Salmon Fishing Reported 'Fair'

Astoria–(UPI)–Salmon fishing near the mouth of the Columbia river was reported "fair" Monday as several hundred boats went out.

The boats were chased in about 11 a.m. because of National Guard firing practice.

About 20 per cent of the Monday catch was Chinook, running from 20 to 22 pounds on the average.

Today's weather was overcast, but a good number of boats were out this morning.

Actor Heston Can't Escape Those Costume Epic Films

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

Hollywood – (UPI) – Charlton Heston will never be able to take his own word for anything again.

After completing "Ben-Hur" on the heels of his role of Moses in "The Ten Commandments," the big guy took a private oath never to appear in another epic costume movie.

But Charlton is a man of small resolve.

'El Cid' Next

Right now he's being measured for a suit of armor for his title role in "El Cid"–another multi-million-dollar extravaganza.

With a guilty grin Heston admitted he had faltered.

"About a year ago I made a pact with myself and my conscience that I wouldn't do another costume picture," he said.

"But I've been offered dozens of them from William the Conqueror to Charlemagne.

"I turned them down and read modern scripts, most of which were really terrible. I did want to do 'Let's Make Love' with Marilyn Monroe, but I had to turn it down.

"Then along came 'El Cid,' and it looked so good I decided to go ahead with it."

Heston must spend the next five months in Spain. "Ben-Hur" kept him in Italy almost 10 months, and "Commandments" required him to shuffle around Egypt for two months.

Long-Run Movies

By the time Charlton's movies have run their course – and it is expected "Commandments" and "Ben-Hur" will be showing somewhere in the world for the next 25 years – he will probably be seen by more movies goers than any actor in history.

"It's not that I don't like making costume pictures," Heston went on. "They are not easy to do.

"I guess I'll just have to forget about making movies in Hollywood where an actor can put his hands in his pockets, drink martinis or kiss girls in strapless evening gowns. That's the easy way to work."

Is Charlton resigned to playing king-sized roles in super-colossals?

"No," he said without much hope. "I would hope that I will do other parts if I'm offered the opportunity."

MM in Hospital For Exhaustion

Hollywood – (UPI) – Actress Marilyn Monroe, 34, was undergoing treatment at Westside hospital today for exhaustion.

Miss Monroe was stricken while working in 100-degree heat on location in Reno, Nev., for the $3.5 million film "The Misfits." Her condition was described as not serious.

Her return here Monday for admission to the hospital idled co-star Clark Gable. Director John Huston planned to continue filming scenes in which Miss Monroe does not appear.

CRUDE BOMB, HUMOR

McLean, Va. – (UPI) – Demolition experts called to disarm what appeared to be a crude time bomb Monday found the bomb consisted of an alarm clock and a note which read: "Stop smiling. Don't you have enough work to do?"

The highest elevation on the Atlantic coast is Mount Cadillac Main.

Woman Who Wrote 'Grand Hotel' Dies

Hollywood – (UPI) – Vienna-born novelist Vicki Baum, 64, who wrote the best-seller "Grand Hotel," died Monday after a brief illness.

The authoress was stricken Sunday at her Hollywood Hills home and taken to Hollywood Presbyterian hospital where she died the next day.

Writer of more than 25 novels in addition to plays and scenarios for motion pictures, Miss Baum came to filmland in 1931 from Vienna with her husband, Dr. Richard Lert, now conductor of the Pasadena Symphony orchestra.

Her arrival coincided with the publication of her most famous book, "Grand Hotel." It was made into a hit movie and a musical play called "At the Grand," starring Paul Muni.
