St. Paul—After four years of heartbreak and frustration, Don Fairfield finally won another golf tournament. And he did it big here Sunday, capturing the $30,000 St. Paul Open with a 22-under-par 72-hole total of 266, the best score shot on the circuit this year.

Fairfield hadn't won a tournament since taking the Peninsula Open in March, 1956. He fired a steady five-under-par 67 in the finale to win the tournament here by two strokes.

In the past, Fairfield has led other tournaments going into the final round, but he has always failed to capture the title. It was different Sunday. Asked about what had almost become an obsession with him—getting beat after leading a tournament—Fairfield said: "This was different. I had a co-leader this time. There was somebody else that could lose besides me."

The one who lost was Lionel Hebert who had shared the lead after each of the first three rounds. Hebert, the last of the PGA match game champions, shot a respectable 69 for a 72-hole total of 268, 20 under par.

Billy Casper closed with a sensational 64 to gain the tie for runner-up honors.

Sam Sneed, who first won the St. Paul Open in 1937, finished with a 64 and a total of 270 to land high among the leaders.

Hansen Homer Gives Orioles Win; Cincinnati Tames Pittsburgh 8-4

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press International

They keep touting home run-hitting Ron Hansen as the rookie of the year but he may go whole hog and wind up with the American league's most valuable player award.

If he does, the spectacular 22-year-old Baltimore shortstop will become the first rookie in major league history ever to be voted the MVP distinction.

A lot depends on whether or not the Orioles win the pennant, of course. Hansen is doing more than his share in that department too.

He helped boost them with 1 1/2 games of first place Sunday with his 19th homer that turned out to be the winning run in a 10-4 victory over the Red Sox. Hansen, who has led 25 pounds since the season started, has accounted for eight of the 30 homers the Orioles have hit in their last 17 games.

Dead Without Him
The lanky shortstop also has driven in 71 runs so far and manager Paul Richards frankly confesses, "Without him we'd be dead."

Gus Triandos got the Orioles out in front Sunday with a fourth inning grand slam homer off loser Ike Delock and Hansen's sixth inning smash proved the clincher.

The victory moved the Orioles into a second-place tie with the White Sox, who lost an 8-1 decision to the Athletics. The Senators defeated the first-place Yankees, 7-4, to move into fourth place while the Tigers ran their winning streak to six games with a pair of 6-4 victories over the fading Indians.

In the National league, the Reds beat the Pirates, 8-4, and the Braves climbed to within 6 1/2 games of first place with a 3-2 decision over the Phillies. The Cardinals blanked the Dodgers, 2-0, and the Cubs beat the Giants, 5-3, in the opener of a doubleheader, then lost the nightcap by the same score.

Herbert Stops Chisox
Ray Herbert enabled the A's to snap a 10-game losing streak when he held the White Sox to three hits.

Kansas City rapped loser Bob Shaw and four relievers for 17 hits, including homers by Andy Carey and Bill Tuttle.

Harmon Killebrew, Jim Lemon and Bob Allison, Washington's "big three," all hit homers against the Yankees. Lemon's 29th homer with one on in the eighth off loser Bobby Shantz broke a 4-4 tie.

Rookie Cliff Cook, Vada Pinson and Wally Poff each hit homers in Cincinnati's win over Pittsburgh. Post's homer was a pinch two-run blast in the eighth after Dick Stuart had narrowed the Reds' margin to 6-4 with his second homer of the game in the top half of the frame.

Spahn Wins 15th
South paw Warren Spahn achieved his 15th victory for the Braves with a four-hit effort against the Phils. Eddie Mathews and Johnny Logan each hit homers but Milwaukee's margin of victory was Hank Aaron's sacrifice fly in the eighth.

Ernie Broglio also won his 15th for the Cardinals although Lindy McDaniel relieved him in the eighth to preserve the victory over the Dodgers. Bob Nieman homered off Sandy Koufax in the fourth and Ken Boyer doubled home the Cards' final run in the eighth.

Moe Thacker drove in the tie-breaking run for the Cubs in their opening game win over the Giants as Glenn Hobbie registered his 12th victory.

Andre Rodgers won the nightcap for the Giants when he hit his first homer of the year, a three-run poke off loser Mark Freeman, in the sixth inning.

Ex-Champs-Seek Repeat Wins at SO Tournament

Eddie Simmons and Mrs. Helen Davies, of the host Rogue Valley Country club, will aim for their seventh and eighth championships, respectively, when the 32nd annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is held here over the Labor Day holidays.

Six-times titlist Simmons is among 19 linksmen who have claimed men's division diamonds. Seven-times winner Mrs. Davies is among five champions who have been crowned since women's play was instituted as an annual part of the tourney in 1947. She took top prize each time from that year through 1953.

Simmons' last toga was won in 1949. His other titles came in 1934, 1936, 1939 and 1944. Only four other men have gained the championship more than once, Dick Hanen, Coos Bay, was a four-time winner, copping the trophies in 1940, 1941, 1946 and 1947. Bob Atkinson, Portland, the reigning Oregon amateur champ, took the Southern Oregon three times, in 1951 and 1952 and again in 1955.

Tourney Founder
Crown-wearers twice were the late Bob Hammond, Medford, and Hubert B. Bentley, Hammond won the first Southern Oregon with his triumph in 1929 and was champ again in 1931. The tourney's medalist trophy honors Hammond. Bentley, then of Ashland, was champion in 1935 and 1937.

Founder of the Southern Oregon, the late Don Clark, won in 1930. He was tourney chairman in his victory year.

Other men's titleholders have been Les Leal, Eugene, in 1932; Henry Pringle, Medford, in 1933; nationally known Robert (Skeel) Regal, Glendale, Calif., in 1942; Legend (Pete) Clark, Medford, in 1943; Pete Scheffick, U. S. Army, Camp White, in 1945; Harvey Hixson, Eugene, in 1948; George Harrington, Medford (now of Phoenix, Ariz.) in 1950; Skip Nagler, Eugene, in 1953; Dom Provost Jr., Ashland, in 1954; Rod Funseth, Spokane, Wash., in 1956; Phil Getchell, Medford (now in Brazil) in 1957; Lynn Creason, Harrisburg, Pa. (now of Las Vegas, Nev.), in 1958, and Bob Prall, Salem, in 1959.

Miss Martin Wins in '59
Miss Sue DeVoe, Medford, won in 1954 as the women's reign of Mrs. Davies ended. Sue took the laurels again in 1958. Miss Carole Jo Kabler, Southerlin, also was twice the ladies' victor. She was champ in 1955 and 1956. Mrs. Marg Filis, Salt Lake City, Utah, was 1957 champion. Miss Betty Martin, Longview, Wash., grabbed the prize last year.

FREE FOR ALL—An exhibition football game between the professional San Francisco 49ers and the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday was rudely interrupted when some 80 players from both teams rushed onto the field and engaged in a free for all battle. Game referees have been criticized for not taking steps to prevent the melee. Above, the Eagles' Ed Khayat (73) reaches out to select his opponent in the person of 49er's Fred Williamson (89). San Francisco won the game but reportedly lost the fight. —(UPI Telephoto)
