Group To Dispose Of Housing Project

Washington—Rep. Walter Norblad, (R-Ore.) said Thursday that the Navy department proposes to let the General Services Administration dispose of the Defense Rental Housing project in Tillamook.

The Oregon congressman said the Navy has no present or planned requirement for the project and no known defense requirement has developed.

The site, which covers 5.4 acres with a 12 acre sanitary sewer easement, has 14 apartment type buildings with 60 units.

General Electric's Shopping List Could Be Mistaken for Ledger Kept by Housewife

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD UPI Financial Editor

New York—UPI—General Electric Co.'s $2 billion shopping list for materials and supplies at times could be mistaken for a housewife's ledger.

Baby diapers, milk of magnesia, shortening and emery boards were among the items GE purchasing agents went to market for last year the same way they did for condensers and steel castings.

Surprise Items The diapers were used for cleaning sensitive instruments involved in missile work, while the milk of magnesia and shortening came in handy as lubricants for precision machine parts. The emery boards used by the better-half in keeping her nails in trim were employed by GE in filling down gear contours.

There were other items on the list that made the purchasing agents seem more like they were getting ready for a birthday party or a Fourth of July celebration. These included toy balloons, soda straws, popsicle sticks, and roman candles.

The toy balloons were used in processing ceramics, the popsicle sticks for mixing glue, and the soda straws for packaging rod magnets. As for the roman candles, they proved effective in discouraging flocks of pigeons from congregating around the company's facilities in Schenectady, N.Y.

Still other unusual items that popped up on the giant electrical manufacturer's shopping list were dental cement to measure vibrations in electronic equipment; a dozen goldfish for the pond at the Waterford, N.Y. plant; and a sixteen inch battleship cannon once used on the U.S.S. Colorado.

GE explained that the cannon is used as a hydrostatic pressure chamber in which refractory metals, such as molybdenum, are converted from powders to solids. These refractory metals are used in missiles because of their high melting points and excellent temperature characteristics.

Large and Small The largest items on the list were the antenna reflectors purchased for use in the ballistic missile early warning system. These reflectors are 165 feet high, 400 feet long, and weigh about three million pounds each.

Among the smallest items bought during the year were eyelets—6,800 pieces to the pound—for hair dryers, and tiny fastening pins—weighing .0000366 pound each—used in electric clocks.

A long more conventional line, GE said it probably is the largest industrial purchaser of plastics in the world, and is one of the three largest consumers of copper.

The company estimated that some 85 to 88 per cent of its 45,000 suppliers are small businesses. About one-half of its total expenditures, or about $1 billion annually, goes to these small suppliers.

BEST TIME OF YEAR TO BUY!! THE YEAR'S BEST SELLER

CHEVROLET

You couldn't pick a better time to buy your new Chevrolet (or Corvair) than right now when more people are buying them than ever before. Chances are good you're going to like what Chevy's got just as much as everybody else. (Especially the money you'll save.) Check your dealer on the details while there's still a wide choice of models.

CHEVY'S CORVAIR THE YEAR'S AWARD-WINNINGEST CAR

Corvair—already proud winner of Motor Trend magazine's Car-of-the-Year award for engineering advancement—now walks away with another one: the coveted Industrial Designers Institute Gold Medal. The award was presented to William L. Mitchell, General Motors vice president in charge of Styling Staff, in recognition of Corvair's "finely scaled proportions and with a minimum of ornamentation." These two top awards make Corvair the most honored car of the year. And your Chevy dealer's waiting to show you it's everything the experts say it is. For Economical Transportation
