Sorum - Dunford Marriage Takes Place in Metzger

The wedding of Miss Darolen Dunford, Metzger, Ore., to Pomeroy G. Sorum, formerly of Medford, took place in the Metzger Methodist church September 3. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Dunford, Metzger, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sorum, Sutherlin, formerly of Medford.

The late afternoon ceremony was read by the Rev. Donald Colburn. Neil Schroeder, Tigard, was soloist.

Mr. Dunford gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor-length gown of white nylon organza and lace. Her waist-length veil was held by a pearl tiara and she carried a white orchid corsage with white carnations and stephanotis.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Patricia Dunford, who wore a light blue sheath dress and a net and bow headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Neil Schroeder, Tigard, and the bride's eight-year-old sister, Kathy Dunford, were bridesmaids. Maurice Rasmussen, Palo Alto, Calif., served as best man and the bridegroom's brothers, Larry and Dana Sorum, seated guests. Cleo Taylor, Medford, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was senior usher.

The bride's mother wore a blue lace dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage for the event. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue nylon chiffon dress with ac-

Foursquare Church Scene Of Johnson - Haas Wedding

Miss Nancy Haas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Haas, 1006 Nianic street, became the bride of Charles Johnson, son of Mr. and Edward Johnson, Brookings, Ore., in a ceremony held September 17, at the Foursquare church. The Rev. R. H. Mathewson officiated at the double-ring rites attended by 125 relatives and friends.

White and pink gladioli decorated the church and white bows marked the pew ends.

Mrs. George Ring, Prospect, was soloist, and Kenneth Raymond played the organ music for the 8 o'clock evening rites.

The bride wore a full-length gown of lace and satin made with fitted bodice and scalloped neckline trimmed with seed pearls. The satin skirt had an overlay of nylon chiffon and the lace of the bodice was imported from France. The gown was designed and made by the bride's mother. The bride's illusion veil was fingertip length and held by a crown of pearls and sequins and she carried white roses on a white bible.

Mr. Haas gave his daughter in marriage, and John Logston was best man for the bridegroom.

Mrs. Leonard Settell, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She wore a blue lace dress and carried a heart-shaped bouquet of pink roses.

Seating the guests were Leonard Settell and Charles Haas. Candelighters were Miss Patricia Ring and Charles Haas.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Haas chose a dress of brocade beige material and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress trimmed in white and white accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's parents, at the Girl's Community club.

White candles and white roses decorated the serving table for the event. Mrs. George Simmons cut and served the wedding cake, which was baked and decorated by the bride's mother. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. George Haas, aunt of the bride. The bowl, an antique of cut glass, was loaned by Mrs. Harvey Cassman, Central Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson are shown following their wedding September 17 at the Foursquare church in Medford.

The newlyweds are at home at 1214 West Tenth street following a brief wedding trip to Agness, Ore. For traveling the bride wore a light beige suit with brown accessories and her wedding corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Medford High school and is employed by Cubby's Drive-In, as a waitress. Mr. Johnson was discharged from the United States Air Force last November, and is employed by the Rogue River Valley Irrigation district.

The parents of the bridegroom resided from Brookings and a group of his friends and relatives came from various parts of California.

Also among the guests were the bride's aunt, Mrs. Dale Moores, and Miss Bonnie Knutson, a cousin, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brandt, Milwaukie, Ore., and friends of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Baldwin, Seaside, Wash., formerly of Medford.

Seal Chairmen Make Plans For Coming Drive

Area chairmen for the coming Christmas Seal campaign met recently at the home of Mrs. Fred Brennan, county chairman, to plan the coming drive. Mrs. Charles Kyer, Jacksonville, executive secretary of the Jackson County Public Health association, is co-chairman.

The meeting was a kick-off for the Christmas Seal campaign which will begin November 14 and the association is seeking volunteers who will help with typing of envelopes and mailing of the Seals.

"Great progress has been made against tuberculosis but a big job remains to be done," Mrs. Brennan said. "Seal contributions this year will help hold the gains made and to increase efforts to defeat tuberculosis."

Persons who can contribute time to preparations for the campaign are asked to contact Mrs. Brennan, Spring 2-4778, or the association office, Spring 2-4818.

Area chairmen are Mrs. W. H. Fisher, Medford; Mrs. Marvin Kocks and Mrs. John Wenker, Ashland; Mrs. John Keaveny, Jacksonville; Mrs. John Clark, Central Point; Mrs. Richard Bartuss, Shady Cove; Mrs. Phillip Eagle, Rogue River; and Mrs. Arthur Macintosh, Phoenix.

Episcopal Churchwomen To Hold Meeting Here

Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of Oregon will begin the fall program of activities with a meeting in Medford opening today and continuing through Tuesday.

Today and Monday a conference of officers and committee members will be held at Black Oaks Conference center of the church, on the Rogue river, and Tuesday a general meeting will be held at St. Mark's church in Medford.

The conference will be based on "The Ministry of the Laity" the 1959 training course for laymen of the National council. The conference will be conducted by Dale Pederson, Eugene, key layman of the Diocese.

It is stated that the conference is planned in order that women of the church may learn what laymen have been learning at their conference, thus promoting greater understanding of their church work for both men and women.

Theme of the conference will be "The Family in Contemporary Society". Members of the clergy who are interested are invited to attend.

The Tuesday meeting will commence with Holy Communion at 10:30 a.m. with the Rev. George R. V. Bolster, rector of St. Mark's and dean of the Southern deanery as celebrant. The business meeting will precede a luncheon to be served by the women of St. Mark's. Mrs. Belloni will present the program.

Mrs. Robert Dames of Medford is workshop chairman for the diocese, and Mrs. William Clegg is recording secretary of the Episcopal Churchwomen. Mrs. Clegg states that about 20 officers and committee members will attend the Sunday and Monday conference, and about 75 the general session Tuesday.

PTA Heads Speakers For School

Mrs. Leigh Gustison, Medford, president of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers, reported on her recent attendance at the executive meeting of the National Congress in Chicago for the school of instruction of the Jackson County Council of Parent-Teacher associations held September 28 in the Red Cross building.

Mrs. Gustison stated that the National Congress will hold its convention in Portland in May, 1962. She recommended that local units think of the coming convention in making out this year's budget.

Mrs. John Benson, OCPT parliamentarian, narrated a film strip on "How to Conduct a Meeting."

Mrs. Alva Bradford, Jackson County council publicity chairman, talked on local publicity. She stated that all PTA units have the same ideal: "To make sure that all children and young people have the finest chance in the world to grow into adult citizens who are healthy, well-educated, mentally sound and spiritually strong."

Mrs. Glenn Stewart and Mrs. S. J. Fagone were in charge of a discussion group on hospitality. They stated that everyone should go away from a PTA meeting with that "glad I came feeling."

Mrs. M. O. Grove, Jackson county health chairman, emphasized that your child's health is an important factor in his ability to learn. She stressed having a health report at each meeting.

Mrs. Gustison and Mrs. William Selbert, Jackson County Council president in their "clinic" on local presidents emphasized that all PTA programs should be educational. The association is noncommercial, nonsectarian and nonpartisan. It does not endorse a commercial enterprise or a candidate.

Mrs. Selbert announced that the next council meeting will be held in Ashland, October 19.
