

Orioles Blank White Sox 4-0 Behind Fisher

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Thirty days hath September and if the Baltimore Orioles can keep winning at the same rate as in August, Paul Richards has a hunch "we're liable to be still playing baseball by October 15th."

He's talking about the World Series, son, and he certainly has every right in the face of Baltimore's tremendous surge.

The Orioles have been the hottest club in the majors this month with 20 victories in 28 games so far. Not even the first-place Yankees, with a 20 and 10 log, were able to match that pace.

The Orioles made it six out of their last seven and climbed within 1 1/2 games of first place by blanking the Chicago White Sox, 4-0, Monday night. It was Baltimore's fifth straight victory over the defending American league champions and made the top three look like this:

W. L. Pct. GB
N. Y.	73 49 .598 33
Balt.	74 53 .583 1 1/2
Chi.	71 54 .568 3 1/2

Jack Fisher, 21-year-old righthander who won only one game for the Orioles last year, shut out the White Sox on four hits and struck out eight last night for his 10th triumph.

Indians Scalp Senators
The Cleveland Indians moved to within two games of fourth place with a 6-4 decision over the Washington Senators and the Boston Red Sox downed the Kansas City Athletics, 4-1. New York and Detroit were idle.

In the National league, the Pittsburgh Pirates retained their 5 1/2 game lead with a 10-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers, the St. Louis Cardinals took over second place by beating the Milwaukee Braves, 3-0, and the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the San Francisco Giants, 2-0. Cincinnati and Chicago were not scheduled.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant of the Indians brought his lifetime record over the Senators to 15-1 even though Washington routed him with a two-run rally in the ninth. It was Grant's ninth win of the season, five of which have been at the Senator's expense.

Home runs by rookie Lou Clinton and Frank Malzone carried the Red Sox to victory over the A's, who went down to their 17th setback in the last 20 games. Don Larson suffered his 10th loss against the first victory.

Hal Smith and Don Hoak each hit three-run homers against the Dodgers to help the Pirates snap a four-game losing streak. Vern Law, who also homered, won his 19th game and fifth of the season against the Dodgers.

Larry Jackson won his 15th game for the Cardinals with a three-hitter over the Cards until the seventh when they scored their first run with the aid of a wild pitch.

Rookie Art Mahaffey (where have they been keeping him?) won his fourth straight game for the Phillies without a defeat by limiting the Giants to two hits. Mahaffey, who had an 11-9 record with Buffalo of the International league earlier this year, pitched perfect ball for 1 1/3 innings before Ed Bressoud singled to right field. The Phillies scored their runs off loser Mike McCormick, 11-10.

Yanks Head Wants AL Team in LA

New York—(UPI)—President Dan Topping of the New York Yankees was expected to press "the Los Angeles issue" today at an expansion meeting of officials representing all eight American league cities.

Topping considers Los Angeles a fertile territory for a new American league club and sees no reason why that city should not have two major league clubs as long as another National league club is being considered for New York.

A joint major league committee, which met in Chicago on Aug. 2, voted to expand both the American and National leagues to 16 teams. The four additional cities were to come from the defunct Continental league, which never planned to have a franchise in Los Angeles.

Joe Cronin, president of the American league, said today's meeting would be "strictly exploratory."

Little concrete news was expected to come out of today's session since there was no agenda and any matter that might come up could not be voted on without the unanimous consent of all eight AL clubs.

"The way things stand now," said one official, "you couldn't get all eight clubs to agree on the time of day."

Odell Declines Alternate Spot In Links Tilt

Portland—(UPI)—Tom Liljeholm of Rose City of Portland led the scoring in the Oregon regional 36-hole qualifying tournament here Monday for the National Amateur golf meet.

Nine Oregon divoters qualified for the national tourney, scheduled Sept. 12-17 at Clayton, Mo.

Liljeholm, former Portland State college athlete, shot a 141, two strokes better than clubmate Tom Shaw and Harold Weston at the home course Portland Golf club.

Liljeholm had 18-hole rounds of 71 and 70. Also qualifying for the National Amateur were Jerry Cundari, PGC, 144; Bruce Cudd, Columbia Edgewater of Portland, 145; Bob Wolsborn, Riverside of Portland, 146; Dick Yost, C-E, 147, and Jack Sias, PGC, 147.

Alan Jensen of Corvallis, who shot a 148, was first alternate.

Dr. Raph Odell of Medford finished 14th in the qualifying round.

Odell had rounds of 72 and 77 for a 36-hole total of 149, eight strokes behind pace-setting Liljeholm.

Another Medford golfer, Dr. David Boals picked up after an 18-hole opening round of 81.

Odell, one stroke behind the first alternate, Alan Jensen, Corvallis, told tourney officials he could not be one of the seven Oregon alternates.

Law Stars as Bucs Batter Los Angeles

By ALEX KAHN
United Press International
Los Angeles—(UPI)—Manager Walt Alton today heaped praise on Vernon Law who pitched the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 10-2 win Monday night over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I would have to say Law is the best pitcher in the league," Alton said. "He had great stuff on the ball and excellent control. Every time we've seen him he looked great."

Alton said he thought his players performed well, but simply were overcome by Law's excellent pitching.

In tonight's final appearance of the Pirates at the Coliseum, Alton named the erratic Sandy Koufax, 6-10, to oppose Pittsburgh's second-best hurler, Bob Friend, 13-11.

Although the Pirates ran up a lopsided score Monday night, the key blow was catcher Hal Smith's three-run homer in the fourth inning off Johnny Podres. It was Smith's fourth homer off Podres and his seventh against the Dodgers this season. He had not hit a homer since the Pirates were here last month when he hit two four-baggers on consecutive nights.

But third baseman Don Hoak also had a three-run homer in the ninth inning off Ed Palmquist and Law followed with his first homer of the season.

For Law it was his 19th win against five losses. He now has a streak of eight straight wins and it was his fifth victory without a loss against the Dodgers. The win snapped a four-game Pirate losing streak.

The Dodgers got a one-run lead in the first inning when Maury Wills doubled and scored on Norm Larker's infield single, his only hit of the game.

Tommy Davis gave the crowd of 37,369 something to cheer about with his seventh homer of the season in the sixth inning.

Monday night's crowd brought the seasonal attendance at the Coliseum to 1,995,539, leaving the Dodgers less than 5,000 short of the 2 million mark in attendance for the second straight season.

The coach, who asked not to be identified because he felt the controversy had "political" aspects, said the Russians seem to make a distinction between the Negroes and the whites on the field of athletic competition.

"Their approach seems to be that we, originally a white race, have had to call on another race to help us fight our battles," he said.

Athletic Loop Discussion Set
Portland—The longest autoletic directors from eight western universities are scheduled to meet in Salt Lake City Oct. 3, presumably to complete plans for organizing a new athletic conference.

The proposed conference would include some schools from the Skyline and Border conferences and Pacific Northwest schools orphaned by a breakup of the old Pacific Coast Conference.

The meeting will be the fourth this year of representatives of the proposed new league. They met in June in San Francisco and agreed to work toward organization of the new league.

Members of the new conference would include Utah, Brigham Young and New Mexico of the Skyline, Arizona State and Arizona University of the Border, Conference and Washington State, Oregon and Oregon State of the old Pacific Coast Conference.

Local Man Makes Circumference Swim in Biggest of Squaw Lakes

Applegate Valley—Just for the sport of doing it Gerald Cramer, 122 Reager street, Medford, established a swimming record at Squaw lakes recently when he swam the 2 1/2 mile circumference of the big lake in two hours and twenty minutes.

Cramer, a dispatcher clerk at the Medford post office, said his only training was exercise with light weights to condition himself and previous work at perfection of stroke and timing.

Cramer, who did not use fins or equipment, says he is not a swimming expert, but was interested in showing that a person can build strength and endurance without spending long periods in the water. Cramer said the strokes he used were the trudge and crawl and the six speed Australian crawl. He followed the shore line with Mrs. Cramer walking the distance around the lake with him.

Cramer said he might try swimming Lake of the Woods some time. In the past, several have tried swimming around Squaw lake and have failed.

Mr. and Mrs. Cramer are outdoor enthusiasts, visiting Squaw Lakes often, and all vacation periods and week ends are spent in southern Oregon. Cramer says he is not much of a fisherman, but that he and his family observe birds, plants and other things of nature. The Cramers' eight-year-old son, Loren, learned to swim this summer. They have two younger boys, Dennis, and Lowell. The family came to Medford 10 years ago from Portland, where Cramer also was with the post office.

Sue DeVoe Has Teaching Post In California

Miss Sue DeVoe, Medford, eight times participant in the Southern Oregon Golf championships, twice women's champ and twice medalist, will miss the tournament this year.

The reason—She is starting her career as a school teacher. Sue begins duties this week as instructor of world history to ninth graders at Hayward, Calif. She will also do student counseling.

Miss DeVoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. DeVoe, 2200 Woodlawn dr., was graduated in 1958 from University of Oregon where she majored in political science. From last September through the summer school just past she studied at San Francisco State college toward a masters' degree.

She's had to forego golf this summer to concentrate on studies. Sue, however, hopes to get back to work on her links game and play next summer in the Pacific Northwest Golf association and Western Open tournaments at Seattle, Wash., and the Trans-Mississippi at Eugene.

Giants Set Attendance Mark

By HAL WOOD
United Press International
San Francisco—(UPI)—It doesn't make sense that a city with a population of 750,000 should outdraw one 10 times that size.

But that's what the San Francisco Giants did this year to crack the old baseball attendance record the Giants set when they lived in New York.

It took the San Francisco entry just 65 games to smash the mark of 1,800,793, set by the Giants at the Polo Grounds in 1947. That mark was surpassed on Sunday when a total of 1,805,871 was reached—with 12 home games still to go.

It is safe to say that a mark of 1,800,000 will be reached by the season's end.

And the puzzling part of the feat is that it was turned in with a fifth-place club, 30 years in New York.

Rationalizing, it can be pointed out that the Giants are new in San Francisco (this is their third campaign here); that a new ball park was unveiled this year, etc. But the Giants were in New York more than half a century and they never found a single gimmick that would build up attendance to what it has been on the famed "Gold Coast."

Gary Schumacker, head of the Giants' promotion staff and still with a soft spot in his heart for old New York, started to explain why the club didn't attract huge crowds in the East.

"Well," he started, "we didn't have lights for night games until World War II. And, uh . . ."

That was about the extent of it.

Average attendance at night here is only a few thousand over the day records. Big Saturday and Sunday afternoon crowds are the equalizers.

Two items seem to dictate the cause of success here: (1) great promotion; (2) a huge parking lot that assures ball park visitors of comfortable access to the game.

The promotion department spreads all over Northern California, digging deep into the 5,000,000 persons living in the area.

Walter Mails, one-time major league pitching star, is the "promoter" of special trips and for nearly every game anywhere from 20 to 50 bus loads of fans come in groups from outlying districts.
