

WHAT DO DOCTORS DO FOR TENSE NERVOUS HEADACHES?

3 out of 4 recommend the ingredients in ANACIN® for headache pain

WHEN you suffer pain from headache, neuritis or neuralgia, why not take what most doctors recommend—the ingredients in Anacin for fast relief! Here is why Anacin gives such superior pain-relief. Mere aspirin or even aspirin with buffering contains only one pain reliever. They have no special medication to relax your nervous tension. Anacin contains a number of medically proven ingredients, including special medication that not only relieves pain incredibly fast, but also relaxes tension and releases painful pressure on nerves. Anacin Tablets are safer, too. They have a smoother action and do not irritate or upset the stomach. Buy Anacin today!

Why ANACIN gives more complete PAIN-RELIEF

Most headaches are caused by tension that presses on nerves and results in headache pain. Tension headaches call for the special medication in Anacin. Unlike aspirin or buffered aspirin which contains only one pain reliever and has no special medication to relax tension—Anacin contains medication that (1) relaxes tension (2) releases pressure on nerves (3) relieves pain fast. That's why Anacin gives a better total effect—more complete pain relief.

FOR FAST,
FAST, FAST RELIEF!

My Favorite Golf Jokes

*An old pro at the game
and the gags
comes up with some advice destined to provide laughter on or off the links*

By BOB HOPE

WHEN MARK TWAIN said, "Humor is the good-natured side of any truth," he must have had in mind the amateur humorist you are bound to meet sooner or later on any golf course.

Like the game itself, there are certain rules the nonprofessional storyteller must follow. Keep them in mind, and you'll be the center of any spirited golf group.

As every golfer worth his par knows, the humor usually gets going on the 19th hole. Much of it is foolproof; much of it is just foolish. For instance, take the rough jokes based on brashness and familiarity that are often bright excuses for insults. Unless you are awfully good at this kind of humor, forget it.

Someone once said that it's no accident that the games men love are played by hitting something with a club, and are interesting because they present a matched contest, which is really a sublimated fight. This is too often true. Try and remember that camaraderie based on gamesmanship does not necessarily mean a free rein on insults disguised in jest.

Wit at the expense of another's way of playing, when it is personal, is usually cruel. Even if the victim has a quick comeback and seems to take the verbal rapier with a happy grin, don't rely on his being impervious to the wound. You wouldn't compete with a guy on the course until you sized him up. It's the same principle—don't tee off a round of jokes until you size up your audience and know their limits.

The art of amusing others may be pleasantly harmless, but it can be a tough job. It's true that people love a good laugh, and a sense of humor can save almost any situation from complete disaster. I'd be hard put to say when it's more appreciated than after a day of erratic putting. But, as Art Linkletter says: "Humor is a state of mind. It is also a state of digestion. Hangovers, ulcers, a bad cold, or a bit of fried fish can kill your sense of the ridiculous faster than you can tell the simplest joke."

To me, that remark provides the best basic lesson about wisecracking: whether on the golf course, in the clubhouse, or in the privacy of your own home, don't try to be funny when others are not in the mood for it!

A PART FROM the therapeutic values of golf for everyone, remember that golf also depends on your point of view—when you look at a sand trap from the tee, it looks like a few grains; when you're in it, it's Texas taking a deep breath.

It's all in the approach. Take the case of Mr. Brown, trying to stay calm before the crowd watching him at a tournament. He'd never played in a tournament before. After shading his eyes to gauge the distance

(Continued)