluoridation, which is supported by exhaustive long-term studies, remains by far the most effective means for obtaining the benefits of fluorides."

The manufacturer's willingness to limit advertising claims to those supported by adequate research was one of the determining factors in the ADA decision to approve the dentifrice. Clinical studies over a ten-year period by the manufacturers were also taken into consideration.

Balance Paid Off, Then TV is Stolen

Columbus, Ohio—The morning after he made the final payment on his television set, Elmer Boggs sat watching it at home. The phone rang. A man told him that a friend had been in an accident some distance away. Boggs jumped into his car and sped to the scene. No friends, no accident.

No TV set either, he found when he got back. Neighbors saw three men drive up to the rear of Boggs' home while he was gone and load the TV and his new high fidelity radio into their car.

FATHER, SON REUNITED—Separated for 40 years, a father and son were reunited at a St. Louis, Mo., hospital. Robert E. Kehr Jr. of St. Louis was being discharged when it was mentioned that a man of the same name was also a patient. When the two met they discovered they were father and son, the younger man believing his father to be dead. (UPI Telephoto)

Live Vaccine for Measles May Give Life-Long Immunity

Boston—(Science Service)—Inoculating infants with live measles virus vaccine may provide safe, life-long immunity to measles, new research indicates. Measles is one of the most serious of the common childhood diseases. It has caused more deaths annually in recent years than polio.

Among the crippling secondary infections that may follow the onset of this disease is encephalitis, a dreaded brain inflammation that may result in mortality or permanent mental disability. Infection of the middle ear may cause deafness. Pneumonia is another possible complication from measles and is a major cause of death from measles.

Results Reported
The promising results of tests with live measles virus vaccine inoculations on 13 infants from four to 13 1/2 months of age was reported in the New England Journal of Medicine here by Drs. Joseph Stokes Jr., Charles M. Reilly, Maurice R. Hilleman and Eugene B. Buynak.

The virus used was furnished by virologist Dr. John F. Enders of Harvard university, a Nobel Prize winner in 1954 for his pioneer efforts in polio virus culture. The group was selected to include children six months or younger who still might possess the natural maternal measles antibodies in order to determine whether the antibodies would be a barrier to the vaccine virus.

Babies of Drug Addicts Born With Narcotic Habit

Kansas City, Mo.—(Science Service)—A newborn baby's addiction to morphine or one of its derivatives such as heroin may begin many months before it is born.

Two New York University pediatricians, Drs. Annabelle Vincow and Alvin Hackel, reported in the current issue of GP, published here by the American Academy of General Practice, that 12 drug-addicted infants were born at Bellevue hospital during a recent nine-month period. One study, on a group of untreated cases, showed a 93 per cent death rate.

The babies had been getting opiates from their mothers' systems before birth. They suffered withdrawal tortures after they were born. Their nervous systems became violently overactive. In severe cases they had convulsions and died.

Often Nauseated
The two physicians urged that such babies remain hospitalized, be allowed to breathe moist oxygen and be fed through a nasal tube or intravenously because they are often nauseated and ignore bottles.

As with many adult addicts, drug substitutes must be used and then slowly withdrawn. Drs. Vincow and Hackel urged obstetricians to check the mothers for signs of addiction before the babies are born. If the mother can go without drugs for a week or ten days prior to delivery, the baby usually will not suffer withdrawal symptoms.

Lady Decides It's Better to Walk

Toledo, Ohio—Mrs. Wilma Scroggins, 30, now is a confirmed pedestrian. She told police she paid a man 75 cents to drive her home from a dry cleaning shop, only to have him speed away with clothing worth $100 when she got out.

Later the same day she went to a market, bought $5 worth of groceries, and hired another man to drive her about in search for the first man. The hunt was fruitless and the second man took her home, took a dollar for the ride and drove away with her groceries.
