Phone Progress Theme of Exhibit

Progress in telephoning, past, present and future, is the theme of Pacific Telephone-Northwest's exhibit at the Oregon State Fair at Salem from Sept. 2 through 10.

Visitors to the exhibit will see a replica of the first telephone invented by Alexander Graham Bell, according to Manager J. H. Creager.

Today's most modern telephone – the Princess phone – will also be on display. Designed by Bell Telephone Laboratories and manufactured by Western Electric company, this little and lovely phone that lights up at night is now available to Pacific Telephone-Northwest customers in Oregon.

Looking into the future, visitors to the telephone company's exhibit will view "phones for the space age" now being designed and tested by Bell System scientists. Included in these "telephones for tomorrow" is a picture-phone system.

Other sections of the exhibit feature binaural sound" –the finest form of sound reproduction, researched in part by telephone scientists – and also a system allowing persons to record and hear their "telephone voice."

Girl Arrested on Auto Theft Charge

A 15-year-old Medford girl was arrested Thursday afternoon on an auto theft charge and placed in protective custody after a driving spree through downtown Medford which ended in an accident, according to police.

Police received a report about 2 p.m. Thursday from Clark Jay Walker, 606 Whitman place, Medford, that his car had just been stolen by a girl from the bridge near Hawthorne park. Minutes later, an officer was dispatched to investigate an auto on the lawn of the city park at Main and Holly sts.

According to police reports, the teen-ager had seen the keys in the 1960 vehicle and decided to go for a ride. A 13-year-old friend had tried to stop her, and refused to assist her, police said. After several attempts, the youth managed to start the car, and proceeded west on Main st.

Police said she lost control of the car at West Main and Holly sts., when it hit a large shrub in the library park. The driver suffered a broken nose, and later was released to her mother pending action by juvenile authorities.

Computer Designed For Airborne Use

Baltimore (Science Service) –A fast military computer has been developed for airborne use. It occupies only six and a half cubic feet, or the equivalent of a table model television set, and is completely transistorized.

The speedy new data processor has application to "fire control, space guidance, navigation and electronic counter measures control," Dr. Patrick Conley of Westinghouse Electric corporation's air arm division here said.

Applied to multiple target-tracking-systems, the computer would take the information provided by radar or some other "sensing device," correlate the information and interpret it for use by a weapon system.

DeAnne Taylor Expected to Arrive in Portland Today

Editor's note: The following excerpts are the final in a series of dispatches from DeAnne Taylor, who was spending the summer with a family in West Berlin, Germany, under the auspices of the American Field service. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeVere Taylor, 1011 Winchester ave., Medford. In the following excerpts she tells of her plans to come home and her final activities abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are scheduled to meet DeAnne in Portland this week end, and will return Monday night.

By DeANNE TAYLOR

West Berlin—Well, here it is August already! I am trying to get my things in order for the return trip home. I leave Berlin at 6:15 a.m. Aug. 12 and fly to Bremen. The 49 of us in Berlin have had a meeting and discussion on leaving Berlin and the families we are to stay with in Bremen.

I just came home from the hair dressers. It cost me 4 marks to have my hair washed, set, dryed, and combed out. This is about $1.

This afternoon I am going to East Berlin with a University student whom I met. He is coming to the Schelles for lunch.

Invited to Church

"Happy Friendship Day," is what my calendar says for today. Uschi and I went to church for the last time. We were invited to the American community church, so we went again this morning. I will be so glad to get back home to my own church.

Last night AFS held a "farewell dance" for us at Hannock house in Dahlen. I had a wonderful time. The music is always so good and for once we had a dance floor bigger than a postage stamp.

A fellow AFS'er and his "sister" are having a garden party tonight, one gay round of parties after another.

Mutti told me this morning I could order what ever I liked for dinner and that she would make it. We will have "weinershnitzel" and mashed potatoes, and they are real creamy.

Feels Little Sad

I just don't know where the time has gone. I only regret that you aren't able to meet my "summer" family. I know you would love them like I do. It will surely be good to be headed home, but I will still feel a little sad when I leave Berlin.

Uschi and I are going now to buy cake for our tea. And then we will visit Botanical gardens. There are flowers, plants and shrubs from all over the world. It is a very beautiful place. The weather was very sultry. Tonight we are going to see "Porgy and Bess."

I have been helping Hanni with her sewing. She is getting ready to leave for England to visit. She will leave two days before I do.

Bremen, Aug. 13—Remember the Bremen Town musicians? There is a beautiful statue here in Bremen of them in a park. There are so many interesting, old buildings here.

Stay With Family

I am staying with a nice family in an apartment. There are two girls and their mother. It was fun seeing the Oregonians who have been in Germany. Seems we have all gained weight and one can really see it on some of the faces.

New York, Aug. 24, (telephone)—It is so wonderful to be back in the U.S. I arrived here in New York this morning on the M.S. Waterman of the Holland-American line. It took four hours to get off the boat and through customs.

I will leave New York at 10:45 and arrive in Montreal at 7:55 a.m. Aug. 25. We will go through Vancouver, Seattle, and arrive in Portland Sunday, Aug. 28, at 9:15 p.m.
