Royal Japanese Pair Happy With Reception in America

Portland — (UPI) — Crown Prince Akihito said "Sayonara" to the United States Wednesday night and left for home "with renewed assurance of the warm friendship existing between our countries."

The Crown Prince and his demure wife, Crown Princess Michiko, wound up their two-week tour of America with a 6½ hour visit to Portland.

They left on a Japan Airlines plane at 10:50 p.m. (p.s.t.) en route to Tokyo with a brief stop at Anchorage.

In a farewell statement at the airport the prince said he and his wife had been "delighted at every turn with your great cities, broad plains, and warm-hearted people." "The time has come," he said minutes before the plane took off. "When we must say 'Sayonara.' We leave with renewed assurance of the warm friendship existing between our countries and with the hope that we can again be with you."

At a banquet before 750 persons in the Grand ballroom of Portland's Sheraton Hotel the Prince said he had been "deeply impressed by the notable affection shown by Americans for Japanese."

Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield revealed at the banquet that in addition to city affiliation between the countries, Oregon was exploring possibility of a sister state affiliation with one of the prefectures of Japan.

A last-minute shopping spree at a nearby department store occupied the royal couple before the banquet. Princess Michiko spent so much time in the store's baby department with the Governor's wife that the party barely reached a pre-banquet reception on time.

Hatfield tried to get his wife to hurry up, but admitted he didn't have much luck.

Smith, Japanese Prince Hold Talk

Portland — (UPI) — Republican senatorial candidate Elmo Smith had a private audience with Crown Prince Akihito of Japan during the stopover here Wednesday by the Prince.

The audience was granted because of what was termed Smith's long-time friendship with the Oregon Japanese.

Smith was mayor of Ontario which had a large Japanese population, when Pearl Harbor was attacked. Smith called civic leaders and Japanese farmers together for a meeting at the city hall Dec. 8, 1941. The group discussed and laid down plans to avoid incidents. The Japanese turned their community hall, located at the edge of the Ontario airport, over to public management, and the hall became a barracks for housing flight cadets trained at the Ontario field.

Tallahassee, Fla. — (UPI) — The state beverage department Wednesday adopted a regulation prohibiting the sale or consumption of whiskey within 25 feet of the foul line in bowling alleys.

Piano Movers Huff And Puff Back Again
Stroudsburg, Pa. — A moving crew huffed and puffed its way down two floors of the Stroud Community House with a baby grand piano they had been hired to haul away.

The piano was loaded when the crew was advised it was the piano on the third floor they were supposed to move.

Republicans, Democrats Vie for Spotlight on Oregon Political Scene; Lodge Visits in State

United Press International Republicans and Democrats vied for the political spotlight in Oregon today with a visit by GOP vice presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge and a one-day hearing in Portland on resource problems before a panel which included Democratic senators and representatives. Lodge flew into Corvallis Wednesday night and was to hold a news conference and speak at Gill Coliseum before flying to Portland for afternoon and evening talks. He spends the night in Portland and goes to Tacoma and Seattle Friday.

Hatfield Supports 11 Out of 15 Ballot Measures

Salem — (UPI) — Gov. Mark Hatfield said today he supports 11 of the 15 measures on the Oregon general election ballot Nov. 8 and would like to see two others defeated.

The governor said he backs measures fixing commencement of legislators' terms; financing urban redevelopment; allowing the legislature to propose a revised constitution; state bonds for higher education facilities; voter qualification; bonds for state building program; compulsory retirement for judges; financing improvements in home rule counties; continuity of government in enemy attack; veterans' bonding and loan amendment; and billboard control.

Opposes Income Tax Bill
He said he strongly opposes No. 14, the personal income tax bill, and No. 10, a measure calling for an elective office to become vacant when a public official is elected to another office.

Hatfield said he has no strong feelings about No. 2, daylight saving time, and hasn't made up his mind about No. 4, permitting prosecution by information or indictment.

NOT SO LUCKY

senators and representatives. Lodge flew into Corvallis Wednesday night and was to hold a news conference and speak at Gill Coliseum before flying to Portland for afternoon and evening talks. He spends the night in Portland and goes to Tacoma and Seattle Friday.

He told some 500 persons at the Corvallis airport that Richard Nixon can provide the kind of leadership to guide the nation from the threat of war and lead to a "higher plateau of permanent peace."

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, (D-Wash.), presided over the hearing in Portland, one of six Kennedy Natural Resources Conferences being held in various western cities this month. Magnuson emphasized the hearing was open to Republicans, Independents and Democrats.

Maurine on Panel
The panel included Mrs. Maurine Neuberger, Democratic senatorial nominee, and Oregon's three Democratic House members.

Mrs. Neuberger, in testimony prepared for the hearing, urged creation of the Dunes National seashore park in the Florence-Reedsport area and improvement of National Forest camping facilities.

State Sen. Monroe Sweetland, Democratic nominee for secretary of state, told the group the next Congress should pass a bill increasing federal help to cities for sewage treatment facilities. Adequate clean water supplies are essential, he said.

Elmo Smith, GOP Senate candidate, was to meet John Roosevelt, a son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, at the Portland airport today. Roosevelt plans a two-day swing to boost GOP candidates in Oregon.

East Tennessees Wants To Be Wet
Knoxville, Tenn. — East Tennessees, hotbed of the state's illicit liquor traffic, has made a Doubling Thomas of State Revenue Commissioner Alfred MacFarland.

Addressing a law institute here, he said "I don't think it's possible to dry up East Tennessee."

As an afterthought he added: "I don't think it wants to be dried up."

Smith and Mrs. Neuberger spoke from the same platforms at Portland and Hillsboro Wednesday. Smith told an Aero Club meeting he would "work vigorously for federal tax reduction" and said his opponent has "consistently supported high taxes."

Mrs. Neuberger outlined a proposal calling for a special Senate committee on consumer affairs saying interests of consumers deserved representation in every governmental decision affecting business and industry.

In other political news: Ron Phair, Republican candidate for Congress in the 2nd district, criticized the record of his opponent, Al Ullman. Phair said "Albi Al has become the nickname of my opponent, who is noted for his feverish activities, wild promises and lavish claims in election years." He said he had the highest personal regard for Ullman but that "the people are up in arms about his record."

Ullman told Arlington city officials Wednesday night he will continue efforts to get legislative relief for the city's financial plight caused by relocation of parts of the town to make way for John Day Dam. Purchase by the government of business and residential property has removed it from tax rolls.

Rep. Walter Norblad, (R-Ore.) said in Sheridan Wednesday that plans for the Mill Creek-Red Prairie reclamation project were proceeding satisfactorily. He said Congress has provided some $100,000 to make studies.

Nixon, Kennedy To Debate Friday in Washington Studio

Washington — (UPI) — Network officials today promised a "more comfortable and less austere" setting for Friday's nationwide television debate between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Preparations for the second meeting of the two presidential candidates, which will be held in NBC's studios here, have taken into account criticisms and suggestions growing out of their Chicago appearance Sept. 28.

Changes Scheduled
Then the two men sat in chairs on a bleakish set backed up by a simulated brick wall. For Friday's debate, there have been changes, mainly designed to make the setting more comfortable.

Final arrangements on what it will look like were to be worked out today between NBC officials and representatives of the two candidates.

Friday's show, which will be televised from Washington starting at 3:30 p.m. (p.s.t.), will follow the same general lines of the first debate. Four reporters will ask questions.

The four are Alvin Spivak, United Press International; Hal Levy, Newsday; Edward P. Morgan, ABC, and Paul Niven, CBS.

Like the Chicago show, the cameras will switch occasionally from the speaker for a reaction shot of his opponent. Unlike the Chicago show, there will be front shots of the panelists to show their faces.

An NBC spokesman said the network has offered both Kennedy and Nixon the use of their makeup and lighting experts, but he said no decision has been reached on what the candidates will do.

Some of the loudest criticism of the Chicago debate was of Nixon's appearance. He used his own makeup and lighting men.

Steady Buying Wave Keeps Wednesday's Stock Rally Alive

New York — (UPI) — A steady wave of buying enabled the stock market to keep Wednesday's late rally alive today.

An improvement in investment sentiment was evident from the opening and was reflected in higher bids for virtually all the stock groups.

Steels shared in the rise with gains of a half or more in U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic.

In the electronics, International Business Machines ran up more than 2, and Zenith, Texas Instruments, Litton, Transatron and Motorola more than a point.

Columbia Gas, which boosted its dividend, rose around a half. McDonnell received $134 million worth of military contracts and spurred more than 1. Ryder, down recently on antitrust charges brought against the company, bounced back today with a gain of around 1½. Polaroid added a point and National Lead around 2.
