Leather Apparel Reflects Splash In General Wear

Nature's own bright splash of color is reflected in the new leather apparel fashions for daytime, casual, and evening wear this fall.

There are glove-soft cowhide, cabretta, kidskin, coltskin, suede and calf leathers in bright rusts, vivid reds, soft blues and greens, and a whole range of more subtle neutrals such as greigs, tan, beige, bone and white.

These are seen in smartly tailored tunic suits, or skirts teamed with three-quarter length jackets richly lined in a complimentary hue or paisley print.

The three-quarter length casual suit is important in neutral suede colors and sooty charcoals, as well as golden browns. It is also seen in easily draped smooth leathers.

Leather teams with cashmere, tweed and knit for warm wear in the brisk days ahead. New two-piece suits feature leather jackets with skirts of tweed or knit. Often the jacket carries through the fabric motif, with the leather shown in the back of the jacket and repeated on the fabric yoke, and collar and cuffs.

For dressy occasions, there are short leather dressmaker jackets with fur collars, to wear with evening sheaths. Teamed with silver fox, many dressmaker jackets are interpreted in softest kid or ante-lope leather.

Full length evening coats in coltskin appear in flattering smock versions in brilliant plum, deep purple, and rich green to enhance classically simple sheath gowns.

The perennial trench coat in smooth cabretta, as well as a wide assortment of soft suede shirts and casual Eisenhower-type jackets in smooth leather are projected for autumn's nippy weather.

There are junior versions of the tailored jacket for young girls, as well as handsomely styled full-length coats in cowhide, coltskin and cabretta leathers, with self-leather belts, generous slash pockets, and a wide range of bright colors to appeal to 'tween and teen-agers. Cardigan of leather with knit sleeves makes an ideal school jacket.

EASY DOES IT
Long but easy is the line to fashion - as seen in the many tunic and long-torso styles.

Youngsters Aware Of Clothing Styles

Young boys are becoming increasingly conscious of an increasingly early age. Today such terms as "Ivy" and "Continental" mean as much to little brother as they do to Dad. Clothing manufacturers are making it easier for every youngster to get the styles he wants.

This fall he can choose suits from a modified Continental all the way to the three-button natural shoulder style.

Among coordinates, solid color blazers are important fashion notes. Patterned jackets show madras coloring, plaids and checks.

Vests - some reversible - compete for favor in wool, velveteen and corduroy. Bulky sweaters make news, with shawl collars, high V-necks and crossover boatnecks as style setters.

Ivy shirts, especially the pullover placket model and the tapered shirt with neckband and shirttails, are popular.

FORMAL WEAR LEADER
The season's big formal wear leader is the shawl collar tuxedo. Peaked lapel models are catching up, however. Lapel trim is in satin for the most part.

People's Apathy To Polio Vaccine Disappointing

Washington (Science Service)—A substantial increase in the number of reported cases of polio has led Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney of the U.S. Public Health Service to say he is disappointed by people's apathy concerning available polio shots. For the week ending Sept. 3, a total of 210 cases, of which 116 were paralytic, was reported.

"The Salk vaccine has been available to the public long enough that most of these cases should not have occurred," the Surgeon General told Science Service. "At times such as this I have a keen sense of disappointment that people have not taken full advantage of preventive measures against serious diseases."

"Sometimes it is apathy; sometimes a fear of the needle. In very few cases can we say the reason for not taking polio shots is economic," he said.

Not Sure of Acceptance
Asked whether the new live poliovirus vaccine to be licensed soon for oral use would be accepted by the public, the Surgeon General said he was not sure.

"I hope so," he said. "But getting large groups of people together even for health reasons is always difficult if put on a voluntary basis. If the new vaccine is to be effective the cooperation of the medical profession, the public health departments, nurses and communities in general," will be required.

Even smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid, malaria and other preventable diseases are still not completely wiped out, mostly because of people's indifference.

The week's report omits Nevada, Florida and Missouri from the polio list.

Pro-American Forces Encircle Capital of Laos

Bangkok, Thailand—The revolutionary forces of pro-American Gen. Phoumi Nosavan reported Tuesday they had encircled Vientiane, administrative capital of the troubled kingdom of Laos.

Phoumi, who rebelled against the government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma earlier this month after charging Souvanna was pro-Communist, ordered citizens of the capital to remain clear of strategic areas in the city.

The revolutionary leader claimed his troops were preparing to take the capital away from a paratroop battalion, under the command of Capt. Kong Le, which seized control of Vientiane in a lightning coup d'etat early last month.

Appeal To Troops
Phoumi, who heads the military committee of the revolutionary government proclaimed by Prince Boon Oum, made a radio appeal to troops and police in the fight against Souvanna's government.

Some reports indicated that Communist Pathet Lao troops under the indirect command of Prince Souphanouvong, Souvanna's half-brother and so-called "Red prince" of Laos, had joined government forces and were prepared to meet Phoumi's troops if they attacked.

A spokesman for the revolutionary government, Col. Boon Kong, reported that Communist forces which invaded Sam Neua Province bordering on Communist North Vietnam, were being opposed by troops loyal to Phoumi.

HOUSING STARTS RISE

Washington—(UPI)—The Commerce Department reports that housing starts picked up in August. Work has begun on 127,000 dwelling units compared to 115,000 in July.

RIBBED SHIRT STYLES

Ribbed styles are leading the pack among knitted sport shirts this season. Heather color mixtures are among the most popular in this line.

STAYS ON JOB

Madrid, Spain—(UPI)—John Davis Lodge, U.S. ambassador to Spain, said Monday he will not go to the United States to campaign for his brother, Henry Cabot Lodge, the Republican party's vice presidential candidate.
