

Antelope Club Member Is Champion Revue Exhibitor

Jo Anna Malloroy, Antelope club, was named champion Style Revue exhibitor and champion of the Clothing V class at the Jackson County 4-H and PFA fair Friday night during the annual 4-H Style Revue and awards program in the National Guard Armory south of Medford.

She was presented the large perpetual trophy donated by the Medford branch of the U.S. National Bank of Portland.

Colleen Franek, Central Point, received the sterling silver pie server as the girl with the highest overall score in food preservation, and Carol Myers McDowell, Table Rock, received the sterling silver vase as the girl with the highest overall score in the home living exhibit, judging, demonstration and contest.

Special Award

The J. C. Penney special award went to Mary Ann Carnegie, Medford, and Karen Jossy, Eagle Point, as outstanding clothing club members. The two girls will receive two summer school scholarships.

The Larry Schade perpetual trophy went to Alice Woolfolk as the outstanding cooking club member. Karen Jossy, Antelope, also won the Doreen Bohmert trophy as the individual in the home economics judging contest with the highest average score earned in two or more project contests.

The Oregon Cow Belles Award

The Oregon Cow Belles award of $5 and beef cook book went to Donna Geren, Eagle Point, high score individual in food preparation and to Carol Foote, Central Point, as second high score individual.
