Encephalitis

When people write me about an encephalitis (brain inflammation), I rarely can tell them anything helpful because there are several types of the disease in children and adults, and there are several ways of getting it.

Adults can get any one of several types of encephalitis. Sometimes there will be an epidemic of the disease. In some epidemics few of the people attacked are left with any permanent injury.

$191 Million Restored to Bill

Washington—UPI—The Senate appropriations committee partially bowed to President Eisenhower's demands Saturday by voting to restore $191 million cut from his fourth foreign aid program.

This was only $75 million less than he declared absolutely necessary to prevent the national security from being jeopardized.

The restored funds which were cut from the $3,722,350,000 foreign aid bill sent to the White House Friday will be added to a supplemental appropriations bill the Senate will consider Monday.

The committee voted to restore everything the President asked except for $75 million for the development loan fund. This $150 million request was cut in half.

The $116 million restored would be for economic aid including defense support, technical and special assistance and administration.

Overall, Congress had slashed $559,254,000 from the money bill but the Eisenhower administration agreed that some of this reduction could be accepted.

3 Convictions on Mail Fraud Upheld

San Francisco—UPI—The U.S. Court of Appeals has upheld the convictions of three Oregon residents found guilty of mail fraud in U.S. District Court in Portland in 1958.

The three are Richard G. Bailey, 39, ex-president of the Bailey Lumber Co., Eugene, Norman R. Egman, 48, accountant for the firm, and Laura Macy, 38, bookkeeper.

All three have been free on bail pending the outcome of the appeal.
