Girdle Not Bulwark Against Inflation

New York - It's a mistake to expect a girdle to be a bulwark against the figure's creeping inflation, warns the head of a firm that makes the garments.

Walter Stein, president of Perma-Lift, doesn't advocate an end to girdle-wearing, however.

He suggests one day a week sans girdle - but only if that day is spent in keeping the figure in good shape on its own.

"Taking a weekly breather," he said, "gives a woman a chance to reflect realistically upon her natural assets and liabilities. A self-improvement day like this can go a long way toward helping shape the American woman's figure."

Austin, Minn. - Identical twins Jack and Gene Brennan have been mistaken for each other for years - even though they live on opposite sides of town.

Now the problem is worse. Jack and his family lived at 2006 E. Water st., Gene and his wife at 1806 W. Grove. But that was before Austin decided to rename its streets and change the address system.

Jack's new address is 1916 Fourth ave. N. E., and Gene's is 1916 Fourth ave., N. W.

President Works On Final Draft Of UN Speech

Washington - (UPI) - President Eisenhower worked today on the final draft of his United Nations speech in which he is expected to propose a U. N. aerial watchdog plan and a sweeping aid program to newly independent African nations.

The President scheduled a meeting with the National Security Council at which he may preview the speech he will deliver to the U. N. General Assembly in New York City Thursday.

Eisenhower had no appointments this afternoon, leaving the time free to work on the address. The White House said he was doing most of the writing of the speech, with some help from Soviet affairs expert Charles E. Bohlen and others.

To Urge Channelling
High U. S. officials said Eisenhower would urge that economic and technical assistance to Africa be channeled through the United Nations to avoid an East-West conflict that could pull the new countries into the cold war.

Officials said the President would make clear that the

URGE DISCRIMINATION END - Leaders of four national Jewish organizations urged President Eisenhower during a visit to the White House to seek an end to discrimination against Israeli shipping in the Suez Canal and a halt to the economic boycott waged against Israel by Arab states. The President's response was described as "very warm." From left are Rabbi Joachim Prinz, Newark, N. J., president of the American Jewish Congress; Rabbi Irving Miller, New York, president of the American Zionist Council; Maurice Bisgyer, executive vice president of the B'nai B'rith, Washington; the President; Label Katz, New Orleans, president of B'nai B'rith and chairman of the conference, and Moses Feinstein, Boston, president of the Union of Orthodox Congregations of America.

Fireball Flashes Across Oregon Sky

Bend - (UPI) - A fireball which flashed across the Oregon sky about 8:06 p. m. Tuesday apparently was a meteor.

Phil Brogan, member of the American Meteorological Society, said descriptions indicated it was a big meteor which began to burn as it entered the atmosphere about 200 miles up.

The meteor was seen in Western and Central Oregon, and also was reported in the state of Washington.

PREDICTS RECESSION

Coronado, Calif. - (UPI) - Chicago economist John K. Langum said Tuesday the U. S. economy is heading for a recession. He told delegates to the California Savings and Loan League convention the recession would begin next year and last into 1962.

Thornton Ponders Taking Coroner Case To Court

Salem - (UPI) - Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton said late Tuesday he had not decided yet whether to take the Lane county coroner case to the Oregon Supreme Court.

A three-judge panel ruled that the coroner position will not be on the November ballot. The verdict upheld Lane County District Attorney William Frye. Thornton sought to compel the county clerk to enter the coroner post on the general election ballot.

"This is a matter of the conflict between two laws passed by the 1959 Legislature," Thornton said. "It is an exceedingly close legal question and could well have gone either way."

"Under the circumstances, I wish to review the matter once again with the attorneys handling the case and with the secretary of state before making any decision as to further progress in the matter."

Appling Pleased
Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. said he was pleased the court has made a decision which would "salvage the medical examiner system."

The last legislature passed a bill calling for the medical examiner system to replace the coroner system. The court test resulted when doubt was raised as to effective date of the new law.

Appling said "... we predicted publicly weeks ago the court would rule the way it did."

Appling also was critical of Thornton and of his November rival, State Sen. Monroe Sweetland, who sponsored the medical examiner bill. He said the bill was "garbled."

Automobile Thief Leaves Apology Note

Washington - "Stolen car. Report to police."

Police found that notice clipped beneath the windshield of an automobile parked in downtown Washington.

On the other side of the paper was a note of apology to the car's owner - "circumstances were urgent that I get to Washington in a hurry. I had just enough money for gas - not a train."

The note continued that the car thief used only the best gasoline and didn't speed, then added, "I'm sorry again, but you shouldn't leave the keys."

Police said the car was reported missing two days earlier in Rocky Mount, N. C.

Finch Called Back To Stand

Los Angeles - (UPI) - Dr. R. Bernard Finch was called back to the witness stand today to answer additional questions about the gunshot slaying of his socialite wife.

Finch, 43, and Carole Tregoff, his 23-year-old mistress, are on trial for the second time on a charge of murdering his wife Barbara, 33, July 18, 1959. Their first trial ended in a hung jury.

Although both Finch and Carole already took their scheduled turns to testify previously, Finch returned Tuesday to undergo redirect examination and cross-examination to clear up some points.

After co-prosecutor Joseph Powers wrote on a blackboard 10 offenses in addition to murder which he claimed Finch committed - such as assault, battery, etc. - Finch's attorney, Grant Cooper had his turn.

Was Finch ever prosecuted on any of the offenses Powers listed, Cooper wanted to know.

No, said Finch. Cooper then erased all the charges from the blackboard. Said Powers sarcastically, "let the record show the counsel has now wiped the slate clean."

Oregon Counties Group Suggests License Proposal

Salem - (UPI) - The urban affairs and home rule committee of the Association of Oregon Counties Tuesday passed a resolution to authorize counties to license businesses in unincorporated areas.

The regulatory proposal will go before the association when it meets in Portland Nov. 15-18.

Counties have no such general authority now. In some instances, counties license such businesses as dance halls and junk yards.

More vigorous county planning with stricter enforcement was another recommendation of the committee. The association staff was directed to prepare amendments to existing legislation authorizing counties to prepare and enforce master plans for sewage disposal.

This would include planning for domestic water supply and distribution systems.

Elective Positions
A provision that county commissioners in Clackamas and Lane counties be elected to specific numbered positions was approved. At present, the two candidates in each county receiving the highest number of votes are declared elected.

The group also called for a poll of certain county judges for views on a proposal to permit any county to adopt a county board of government. Mull-romah, Clackamas and Lane counties are operating under this plan.

Counties represented on the commission include Clackamas, Lane, Jackson, Washington, Deschutes, Benton, Sherman, Josephine, Douglas and Yamhill.

London - (UPI) - Dr. A. L. Goodhart, president of the English Pedestrians Association, received a letter from the Orient addressed to "The Honorable President of the English Street Walkers Association."

Union Rejects Both Candidates

San Francisco - (UPI) - Both Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon were rejected as presidential candidates Tuesday by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

The action was taken by the executive board of the independent union, which is headed by Harry Bridges, whose citizenship the government tried unsuccessfully to revoke on the ground that he was a Communist.

In the last election he was a registered Republican.

"In reviewing the records of both major presidential candidates, we find both lacking in any desire for a program for bringing an end to the cold war, which drains our resources and keeps us under the threat of nuclear war."

"A vote for either is a vote against a positive program for peace and progress. We reject both."
