News Conference

Ike Says Chances Slim Of Meeting Khrushchev

At his news conference, the President also made these points:

There is only a very slim possibility that he will meet with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev when Khrushchev comes to this country later this month to head the Russian delegation to the U.N. General Assembly meeting in New York. Eisenhower said some conditions would have to be fulfilled before such a meeting could be held and he didn't intend to be a party to a battle of invective and propaganda.

The religious issue ought to be laid on the shelf for the rest of the presidential campaign. Asked to comment on a charge by former President Harry S. Truman that Republicans were bringing this in by the back door, Eisenhower said he knew of no group that has been more emphatic in rejecting the religious approach than GOP leaders.

The Cuban regime of Fidel Castro committed a very grave error, in his mind, when it recognized the Communist Chinese government.

The defection of two junior mathematicians at the National Security Agency to Russia shows that this country must always be on the alert and must go through its entire security procedures to see if there is any way they can be improved.

Georgia-Pacific Ups Plywood Price

Portland—(UPI)—Georgia-Pacific Corp. Tuesday announced a $4 hike in plywood prices, and other producers indicated they planned to follow suit.

The increase brought to $68 the price for the index item of quarter-inch, sanded plywood. The price is the best the industry has had this year. Major plywood producers several weeks ago announced cutbacks in plywood production to halt a downward trend in prices.

One producer said Tuesday he feared the Georgia-Pacific move to raise prices may have been "premature." Other producers, however, said they planned to go along with the price increase, some on a "tentative" basis.

Democrats who say it was his fault that Congress achieved little in its post-convention session apparently are trying to make him responsible for splitting their party. He said Democrats had 2-to-1 majorities in Congress and if there had been any little bit of give-and-take they could have had a less disappointing legislative record.

Statement on Congo
The President read a statement which said the United States "deplores" the unilateral Soviet action in supplying planes and equipment for military purposes to the Congo "thereby aggravating an already serious situation which finds Africans killing other Africans."

The President said that if these planes are flown by Russian military personnel, it would be contrary to the principles followed so far in the use of military contingents from the larger powers in the Congo.

He said the constitutional makeup of the Congo Republic is something that the Congolese themselves should work out peacefully.

"This objective is threatened by the Soviet action which seems to be motivated entirely by the Soviet Union's political designs in Africa," he said. "I must repeat that the United States takes a most serious view of this action by the Soviet Union."

Thinking of UN Trip
Eisenhower said he has been thinking of making a pilgrimage to the United Nations, as he has done twice before. He said there were very definite reasons for going, adding, however, that he would not take part in any move to debase the United Nations by engaging in a battle of invective and propaganda.

A reporter asked if the conditions which he would attach to any proposed meeting with Khrushchev would include such moves as Russia freeing the RB47 fliers it now holds prisoner.

Eisenhower said that would be one thing that he would expect, but he did not want to go into the entire list of conditions.

Vernonia Mill To Go Up in Flames For Movie Camera

Vernonia—(UPI)—A planing mill and an old house are scheduled to go up in flames here Thursday or Friday when movie cameras invade the town to film "Ring of Fire."

Some 400 residents of the town are reading up on handbills already circulated telling them how to act when they participate as extras during the filming.

Residents To Run
The film, originally planned as the "Great Hinkley Fire" of a half century ago, is now scheduled to portray a town surrounded by forest fires in the year 1961. Scheduled for destruction in the flames is the deserted International Paper Co. planing mill.

Residents are expected to run through the streets pulling possessions to safety. Earl C. Wingard, MGM publicity man, said forest service officials have given full support to the film because of its strong forest fire prevention message.

Laborer Freed in Missing Girl Case

Salem—(UPI)—A migrant laborer who was picked out of a police line-up here over the week end as a man who resembled a stranger seen near Dexter where a girl disappeared Tuesday was fined $15 in court for hitchhiking and released.

He also was given two days in jail but the judge credited him with the two days he spent in custody awaiting action on the hitchhiking complaint.

During the two days, state police checked his story that he had been in California when the girl, 7-year-old Alice Louise Lee, disappeared Aug. 29, from a bean field.

Lane county authorities reported no new leads in the disappearance.

Claim of Nixon Backers Hinges on Ike's Remarks; Kennedy Active in Northwest

Washington—(UPI)—Today is the day for President Eisenhower to tell whether he has been able to recall any major ideas offered by Vice President Richard M. Nixon which were adopted by the administration.

Both friends and foes of the GOP presidential nominee hoped for political advantage in Eisenhower's answer at a morning news conference.

The Chief Executive told his last news conference two weeks ago that he might be able to recall some Nixon ideas he had adopted if he were given a week to think it over.

This remark and Eisenhower's declaration that he alone made administration decisions torpedoes the campaign claim of some Nixon backers that the vice president had "participated in decisions" by the President.

Nixon Making Progress
Nixon was reported making "excellent progress" in his recovery from a knee infection at Walter Reed Army Hospital. He worked at his desk for about two hours Tuesday, his most lengthy period out of bed since he entered the hospital Aug. 30.

Democratic candidate John F. Kennedy continued his campaigning through the defense industry and farm areas of the northwest. He scheduled stops today in Eugene, Salem and Portland, Ore., after stumping in Seattle and Spokane, Wash., Tuesday.

In Seattle, a defense production center, Kennedy told a rally that if he were elected president he would send Congress "a whole new set of defense goals" designed to make the United States the mightiest military power in the world.

Requires Reevaluation
"It will require a reevaluation of our commitments around the world, a reevaluation of our base system, a reevaluation of our weapons and strategy and a reevaluation of our budgetary policy," he declared.

In Spokane, Kennedy attacked the Eisenhower administration for making American farmers "a place of hardship for the American farmer." He said he had a farm plan ready to put into effect.

Kennedy's campaign headquarters in Washington announced appointment of a National Farmers for Kennedy-Johnson Committee headed by former Agriculture Secretary Claude R. Wickard. The chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee challenged Kennedy to repudiate former President Harry S. Truman.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, (R-Wis.), accused Truman of launching a "coast-to-coast campaign for Kennedy on the low road of slanderous personal attack."

Truman said Monday there was a link between Nixon's supporters and the forces of "racial, religious and anti-union bigotry."

Charge 'Amuses' Nixon
Nixon was reported "amused" by Truman's charge that the vice president is a "Republican opportunist" who has led a career of "devoted public service to the special interests who grub-staked him."

South Carolina Gov. Ernest F. Hollings said that his state would go for Nixon if the election were held now. He said he based this assessment on mail he has received.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, urged Eisenhower to work for Nixon's election. He was named to head a retired servicemen's committee for Nixon-Lodge.

Welfare Secretary Arthur S. Flemming said Kennedy had "completely distorted" the position of Nixon and the GOP on social welfare. He referred to a Kennedy statement that Nixon and fellow Republicans "oppose decent wages for our teachers . . . and medical care for the aged."

The Saturday Evening Post announced it was supporting Nixon. The magazine said the vice president "has the maturity, the experience and, above all, the toughness" to deal with the Communist challenge.

In a statement issued in Spokane, Wash.: "In the past eight years the Republican party has allowed these rich wheat fields, and all the farmland in America, to become a burden to the American people and place of hardship for the American farmer."

Market Extends Tuesday's Selloff

New York—(UPI)—Stock prices extended Tuesday's selloff with electronics, aircrafts and defense issues pacing the downward movement.

Brokers generally blamed the poor economic news over the week end for the current downward drift with the most optimistic planting their hopes on the market's good technical position to buoy up the list.
