

NEW STORE FRONT—Two modern store fronts have taken the place of the old M and M Department store on Main st. in Medford. The new fronts, belonging to Andy's and Parker Woods Leons, are of stone and an interesting optical tile. The tiles are so laid that they give the effect of three dimensional blocks. Parker Woods Leons, which opened Thursday, also has an entrance facing toward the Park and Shop lot in the rear.

INTERIOR—The inside of the new Parker Woods Leons women's shop, Medford, is as modernistic as the front. Unique hanging lights, light fixtures and open display windows give an appearance of spaciousness to the store. Side racks also contribute to this open effect. Beverly Bush (left) and Jeanne Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Woods, are shown looking over the new fall stock.

Two New Stores In Downtown Area Hold Openings

Three modern new store fronts have appeared on Main st. in downtown Medford. Two of those stores held their openings Thursday.

The two stores which opened Thursday are the John Nuich Credit Jewelers, 231 East Main st., and Parker Woods Leons, next door to Andy's Jewelers, also on Main st.

Andy's plans to hold its opening in September.

John Nuich, manager of the credit jewelers, has been in Medford for the past five years. Following his service with the Marines in World War II, he spent ten years with a large credit jewelry firm.

One of the interesting items about the new store is the corrugated acoustical tile that has been used for the ceiling. Nuich says that he thinks that this is the first time it has been used in southern Oregon.

Parker Woods is both an older and newer resident of Medford than Nuich. Woods opened the Leon's store here in Medford in 1945.

When the Leon's chain broke up, about four years ago, he purchased the Medford store.

Former M and M Building

Now the store has moved to the building which once housed the M and M department store. Woods said that everything possible has been done to make the store spacious and airy.

One of the most practical features, he said, is the park and shop lot in the rear. An entrance and display window front on the lot.

This entrance in the rear is a feature that more of the stores will adopt, he said.

The new store carries a full line of fall women's wear. The old store on Central ave. will remain open for the summer clearance sale, Woods said.

The store, which opened Thursday, features fine jewelry which may be paid for on terms. One of the interesting decorator features of the store is the use of peg board both in the ceiling and walls.

Applying Target of Sweetland Charges

Salem—UPD—State Sen. Monroe Sweetland, Democrat from Milwaukie, has entered the county coroner controversy with charges that Republican Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. had been "inefficient, tardy, and bungling as usual" in administering county coroner election laws.

Sweetland, who is Appling's Democratic opponent for secretary of state, said if Appling had acted sooner, "the people of 21 counties would not have been deprived of their right to nominate the
