College Enrollment Increases in State

Eugene—UPI—An overall increase of 17.8 per cent in freshman enrollment at Oregon's state-supported colleges was reported today by Chancellor John R. Richards of the state system of higher education.

Total enrollment figures were placed at 23,933 so far, with the figure expected to approach 25,000. Last fall's final total was 23,260.

Breakdown by schools showed:

Oregon: Enrollment 12.3 per cent ahead of last year at 7,314. Freshman enrollment 2,023.

Oregon State: Enrollment 1.8 per cent up with total 7,543 and freshmen 2,122.

Portland State: Enrollment 11.3 per cent up with 4,198 and freshmen 1,370.

Oregon College of Education: Enrollment 10 per cent up with 1,042 and freshmen 389.

Eastern Oregon: Enrollment 10.2 per cent up with a total 801 and freshmen 277.

Southern Oregon: Enrollment up 7.8 per cent with total 1,271 and freshmen 440.

Oregon Tech: Enrollment up 2 per cent with total 755 and freshmen 287.

The dental school was up 4.5 per cent but the medical school was down 2.9 per cent.

Holmer Apologizes To Emergency Board

Salem—UPI—State Finance Director Freeman Holmer apologized to the State Emergency Board today for pinning the label of "legislative irresponsibility" on the group last spring. The board accepted.

EAST MEETS WEST—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, right, meets with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the Soviet UN mission in New York. Macmillan was the target of a temper tantrum by Khrushchev in the UN earlier in the day.

Citizens Said Not Blamed for Errors Of Government

Havana—UPI—Premier Fidel Castro assured Americans in an unscheduled midnight television appearance early today that they would be safe in Cuba.

The bearded Cuban branded the State Department's action urging American families to return home as "an insidious campaign" against his government. He said "American citizens who are here and who come here to visit will have no problems" with his regime.

Citizens Not To Blame

"The American citizens are not to blame for the errors of the United States government," he said during his two and one-half hour appearance.

Americans by the dozens meanwhile heeded Washington's advice and jammed airline offices to get passage home.

"The call for Americans to return to their country only serves to bother American families who live here... who reside here by choice," Castro said.

He had no comment on the U.S. decision Thursday to close down the $110 million Nicaraguan nickel plant because of "confiscatory taxes and harassment" by his regime.

Khrushchev To Visit

He also announced that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was "definitely coming" to Cuba but that "it is not yet known when..." and that United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser would be coming in March.

Rejection of a new protest note from Washington by Castro's government strained relations between Cuba and the United States almost to the breaking point.

Castro declined to comment on the note and said, "Notes from the embassy are now routine things. They do not merit any comment."

Campaign Quotes

By United Press International

Vice President Richard M. Nixon:

(At Boston): "Well, let me tell you something - when it comes to their (Democrats) promises to the American people, our opponents have a performance gap as wide as the dangerous missile gap which they handed over to President Eisenhower to straighten out along with the rest of the debris they left behind."

"Let's think back to the Kennedy Congress of only a month ago, and then measure the credentials of our opponents. There were two Democrats in that Congress for every Republican."

"And so, with this overwhelming legislative power—the greatest in a quarter of a century—how did Senator Kennedy do?"

(Scoring Kennedy for failure to win passage of minimum wage, aid to education, and housing legislation): "So, summing up, what does this mean? I say that a monumental failure is no recommendation for success. I say a leadership default of a month ago in the Congress is a weak reed on which to base a claim to the biggest job of all."

"I say that high hopes, high spirit and lofty expressions, while of themselves commendable, are poor substitutes for solid performance. No, America is not going to turn back. We will not sink ourselves back into inflation. We will not take back government controls."

Sen. John F. Kennedy:

(At Syracuse, N.Y.): "Standing up to Khrushchev in debate is not enough. We have concentrated on his objectives—and forgotten our own."

"When he grins we invite him to Camp David. When he growls we restrict him to Manhattan. I am tired of reading every morning what Mr. Khrushchev is doing, or what Mr. Castro is doing. I want to read what the President of the United States is doing."

(He ticked off these U.S. setbacks in the international arena in the last year): "The summit meeting was a fiasco, and our President was insulted in a manner every American resented. The President's trip to Russia was abruptly canceled by his hosts... The Berlin crisis is worse instead of better. The negotiations on nuclear testing are as far apart as ever. The talks on disarmament have been called off."

"We have been repeatedly reassured by Mr. Nixon—in glowing, sugar-coated terms—that we have nothing to worry about in arms, science or space—that we have achieved peace without surrender... and that the anti-American riots in Latin America and Japan were actually indications that the Communists were afraid to face us."

"If you are concerned with the Republican tendency to react instead of act... then I suggest you consider more closely the foreign policy experience of their presidential nominee."

Candidates Getting in Licks

By United Press International

With only five full weeks of campaign time ahead before the November election, candidates were busy today getting in their say.

Mrs. Maurine Neuberger, Democratic senatorial nominee, said in Portland today that effective civil rights legislation and overseas economic aid were equally important in the "cold war" efforts against Communist aggression. "Philosophy rather than finance may well be the key to victory in the free world's competition with the USSR," she said.

Elmo Smith, GOP Senate candidate, said in Hood River Thursday development of the proposed industrial site at the Boardman Bombing Range should "not be tied too closely to the planning of one company." He said Mrs. Neuberger "has made much of her association with an official of one particular company that is interested in Boardman. We should guard against any transaction that might permit the Boardman land to be tied up by a company that does not yet have its space project for development in Oregon."

Monroe Sweetland, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, spoke at a public power meeting in Longview, Wash., today and called for "an injection of new primary industries of a diversified character with year-around payrolls."

Applying Criticizes Foe

Incumbent Howell Appling Jr. criticized Sweetland's "spendthrift philosophy" in a talk at McMinnville Thursday. He compared his own record of "economy" in state government against what he termed "soak the taxpayer" votes of Sweetland in the legislature.

The Coos Bay World today endorsed Sweetland for election to the post.

Lecture on Rabbit Diseases Scheduled

A lecture on rabbit diseases will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Jackson county courthouse auditorium.

Speaker will be Dr. J. N. Starnes of the Roxy Ann Veterinary hospital. He will illustrate his talk with slide films.

The meeting has been arranged by the Rogue Valley Rabbit Breeders club in cooperation with the Rogue River Feed and Farm Supply store. Part of the material was made available through the U. S. Department of Agriculture Experiment station, Fontana, Calif., and the Small Stock Magazine, Lamoni, Iowa.

The program will be of a semi-technical nature and is open to all rabbit raisers, 4-H club and FFA members and other interested persons. There will be no charge.
