

Quick Approval of Lemnitzer as Head Of Military Seen

Washington - (UPI) - Early Senate approval was forecast today for President Eisenhower's appointment of Army Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer to be chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services committee, predicted the current pre-election session would act on the nomination "unless some very substantial opposition arises."

Distinguished Career

Eisenhower Monday sent to the Senate the nomination of the 60-year-old Lemnitzer, who has forged a distinguished Army career as both a military commander and negotiator.

Lemnitzer was named to a two-year term to succeed Air Force Gen. Nathan B. Twining, who is retiring presumably because of illness.

Eisenhower's choice of Lemnitzer came as no surprise. Lemnitzer had been expected eventually to succeed

Honesdale in northeastern Pennsylvania.

Although no retirement date was set for the 62-year-old Twining, he was expected to step down in a few weeks. Twining in a little more than a year has undergone operation for lung cancer and a ruptured appendix.

Shakeup Expected

The Lemnitzer appointment could signal a widespread shakeup in the military high command as the Eisenhower administration nears the end of its last term.

Speculation on a successor to Lemnitzer as Army chief of staff centered on Gen. George H. Decker, now vice chief. Also prominently mentioned is Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, Army research and development chief.

Another possible shift involves two Air Force general officers. One is Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, now Air Force vice chief of staff, who is expected to be promoted to chief of staff. The other is Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, now Air Force vice chief of staff, who is expected to be promoted to chief of staff.

Cable Television In Medford Topic Of Roundtable

Cable television will be available in Medford in the very near future, according to Everett Faber, vice president of the Oregon Broadcasting company.

Faber, speaking at the Monday noon Chamber of Commerce roundtable, said that final installations are being made at the "head end" of the cable system in the Medford hotel.

But, because of the technical difficulties involved, he made no estimate of when the signal would be available to individual set owners.

Essentially the cable is a "community antenna" system, Faber said. By the use of microwave relay it provides stations which would not ordinarily be received by Medford set owners.

The cable will carry three stations: Medford (CBS), Klamath Falls (ABC) and Roseburg (NBC). It will have a capacity of five channels.

No Portland stations have been included for largely commercial reasons, he said.

While the three smaller stations will provide all of the major networks, the exclusion of Portland stations was also "an effort on our part to protect the local businessman from the 'come-on' type of unethical advertising which we find in the metropolitan market," Faber said.

This cut-rate pricing for 'come-on' promotions might convey the wrong impression about local merchant's pricing.

Twining ever since he became Army vice chief of staff in 1957.

The new chairman of the Joint Chiefs is a native of Thomas D. White, now chief of staff, and Lauris Norstad, supreme commander in Europe. There are unofficial reports that Norstad may retire this year and be succeeded by White.

Man Locked in Cooler Hospitalized

Portland - (UPI) - Specialists worked intently at Good Samaritan Hospital here today to revive Martin J. Becker, owner of the Arrow Cafe in northwest Portland, after he was locked in a cooler at the cafe from 10 to 12 hours.

Police detectives were trying to determine if Becker was locked in accidentally or was the victim of assault and robbery. They said a considerable sum of money was missing from his usual hiding place, but they also said the cooler had a defective safety latch.

Becker was found unconscious, with his body numb, by Mrs. Glen Rhodes, a waitress.

Photographers To Be Barred From Powers' Trial

Moscow - (UPI) - The Soviet Union today barred foreign photographers and movie cameramen from attending the espionage trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers which begins Wednesday.

Tickets issued to western reporters carried the words "admittance without photographic and motion picture cameras."

It was not known whether Soviet photographers also would be kept out but it is the normal rule in Moscow not to permit them in court during trials.

Seated in Balcony

Newsmen will be seated in a balcony overlooking a stage in the newly decorated Hall of Columns in the House of Unions, about 200 yards from the Kremlin walls. The hall accommodates about 2,000 persons.

The Soviet press, except for a single cartoon in one newspaper, ignored the approaching trial today and concentrated on the city's first flower carnival this evening.

But a Moscow radio commentator said Monday night that on trial with Powers were "the imperialist circles of the United States, the inspirers of the aggressive foreign policy course of Washington."

Three Figures

The newspaper Soviet Culture carried a cartoon showing Powers seated on a court defendant's bench. Slightly above him were three figures representing the Pentagon, President Eisenhower, and a civilian American holding an atom bomb and nudging Powers forward.

The caption said: "Organizers of espionage to the dock."

An attorney for Mrs. Barbara Powers said he hoped to have another conference today with Mikhail Grinev, the Soviet lawyer appointed to defend Powers.

Portland - (UPI) - Two southwest Washington teen-agers were killed and six other persons injured in a truck-car accident here Monday.

The dead and injured all were in a car struck from the rear by a truck. Police said the car was crushed.

The victims were identified as Cathy Kasibe, 17, Stella Wash, and Rex G. Clark, 16, Longview, Wash.

Critically injured was the driver of the car, Joseph George Leppert, 39, Longview. Also injured was his wife, Mrs. Teresa M. Leppert, 39, and their three children, Joe, 11; Thomas, 7, and Pamela, 16, along with Robert W. Messneak, 17.

Police said the accident occurred when a truck driven by Leslie Walter Buckman, 25, Portland, hit the Leppert auto. The truck was fully loaded with plywood veneer.

The car was pushed forward into the back of a truck driven by Harold Clifton Spaur, also of Portland.

Harrisburg Brief Deadline Extended

Salem - (UPI) - The city of Harrisburg has been given additional time to file a brief in connection with Southern Pacific railroad's move to have the city's complaint against it dismissed.

The city has asked Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill to order the railroad company to place an automatic electric flashing light signal with gongs at the LaSalle st. railroad crossing at the railroad's expense.

Edwin L. Graham, Portland, counsel for the firm, said the crossing was one of three which was included in a PUC order handed down in 1951 which said costs of any future signalization would be borne equally by both parties.

At that time, he said, signalization at the crossing was not considered justified.

Multnomah Indicts Four for Burglary

Portland - (UPI) - The Multnomah county grand jury here Monday charged five Seattle men with burglary not in a dwelling in connection with a break-in July 21 at the Timberline Equipment Co.

And one of the men was also charged with publishing a forged bank check.

Indicted were George Davenport Latimer, 57; William Sylvester Board, 38; Earl William Jester, 34; Richard C. Stockman, 42; and Rudolph Harold Schmidt, 43. Latimer was also indicted on the bank check charge.

Shipwreck Survivor Dies in San Francisco

San Francisco - (UPI) - Capt. James A. Russell, 85, believed to have been the last survivor of San Francisco's most noted shipwreck, died Sunday at a rest home.

Russell was one of 80 persons rescued after the Pacific Mail liner Rio De Janeiro hit a reef and sunk outside the harbor on Feb. 22, 1901. He was quartermaster of the ship at the time. Another 131 persons went down with the liner which reportedly carried several million dollars in gold.

London, England - (UPI) - Frank Wharton, 27, admitted he was the thief Monday when an x-ray revealed a stolen ring in his stomach.

Senate on 12-Hour Work Day

Washington - (UPI) - The Democratic leadership put the Senate on a 12-hour work day today to speed action on a minimum wage bill. But Republican chieftains told President Eisenhower to expect the Democrats to "jettison" most of his legislative demands.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, his party's vice presidential candidate, said the long hours was a move to sidetrack political feuding on side issues and start voting on amendments to a bill to boost the $1 an hour minimum wage to $1.25.

But today's Senate session got off to a political start when Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) disclosed he is using a stopwatch to check on how much time Vice President Richard M. Nixon spends presiding over the Senate.

Young's report that Nixon was in the chamber 2 hours, 55 minutes and 40 seconds last week touched off an hour-long partisan squabble over absences of Nixon and his Democratic rival for the presidency, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

The House, which reconvened Monday, a week after the Senate, was forced by Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa), for the second day to adjourn without transaction of business.

Gross renewed his complaint that no quorum was present, and speaker Sam Rayburn banged his gavel to end the session after five minutes.

Funds Asked To Build USS Arizona Memorial

Washington - (UPI) - Sen. Hiram L. Fong (R-Hawaii) has called for Senate action on his bill proposing $200,000 for construction of a USS Arizona memorial at Pearl Harbor.

London - (UPI) - A local movie theater showing a nudist film is displaying this sign under its marquee: "It's hotter inside."
