

TO HONOR STUDENT — Miss Mildred Gail, who spent the past year studying in France and traveling in Europe, recently returned to Gold Hill to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Norman Gail. Miss Gail, a foreign language student specializing in Russian, will be guest speaker at the Gold Hill Community Methodist church Sunday at 11 a.m. She will be honored at a coffee to be given by the Woman's society following the worship hour. Miss Gail was graduated from the University of Washington and studied abroad under a grant from Rotary International.

Hornbrook Lacks Primary Teacher

By KATHERINE CHAPMAN
Mail Tribune Correspondent
Hornbrook — With the fall term of school scheduled to begin next Monday, Hornbrook still is short one teacher. Principal Harley Baker has been in Palo Alto, Calif., for the past week attending a conference of the California Teachers' association and making every effort to obtain a teacher.

Needed is a first and second grade teacher to replace Mrs. Rachel Martin, who was forced to resign because of health reasons.
Currently on the staff besides Baker are Mrs. Ruth Cummins and Ronald Rhodes. Attendance at the local grammar school is expected to surpass all previous records. Cause of this increase is the number of families who have moved into the community since the beginning of Copco's Iron Gate dam project on the Klamath river.

Entrants Listed For HC Boat Race

By BETTY REEDEY
Mail Tribune Correspondent
Happy Camp—Harold Guilt and Albert Reeder, both employed by Siskiyou Mills at Happy Camp, have paid their entrance fee for the annual boat race to be held Sept. 4 and 5 by the Happy Camp Lions club.
Tom Colburn, employed by Dan Girdner, Yreka, has also entered the contest. His partner will be Morris E. Wood, employed by Shasta Gas Co., Yreka.
From Trinidad, Calif., John Walker and Jerry Patterson have sent in their entry.
Rich Chambers of Salem, Oregon, has also entered. He has experience on the San Juan, Colorado, Green, Snake, Salmon, Rogue and McKenzie rivers.
Some entrants have had experience boating in white waters, others have not. The Klamath claims lives yearly because of its swiftness and whirlpools. Four lives have been lost this year in the Happy Camp area alone.
A total of $600 in prizes is offered, plus spot prizes at Walker bridge and Seiad bridge. The race is on a lapse time basis, with boats starting at three minute intervals. The first lap will be run Sept. 4, starting at 7 a.m. on the Swallows campground, a one-half mile above the Yreka bridge.
The second lap will be from Happy Camp to Clear creek, starting at 9 a.m., Sept. 5.
Applications for entrance will be received until 5 p.m., Sept. 1, by George Walters, Box 125, Happy Camp, Calif.

RANCH LAND LEVELED
Yreka—Norman Sears has leveled 50 acres of wet meadow on his Little Shasta ranch. Lloyd Roberts of Grenada has leveled 18 acres and has seeded it to new pasture. The W Bar H ranch on the Copco road has leveled 16 acres and seeded it to permanent pasture.

Happy Camp Hires Two PE Instructors
Happy Camp — Two new teachers have been hired at the Happy Camp High school according to Jim Foote, principal. Robert Hokenson of Minnesota will replace Robert Krough who resigned last year.
Hokenson is 24 years old, single and a graduate of the University of North Dakota. He will be a coach and teach social studies and physical education.
The other teacher is Mrs. Grayce Stuckey from Cloverdale, Calif.
She will teach home economics and girls' physical education. Her husband is a teacher at the elementary school here.
Foote also said that the contractors are putting up the fences around the campus. As soon as this is finished the turf will be planted.
Foote said he expects the enrollment to be around 145 this year. At the end of school in June the enrollment was 132 students.

Eagle Point Schools Will Open Sept. 6
Eagle Point — Eagle Point schools, which include Eagle Point high school, Eagle Point grade school, the Elk-Trail grade school and the Shady Cove grade school, will open Sept. 6 at the regular time for a full day of school.
Buses will operate on the regular schedule and school cafeterias will be open, school officials said.
The Eagle Point grade school will hold a pre-school registration for all Eagle Point first grade students on Aug. 30 from 9 to 12 a.m. in the grade school cafeteria.
All pupils beginning the first grade must be six years old by Nov. 15 or have successfully completed a readiness examination, and must bring a birth certificate and physical examination slip.
The form for the physical examination can be obtained from the Jackson county health office.
All teachers of the Eagle Point school system will report Aug. 31 to Sept. 2 for an inservice program.

Regional Calendar
Eagle Point — Carpenters, block layers, ditch diggers and all types of laborers are urged to come out and help with the Scout Community building at 8 a.m., Saturday morning, for an all-day work day. The committee hopes to have the beams completed this week end and to get the entire building completed before bad weather sets in. Potluck dinner is at 12:30 p.m.

Tablets

By R. E. NEALON

Table Rock—Well, here we are writing the Tablets after telling you that Bessie would do it this week as far as we knew. But we didn't know far enough to know that Bessie's tummy was going to act up. Dr. Inskip said this is a common complaint during the month of August. The doctor was out Saturday evening to get a few cans, but wouldn't buy any sweet corn. Said he was watching his weight. With people putting corn on the restricted list and so many women afraid to eat bread, it's no wonder we have a surplus of corn and wheat. We feel like talking this up with Ezra and see if he can't do something about it.

Ray Wyatt, our country store operator, recently received a citation from Tide-water Oil Co. for 21 years of outstanding service as a dealer. Ray, with his eyes to the skies, saw the satellite, Echo, pass over twice Saturday night. When he figured that it is some 25,000 miles around the world, it seemed to him he was getting nowhere, might even be backing up.

Orville Hamilton, manager of the Modoc Orchards, a patient of the Rogue Valley hospital, with two broken bones in the lower left leg caused by a fall while crossing a bridge over the irrigation canal near his home, is reported doing fine.

We note that there have been more indecent exposure cases lately in this area, according to the press than ever before. We wonder just how little, or how much clothes one can wear to qualify as a decent or indecent exposure.

Bob Humphrey from the Beagle district was a business visitor here Thursday. He says the land business is flourishing in his neighborhood with building lots going like hotcakes.

Roy Kyle, the Medford carpenter, was out this way Wednesday doing a ditch cleaning job.

A gentleman whom we did not know, stopped at our house the other day and looked at the old pine tree. He said, "So you'll have to cut down the old pine tree." We wondered how he knew about the tree, since he was recently from California, until he said that he read about it in the Tablets.

Janice Buntun from Carson City, Nev., has been visiting at the Everett Brown home for the past week. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Loty, who formerly lived on Pumice lane. Janice reports they are well and send best wishes to all their former neighbors.

A group of local residents, including Mr. and Mrs. Ray

Doran and granddaughter, Tamara, Fred Smith, Miss Patsy Striplin, Miss Grace Bigham, Leslie Bigham, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Brown and daughter, Glenna and their house guest, Janice Buntun, motored to Gold Beach. They took an excursion trip on the Rogue river to Agness and back via the U.S. mail boat. All reported a most enjoyable time.

Jack Peck, local boy and member of the Central Point 4-H club, exhibited what proved to be a grand champion Hereford at the recent 4-H and FFA fair. Also, his sister, Jill, was fourth in her class for the heavyweight market steer.
Glenna Brown had the champion exhibit in home living and several members of Mrs. Frank Myers' 4-H club living in other districts were winners of ribbons.

F. J. Clifford's communication in a recent issue of the MT about the Grange picnic caused us to remember a discussion about crack pot writers that took place at the Grange picnic.

Clifford said that someone asked Bob Ruhl why he published letters sent in by that crank Pat Clifford. Ruhl told him that these letters carried more weight than he knew of and were necessary to balance the paper, so we agreed that since they were necessary we would get on the bandwagon and give them more rope.

Since then, John Byrne, who was in the group, has come through with a nice poem, and Clifford has really done himself proud in putting on overalls, rolling up his sleeves and going to the country. His description of the joys and pleasures of farm life and the stern realities of having it meet increasing expenses with decreasing receipts give a true picture of our situation. This paragraph in his letter takes it out of any crack pot.

With the steady lessening take of their share of the consumers dollar, relief must be had somewhere if the farmer and stockman are to remain solvent, for somehow, somehow, taxes and insurance must be paid. We like this so well, we are going to put it in our scrap book.

An old newspaper, torn and yellow with age, found by the Pierces in the attic of their house, is an issue of the Medford Daily Tribune of Friday, March 12, 1900. The paper is in small pieces, but we could make out that Carl Vonder-Hellen of Wellin, was a Medford visitor and the fruit growers had decided to pool their 1900 crop and some store was advertising ladies long-sleeved lightweight cotton vests for 25 cents each. Vests, we thought, were only for men.

Llennis and Debbie Richardson are spending their vacation with Gramps and Grandma and Auntie Sis and Uncle Emmitt.

Thought for the day: WATCH YOUR STEP.

Happy Camp PTA Set Teachers' Tea

Happy Camp — The executive board of the Happy Camp PTA met Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the elementary school. President Mrs. Lloyd Westby introduced her new committee chairmen: Mrs. Earl Cooley, membership chairman; Mrs. Bill Clapson, auditor; Mrs. Clinton Heiler, parliamentary, and Mrs. Edward Kemppl, ways and means chairman, with Mrs. Norman Herman and Mrs. Marvin Sutcliffe as her assistants.

It was decided that the teachers' tea would be held the first day of school at 3 p.m. in the elementary multipurpose room. The executive board will serve under the direction of the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Clifford Gould and Mrs. Floyd Cantrell.

Discussion followed whether to have a turkey shoot instead of having the carnival. The board suggested that the ways and means chairman, Mrs. Kemppl contact W. H. Strait, game warden, to find a place where a shoot could be held.

She was also asked to contact poultry houses for prices of the birds so that all information could be ready for the next PTA meeting.

TEACHER HIRED
Tiller-Drew — Mrs. Oscar Ostlund of Ashland has been hired by District 15 to teach the third grade. Mrs. Ostlund completes the teaching staff of the Days Creek school.

EP Can Raise Enough Money For Sewage Lagoon System

By DOTTIE HARBISON
Mail Tribune Correspondent
Eagle Point — Eagle Point has enough money to put in the sewage lagoon system if they want it, according to attorney Gregg Hornecker.
In answer to the question, "How will we pay for it?" Hornecker stated that we have already received $11,000 from the H.H.F.A., and will receive $29,130 from the Oregon state sanitation, $150,000 from the bond election, $40,000 from the Bancroft bond procedure and $3,000 from assessments. This totals to approximately $233,000, which almost equals the exact estimated cost figures given by the engineering firm of Clarke and Groff.
Clark presented the following estimated figures for the various sewage projects: excavation, $35,000; pipe, $51,500; wyes (275 of which will serve a population of 900) $2,000; manholes, $17,000; miscellaneous gravel and paving, $12,000; siphon across the creek, $2,500; contingencies (which includes the engineering inspection, etc.), $17,858; cost of the lagoon treatment, $72,000; lagoon, $64,000; and service connections from the trunk to the property lines, $21,000; with the bond discount and legal fees making a total of $233,000 in all.
There would be an approximate $70,000 difference in favor of the lagoon system over the mechanical plant, according to Clarke. Clarke also stated that the above estimates were designed to allow for annexation to the city and an eight inch pipe. At present the City of Eagle Point has 732 residents and going by the past growth scale we should have about 12,000 within the next 20 or 30 years.
