

Hanby, Patrick Schools Hire Librarian; List Rules

Gold Hill—Gilbert A. Mack, principal of the Hanby and Patrick Elementary schools of District 6 in Gold Hill, announces that there will be one new teacher on the staff here this year. She is Mrs. Beth Ness.

Mrs. Ness will be the librarian in both schools, he said. She will also teach seventh and eighth grade girls home-making and physical education.

Mack also said that bus runs will commence on the same schedule as last year. He said it would be advisable for youngsters to be waiting earlier than usual on the first

Hornbrook School Opens on Schedule

Hornbrook — Hornbrook grammar school opened on schedule last week with a complete roster of teachers.

Joining the staff as the first and second grade teacher is Miss Phyllis Bird, San Jose, Calif. Miss Bird took part of her college work at San Jose State college and is a graduate of the University of California. This is her first teaching assignment.

Second day enrollment at the school showed 103 pupils registered, an increase of 12 to 14 over any other previous year in the history of the school.

Boys outnumber girls by a ratio of 60 to 43. Enrollment is divided among the classes as follows: first and second grades 29 pupils; third and fourth grades 23; fifth and sixth grades 23; and seventh and eighth, 23 pupils.

Feeding the Family

Barbecue Sauce

We repeat this piquant barbecue sauce recipe because it is equally good on popular hamburgers, popular hot dogs and popular spareribs, and you're certain to have one, two or all three of these meats over the week end. This can be made any time; stored for instant use.

In saucepan combine one 8-ounce can tomato sauce, 1/2 cup molasses, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, salt and a minced or crushed clove of garlic. Bring to a boil and simmer until desired thickness.

Hot Dog Dip

Over hot coals or otherwise, brown whole frank until the skins split slightly. Have toasted hot dog buns handy. Dip hot dog in this sauce en route to bun. To 1/2 cup prepared mustard, add 1 teaspoon molasses, 2 teaspoons sharp pickle relish. This is very good, too, when spooned over hamburgers on toasted buns.

Spiced Lemonade

Frozen cubes of lemonade

or lemonade cubes with a clove frozen in will add interest, step up lemonade flavor. Boil 1/4 cup sugar and 3/4 cup water about 5 minutes. Combine 1 cup of this syrup with 12 whole cloves and one 3-inch stick cinnamon and simmer 5 minutes. Strain and add juice of 6 lemons and 1 quart water. Chill. Make a tray or two of ice cubes for using with regular lemonade or use "as is" over regular ice cubes.

Picnic Eggs

Here are some pretty wonderful picnic eggs; maybe a little different.

Hard-cook 6 eggs; peel and halve. Remove yolks and mash thoroughly. Add 2 tablespoons chopped almonds or other nuts, 1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper, 1 tablespoon finely chopped pimiento, dash of tabasco, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, salt and pepper. Mix well; pile egg halves high with mixture. Decorate tops with fork tine markings, sprinkle with finely chopped green pepper, pimiento, parsley, stuffed olives.

The Pickle in the Middle, Alongside Sandwiches, Frankfurters

The single word "sandwich" can mean many things to many people. It can mean simply 2 slices of bread with meat between. It can mean an elaborate creation with several layers of bread and a large variety of different fillings. Or anything between these two extremes. But no sandwich is ever complete without its companion, the pickle. And this no one will deny.

In the middle, on top or alongside the sandwich, the pickle is most likely to be the ubiquitous dill. Dills come whole, quartered, sliced; as genuine dills, genuine Kosher dills, overnight dills and processed dills. Then there are candied dill strips.

Next in pickle popularity for accompanying sandwiches are sour pickles, sweet gherkins, whole sweet gherkins and sweet pickle relish.

Pickle-Stuffed Franks

Frankfurters are almost certain to be on everybody's menu sometime during the long week end. And here's a meal to remember because it has everything. Six servings. 1/3 cup finely chopped Swiss cheese

1/3 cup finely chopped dill pickle

1 tablespoon prepared mustard

6 frankfurters

6 slices bacon

6 frankfurter rolls, split, toasted, buttered

Combine cheese, pickles and mustard; mix well. Split frankfurters in half lengthwise without cutting all the way through. Fill frankfurters with pickle mixture. Wrap bacon around each frankfurter. Arrange in shallow baking dish. Bake in moderate, 350

Topic Is Education of Laborers' Children

Oregon's pilot program in educating migrant laborers' children will be the subject of "Dateline Statehouse" tonight at 10:45 o'clock over KBEST-TV, Channel 5, Medford.

Ron Petrie, administrator of the project, which is under the state department of education, will discuss the background and problems associated with migrant education.

Film clips of a summer school at a migrant labor camp will be shown during the course of the program. The school was under the sponsorship of Oregon College of Education.

The 1959 state legislature authorized conducting the labor education project.

Moderator for the TV report will be Bob Richter, who each week brings different state agencies before the Channel 5 cameras to inform citizens of their operations and services.

Nixon Receives Get-Well Letters; Still In Hospital

Washington — "I love our country and Daddy says you can save it. Please work hard so you will be our next president." With that pep talk in mind, Vice President Richard M. Nixon today began his second week in a hospital with a campaign leg injury.

A Nixon spokesman said the GOP presidential nominee has received thousands of get-well letters since he entered Walter Reed Army Medical Center last Monday with an infection which developed after he hit his knee on a car door.

She Can't Vote

One of the vice president's favorites was a message from 7-year-old Julie Witold of Downers Grove, Ill. Julie wrote:

"Daddy likes you. Mommy likes you. I like you. We think you can win. I am going to work for you too but I can't vote. My sister Patricia can vote. She just had twins.

"I'm only seven but can deliver folders. Please work hard so you will be our next president. I love our country and Daddy says you can save it. I will watch for you on TV, honorable sir."

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said Sunday the vice president was continuing to "respond extremely well" to antibiotics.

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell meanwhile, predicted a Nixon victory in November. He said Sunday that the vice president has a "more realistic" program to offer labor voters than his Democratic rival.

Lebanon School Opening Postponed

Lebanon — The Lebanon school officials Saturday decided to delay the opening of school this year here until Thursday because of emergency plea from farmers for school-age children to help harvest the 1960 bean crop. The schools were to have opened Tuesday.

H. Finch reported, however, the Republican nominee's knee injury had "put a crimp" in plans to campaign in all 50 states before the November presidential election.

Finch said "it won't be easy" now for the vice president to get into all of the states, but he will try.

Finch said the Republicans were optimistic about their chances of winning the Midwest and the Far West. He added that the decisive northern industrial states all were "up for grabs."

Lightning Sets Fires in Modoc

By United Press International

A 4,000-acre fire in the Modoc National Forest in northern California was brought under control Saturday night but 28 lightning-blazes in the Modoc Forest presented a minor problem Saturday night, according to a U.S. Forest Service spokesman in Alturas, Calif.

The spokesman said the small blazes were started Saturday night and were still out of control 24 hours later. A warning trend was upping fire danger, the spokesman said.

In southern Oregon, eight fires on Klamath Forest Protective Association land were reported under control with two other small blazes out of control.
