

Pirates, Yankees Keep Winning; Baltimore Breaks Losing Streak

By GARY KALE
United Press International
The Milwaukee Braves hope that Lew Burdette's near-perfect no-hitter can fan a flickering spark into a blazing pennant drive.

Whether Burdette's brilliant performance can mobilize Milwaukee into overhauling Pittsburgh's 7 1/2 game lead depends on how the Braves react to the team's first no-hitter since Jim Wilson turned the trick in 1954.

If they do come back, it would rival the greatest recovery since the 1951 Giants trailed by 13 1/2 games in early August and went on to beat the Dodgers in a playoff series for the National League pennant.

Dick Stuart's pinch homer gave Pittsburgh a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati and Wally Moon's 13th inning homer enabled Los Angeles to edge Chicago, 4-3, in the other National League games.

The Yankees retained their 2 1/2 game lead in the American League by beating the Boston Red Sox, 11-7. Baltimore had an eight-run third inning to defeat Washington, 10-8, and go into a second place tie with Chicago as Cleveland topped the White Sox, 8-6, and Detroit downed Kansas City, 11-6.

Best Start at Bench
Stuart, who appears at his best after a benching session, belted his 14th homer for Pittsburgh in the eighth inning to give Vernon Law his 18th win.

Moon's 12th homer of the season offset two homers by rookie Ron Santo and one by Frank Thomas. Tommy Davis' single stretched his hitting streak to 18 consecutive games, longest Dodger skinn since 1958.

The Yankees, who have won four of their last six games by one run, rallied for six runs in the last two innings. Yogi Berra drove in three runs with a pair of doubles and a single and Clete Boyer hammered a two-run homer for New York.

Baltimore clustered six of its nine hits in the third inning outburst. Jackie Brandt and Ron Hansen each drove in two runs with singles in the eighth run rally.

Harvey Kuenn went 4-for-4 as Cleveland overcame a 6-1 Chicago lead by scoring five runs in the sixth inning and two more in the seventh. Ken Aspromonte highlighted the Indian sixth with a homer.

Rocky Colavito, Al Kaline and Norm Cash each homered to lead Detroit's 15-hit assault on three Kansas City pitchers. Kaline slammed four hits and Chico Fernandez three as Bud Daley took his 11th loss and the Tigers won their sixth in the last eight games.

DEFENDING CHAMPION — Grossinger, day. Playing in pouring down rain, defending champion Souchak fired a 69 for the first day's play.

St. Louis—UPI—Despite the pleasant atmosphere of third place, Manager Walt Alton could add a little melancholy mood of his own today to this city of the blues.

His pitching staff is ailing. "I don't know when Drysdale or Stan Williams will be ready to pitch," said Alton. "I'd rather lose every game from here on than do anything to hurt either of them."

Williams, enjoying one of the winningest years of his career, has missed a turn, but Alton hopes he'll be able to start Monday night when the touring Dodgers return to the Coliseum against the San Francisco Giants.

Williams has a sore right shoulder, and pitching coach Joe Becker said he has been holding back in warm-ups. Big Stan injured the shoulder in Cincinnati on Sunday.

Drysdale was hit on the line drive and he complained Thursday of a headache and stiff fingers. "If they can't pitch, they can't pitch," Alton said. "If they're not ready to take their regular turns we'll just have to feel our way along until they can."

The Dodgers defeated Chicago at Wrigley Field Thursday, 4-3, with Wally Moon bashing a home run in the top of the 13th to provide the winning margin and put the club into third place ahead of St. Louis.

Sandy Koufax, a perfectly healthy Los Angeles hurler, won in relief and he's now 6-8 for the 1960 season. He replaced Ed Roebuck in the 11th inning. Roebuck had replaced starter Roger Craig after Craig had been lifted in the sixth inning for a pinch-hitter.

The loss went to the Cubs' Herschel Freeman, who is now 3-2. The Dodgers will send Johnny Podres (10-8) to the mound tonight in the Cardinals' Busch Stadium to face Larry Jackson (13-10).

Rising Costs Pose Olympic Problems

By HERBERT G. SPENCER
United Press International
Rome — The committee which guides the fortunes of the world's oldest and biggest sport program — the Olympics — met today just six days before the 1960 games with three burning topics on the agenda.

Facing the International Olympic committee meeting were: — A Russian proposal for reorganization which IOC Secretary General Avery Brundage said threatens the independence of his committee and perhaps the very future of the games.

— A demand for a more workable definition of who is an amateur athlete eligible to compete in the Olympics and who is a professional and thus ineligible.

— A state of alarm over the mushrooming costs and complexities of the once-every-four-years games.

The first two topics were getting only a brief going-over. No decision will be taken on them during the 1960 games, Brundage said.

The third, the cost and size of the Olympics, appeared a more pressing issue. "We could see it coming," Brundage told United Press International. "The question of rising costs and expanding participation did not arise in Melbourne because we were thousands of miles away from most nations."

"Now, however, it is almost getting critical. "We have assigned the IOC as a committee of the whole to observe the Rome Olympics with an eye to a solution," Brundage said.

Immensely Builds Up
The IOC secretary general said the immensity of the modern Olympics had been building up since World War II, with expanding interest in sports all over the world.

"We have decided that we should seek means to reduce the cost and the size of the Olympics," he said. "The IOC members will watch these games here to see how it can be done — in organization, management, teams and athletes participating and expense to the organizing committee as well as to the host country."

Brundage said the placing of more of the financial burden on the host country could go only so far. "Italy has spent a lot," he said, "but they are getting a great deal of permanent physical improvements in housing, in traffic, in the looks of the city."

"Australia got a lot for what it spent — the Melbourne Olympics brought Australia into the world. "But we can't expect the host nation to bear much more of the cost," Brundage said. "This would restrict the Olympics to the big cities — and the Olympics belong to the world."

Lloyd Morris, of the Fish Lake resort, said today that fishing at Fish Lake is "still very good," and it is picking up at Willow Lake.

Contrary to what some people have been told, Morris said, the road into the lake by Butte Falls "is in very good shape."

Moon Homer Sparks LA Dodger Victory

St. Louis—UPI—Despite the pleasant atmosphere of third place, Manager Walt Alton could add a little melancholy mood of his own today to this city of the blues.

Hebert Ties Campbell In First Round

St. Paul —UPI—Veteran Lionel Hebert and newcomer Joe Campbell carried two stroke leads into the second round of the $30,000 St. Paul Open today.

Their slim advantages were obtained by a pair of blazing rounds of 32-32-64, eight under par, over the par 36-36-72 Keller golf course.

The rounds were only two strokes over the course record of 62, held by defending champion Mike Souchak, George Bayer and Lloyd Mangrum.

Nine Birdies
Herbert, who won the PGA title in 1957, the last year it was a match play tournament, posted his 64 on the strength of nine birdies. He had one bogey.

Campbell, 24-year-old former NCAA golf champion, who is still searching for his first victory as a touring professional, had seven birdies and an eagle three on the 510-yard 12th hole where he dropped a 20-footer. He slipped over par once.

A steady rain most of the morning softened the greens allowing the players to pitch for the pins without fear of bouncing into trouble. As a result, 65 of the 147 starters broke par.

Knotted at 66, two strokes off the lead, were Dr. Cary Middlecoff, 1952 St. Paul champion and former National Cup winner; Gary Player, onetime British Open champion; Don Fairfield, Jacksonville, Ill.; Billy Casper, 1959 National Open titlist and Frank Wharton, Dallas, Tex.

Tommy Bolt, victor in the 1955 St. Paul Open, carded a 67 and was tied with three others including Jerry Barber, Los Angeles.

Sam Sneed, one of the pre-tournament favorites and the event's leading money winner, shot 68 and was tied with several other players.

RVCC Ladies Nab League Second Spot
Rogue Valley Country club ladies took second place in the Willamette Valley-Southern Oregon Women's Golf association competition as the result of their showing at the association's last tournament of the year in Bend Wednesday.

The RVCC women ended up with a score of 943 for the year. In first place was Laurelwood Country club of Eugene with a score of 928, and in third place was the Eugene Country club with a score of 946.

Teams use the scores in their best three out of the four matches during the year in arriving at their total scores. Mrs. Ray Frisbie was the only local winner at the Bend tourney, shooting a first low net of 79 in the Class A division.

The RVCC team was comprised of Mrs. Frisbie, Mrs. Robert DeLorme, Mrs. William Cowling, Mrs. Frank Tamney and Mrs. Russ Achenso.

Two Bend women tied for low gross score at the Bend tourney with identical cards of 87. They were Mrs. J. Barlow and Miss Mary Pat Moty.
