Highlights of Ike's United Nations Speech

New York—UPI—The highlights of President Eisenhower's speech at the United Nations today.

On the African question, Eisenhower proposed that a pledge by all countries represented at the assembly respect the African peoples' right "to choose their own way of life and to determine for themselves the course they wish to follow."

"To refrain from intervening in the new nations' internal affairs—by subversion, force, propaganda, or any other means."

"That the United Nations should be prepared to help the African countries maintain their security without wasteful and dangerous competition in armaments."

Eisenhower said "we should all support the United Nations response to emergency needs in the Republic of the Congo which the secretary general has shown such skill in organizing."

The United Nations should help newly developing African countries to shape their long-term modernization program.

An all-out effort should be made by the United Nations to help African countries launch such educational activities as they may wish to undertake.

On Asia, Latin America and the Middle East.

The United Nations should carry "forward and intensify our program of assistance for the economic and social developments of Asia, the Middle East and Latin America."

In outer space.

The United Nations "should agree that celestial bodies are not subject to national appropriation by any claims of sovereignty and that the nations of the world shall not engage in warlike activities on these bodies."

On disarmament. "Negotiations can and should be resumed on disarmament. The United States is prepared to submit to any international inspection, provided only that it is effective and truly reciprocal."

On nuclear weapons. Eisenhower proposed that the "nations producing nuclear weapons immediately convene experts to design a system of terminating, under verification procedures, all production of fissionable materials for weapons purposes."

The terminations would take effect as soon as the agreed inspection system has been installed and is operating effectively, while progress in other disarmament fields is also being sought.

United States officials "are willing to meet immediately with representatives of other countries for a preliminary exchange of views on these proposals."

Campaign Quotes

By United Press International
Vice President Richard M. Nixon:

(At Springfield, Mo.): "I would suggest that particularly at this time, any American who points out to Mr. Khrushchev and the world those things that he thinks are wrong about the United States, has an obligation to emphasize even more strongly those things that are right."

"It is unfortunate that Mr. Kennedy should have made himself a spokesman for this national self-disparagement at the very moment the United Nations Assembly members were voting 70-0 in favor of policies which the United States has steadfastly supported from the beginning against the all-out opposition of the Communist bloc in the Congo."

(In Louisville, Ky.): Voters should elect the candidate who "will keep the peace without surrender and extend freedom throughout the world."

(In Louisville to a question of whether Kennedy has espoused a policy of surrender): "Absolutely not. Mr. Kennedy didn't know what he was espousing, that is the trouble."

Sen. John F. Kennedy:

(At Memphis, Tenn.): "I would much rather Khrushchev and Castro hear the voice of opposition which doesn't want appeasement, but wants to see the country grow, which wants to see our military defenses stronger, which wants to see a better life for everybody."

(At Nashville, Tenn., home of soldier-President Andrew Jackson): "We pledge ourselves to a dynamic program for resource development, not as a party which speaks of TVA as a 'magnificent experiment' down here, but as 'creeping socialism' in Washington. But as a party which has always believed in TVA and in development all the resources of our great land—the Democratic party of Andrew Jackson . . ."

"The Republicans . . . have failed to grasp the meaning and importance of TVA for all America . . ."

"Today we too are faced with a threat from abroad—today we too must be aroused to the struggle. And today the Democratic party is again preparing to fight for the re-establishment of our national character."

(Again at Memphis): "The brake of high interest must be removed from the wheels of economic progress."

Macmillan Will Attend UN Session

London—UPI—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan decided today to fly to New York next week to join other world leaders at the United Nations General Assembly, according to authoritative sources.

Macmillan made his decision today following a meeting with his cabinet ministers and close consultation with President Eisenhower and commonwealth leaders.

Macmillan plans to fly from London over the week end and arrive in New York to address the General Assembly. He may stay a week in the United States.

He will reply to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's address to be delivered Friday. The sources said he will give a firm presentation of Western peace policy.

Motel Owners Sue Georgia-Pacific

Newport, Ore.—UPI—A Newport motel owner and his wife have filed a $275,750 suit against Georgia-Pacific Paper Co. in connection with alleged damage to their property from the discharge of industrial wastes into the Pacific Ocean.

Jason Lee, attorney, filed the complaint in Lincoln County Circuit Court for Mr. and Mrs. Alwyn F. Tischer.

The Tischers charge that the wastes produce a "vile, malodorous, nauseous stench that pollutes the atmosphere" and has depreciated their beach front site.

A total of $15,000 is asked for depreciation of the property and $10,750 for damage to their business.

Also sought are $250,000 punitive damages.

ELECTRONIC SECRETARY
Stanford, Calif.—UPI—An electronic secretary enables doctors at the new Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital to dictate reports at any time of the day or any sleepless hour in the night. Physicians can dial a central dictating system, dictate the correspondence and stenographers transcribe the material the next day. The finished copy is held in the doctor's lounge for proofreading and signature.

Comparative Quiet Returns to Harlem As Police Check Castro Demonstrators

New York—UPI—Comparative quiet returned temporarily early today to the heart of Negro Harlem where police had spent a hectic day keeping under control the thousands of persons milling around outside Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's hotel headquarters.

The exhausted Castro demonstrators and spectators began dispersing shortly after midnight. Police had kept them away from the immediate area of the Hotel Theresa where Castro has remained since attending the opening session of the United Nations General Assembly Tuesday afternoon.

The evening was marked by a series of disturbances which kept police flying squads and mounted patrolmen busy.

An anticipated clash between pro- and anti-Castro groups outside the hotel failed to develop although police reinforcements were rushed to the area.

Several persons received minor injuries and several demonstrators were arrested during the evening.

Portland—UPI—The three-county United Good Neighbor campaign has received slightly more than $1 million of its $3.3 million goal. The campaign embraces Multnomah, Washington and Clackamas counties.

A proposed tunnel under the English Channel would run 36 miles from near Dover to a French terminus near Calais.

Portland—UPI—Building permits in the Pacific Northwest climbed to $79,500,645 in August, an increase of about $20 million over the same month last year, the trade magazine Pacific Architect and Builder said today.

Another patron of the tavern, Louis Rodriguez, 23, was wounded in the shoulder.

A group of about 500 pro-Castro demonstrators tried several times to march in front of the hotel, but were barred by police. They finally contented themselves by standing on the sidewalk across the street chanting "Fidel, Fidel." The Cuban leader appeared several times at his ninth floor window, but did not address the throng.

At one time part of 125th st., Harlem's main street, was jammed with demonstrators and spectators. Police estimated the crowd at between 4,000 and 5,000 persons.
