Heglers Return Home From Colorado Visit

Happy Camp - Mrs. Clinton Hegler and children have just returned to Happy Camp from Durango, Colo., where they have spent the summer with Mr. Hegler, who is working there. Mrs. Hegler brought the children home to enroll in school here. The family plans to move to Colorado next year if Mr. Hegler continues to work there.

Winners In Contest Announced

Three teenage seamstresses, Miss Anne Haviland and Miss Donna Collins, Medford, and Miss Bonnie Goehring, Eagle Point, took top honors in the first round of the $130,000 Singer Young Stylemaker contest.

Judging of local entries took place at Hedrick Junior High school before an audience of relatives and friends. The three girls received fitted sewing cases as prizes and their entries will be forwarded to Seattle for regional judging.

Miss Haviland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haviland, 125 White Oak drive, took the "Misses and Mrs." first prize with a shirtwaist dress of shag bark plaid in the new plum shade. Miss Goehring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edge, Eagle Point, won in the "Teen" division with a light blue wool suit with novelty set-in pockets and a straight skirt.

Miss Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Collins, 3486 Hollywood avenue, was the winner in the "Tween" division with a royal blue wool dress with round neckline and pleated skirt, accented with a polkadot taffeta scarf at the neck.

Sixty-five models took part in the contest. Ninety were enrolled in the Singer sewing course. Mrs. Geneva Neill conducts the course for the firm.

Anniversary Celebrated By Couple

Grants Pass - Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Richardson, 1130 NE D street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Sunday at a family dinner. The Richardsons were married August 14, 1910, in Edgerton, Ohio, and came to the Rogue valley in 1934 after farming in the Rio Grande valley in southern Texas.

Mr. Richardson operated a service station at Talent and later was employed at the Medford post office. In Grants Pass he has been a mail carrier and currently is on the Murphy Stage route. Mr. Richardson will soon retire after 22 years of service.

Attending the dinner were the couple's two sons and three daughters and their families. They are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Richardson and children, Barbara Sue, Buck and Judy, Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richardson and sons, Bill and Jack, Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Otis (Rose Mae) Medard and son, Leon, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Betty Lou) Lowe and children, Linda and Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Helen Gene) Lehman and children, Roy, Bobby and Patti Gene, all of Grants Pass.

Others attending were a granddaughter of the couple, Mrs. Alton (Mary Lou) Hendrix, Mr. Hendrix and sons, Bill and Mike, Gold Beach; a niece of Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Arlen (Dione) Towers, Mrs. Towers and son, Scott, Berkeley, Calif.; and Mrs. Cora Robinson, Grants Pass.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Richardson, former residents of Medford and Talent, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary August 14 with a family dinner at their home in Grants Pass. Mr. Richardson will retire soon after 22 years as a postman.

Senior Center Orchestra Re-Schedules Concert

The Senior Activity Center orchestra will give its public concert in the Medford Library park Thursday afternoon, September 1, at 3 o'clock. The date has been changed from the evening in order that weather conditions will make the concert available to more people. Many have shown interest in this group, which plays old-time music as well as other types.

The concert is sponsored by the Rogue Valley Council on Aging with the cooperation of the Medford park and recreation commission, which has provided the band stand, seating and sound equipment. Puckett Music House is providing the piano.

Roscoe Roberts, Grange leader and member of the RVCA executive board, will act as master of ceremonies. Edward Root is director of the orchestra, which practices every Thursday at the Senior center, 601 East Jackson street. An interesting and varied program including some duets and solos has been arranged, he reported.

Members of the orchestra include Edward Root, Bliss Heine, C. E. Naffziger and James Briggs, violins; Mrs. Francis Barret, D. E. Wilson and Mrs. Anna Divert, gui-

Cotley College, And Sisterhood Plan Seminar

Mrs. E. L. Bartholomew, 2635 Hillcrest road, and Mrs. Jerry Greenman, 2120 East Main street, plan to attend the Cotley college-PEO Sisterhood seminar on the Nevada, Mo., campus September 7-9. Mrs. Bartholomew is second vice-president of the Oregon state chapter, PEO.

Some 450 members of the sisterhood will attend the seminar, including members of state boards and area and chapter chairmen from 37 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. A two-day public relations seminar will highlight the program of the college, which is supported by the philanthropic educational organization.

The school, founded in 1884 by Virginia Alice Cotley Stockard, has PEO since and supported by PEO since 1927, when the group accepted the college as a gift from the founder.

It has an enrollment capacity of 350 students and a campus valued at more than $3 million. It has been called the "college of world friendship" because of its program of accepting students from outside the United States.

Mrs. Ruth W. Rippey, Phoenix, Ariz., first vice-president of the supreme chapter, PEO, will preside at the seminar. Among speakers will be Dr. Blanche H. Dow, president of Cotley college, and Mrs. Margaret Emily Stoner, Greencastle, Ind., president of the supreme chapter.
