Famous Ballet Company To Highlight Civic Music

The appearance here in January of the famous Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, America's favorite ballet company, will highlight the season of the Jackson County Civic Music association.

Although most Civic Music concerts are not scheduled until after the close of the annual membership drive, it is the custom of the board of directors to contract for an outstanding program should it be made available. Since the Ballet Russe is to be on the West Coast for other engagements and had an open date, the appearance here was arranged.

It is largely through the efforts of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo that ballet has become so popular in the United States. Since 1933 this company has toured the United States and Canada annually. Its audiences number nearly a million persons each season, and the company plays in large cities as well as small ones.

Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo was founded in Monte Carlo and emigrated to the United States in 1938 and is thoroughly American. The adjective "Russe" in the company's name has led some people to believe that the company is Russian. The "Russe" however, refers only to the schooling of the dancers, which is based on the great traditions of the Russian Imperial ballet. Ballet itself was born in France, but it was in Russia that it achieved its perfection as a theater form.

It is stressed that unless a membership for the entire Civic Music series is purchased during the drive this week, it will be impossible to see the performance when it comes in January. No single admissions are ever sold. The price of the entire series here is about what a single orchestra seat would cost in a large city, it is pointed out.

O. M. Anderson is president of Civic Music this year, and S. M. Bullis, former president, is campaign chairman. Mrs. Margaret Mary Musso, Civic Music representative from the head office in New York City, is here to conduct the annual membership campaign.

Volunteers who are working on the campaign are asked to check in at headquarters at the Lusk Piano company Thursday.

Nurses Attending Convention

Mrs. Jane Anders, Medford, president-elect of District 4, Oregon Nurses association, will be given the "red carpet treatment" during the 56th annual convention of the O.N.A. in Eugene this week. The convention opens today, and Mrs. Anders, along with other district presidents, will be honored at a luncheon October 13.

Mrs. Anders will head the delegation of seven registered nurses from this area who will attend the convention. She is the night supervisor at Sacred Heart hospital.

In presenting the convention theme - "Blueprint for Action: Building Today for Nursing Tomorrow," Mrs. Johnnye C. Schick, Eugene, the association's president, will challenge the delegates to work to provide the best possible care to all patients and help raise the level of health of the citizens of the state.

She will also stress the need to improve working conditions and standards of pay for nurses, not only to attract more young people into the profession but to keep experienced, highly qualified nurses from moving out of the state to take better positions.

Miss Adele Herwitz, New York City, associate executive secretary of the American Nurses association, will be the convention headliner, speaking on the topic of "Steps to Security". Educational program sessions and demonstrations will include "Hepatitis," a currently serious health problem in several parts of the state; "Hypnosis," a technique increasingly being used by specially trained doctors; "Lest We Forget the Patient," and "When Is Nursing Practice Professional?"

W. Scott Nobles, head of the department of speech at the University of Oregon, will describe how improved communications will result in greater understanding and help by the public in solving some of the problems of the nursing profession. Herbert Blum, Ph.D., associate professor of sociology at the university, will be the banquet speaker.

More than 200 student nurses from the seven schools of nursing in the state will be in Eugene October 13 and 14 for their annual convention. Miss Mary Dennesaites, Waukegan, Ill., president of the National Student Nurses association, will be a special guest.

Lawson Family Attends Opera

Dr. and Mrs. Earl L. Lawson and daughter, De Etta, have returned from San Francisco where they attended performances of the San Francisco Opera company.

Mrs. Cummins and Miss Bird are teachers in the local grammar school. Mrs. Rutledge teaches at Hills.

Dinner, Style Show Given For League Kindergarten

In support of the kindergarten for deaf children which Medford Junior Service league operates, Burelson's store sponsored the third annual dinner and Don Loper fashion show Saturday night at Rogue Valley Country club.

Reflecting the fashion decline into which the skirt and jacket suit has fallen, Don Loper featured the costume suit, a dress with a matching coat, jacket or bolero. These were of either wool or silk, in various fabrics and weights, and if the matching piece was a jacket, they are most artfully designed.

Black predominated; grey and various shades of brown also often seen. Great coats were of checks or tweeds. Fashionable fur was used in many ways - to trim cashmere sweaters to band the flare of a jacket. One of the most exciting costume suits was a black broadcloth with a loosely-cut swing back jacket completely bordered with glistering black fox. This was modeled by Mrs. C. H. Buffington.

Mrs. Frank Hopewell modeled a walking suit of grey wool named "Mall" with very long jacket cut oval-shaped in the back. Mr. Loper uses much velvet and satin piping for trim, and this was noted in "Viking," a tweed travel coat modeled by Mrs. Walter Graf.

Mrs. Donald Herried modeled a sheared angora wrap which had been designed for Marlene Dietrich, and carried one of the enormous bags which are fashionable this season. This California designer also believes that clothing should enhance a woman's feminine charm and his designs for the most part do just that. He also gives his designs colorful and intriguing names.

Mr. Griffith is also in charge of athletics.

Mrs. J. Morris Tucker, PTA president, introduced Mrs. M. L. Priebe, vice president; Mrs. Edith Arnold, secretary; Mrs. Ruth Roemer, treasurer; Mrs. George Large, historian; Mrs. Larry Briggs, publicity chairman; Mrs. Arthur Savage, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Robert Minear, legislation; Mr. and Mrs. Don Giles, parliamentarians; Mrs. George Bannister, program; Mrs. Leonard Rhodes, health and pre-school; Mrs. Delmar McKee and Lyle Perkins, hospitality; and Larry Youmans, magazine.

Also Mrs. Wesley Ober and Mrs. Randall Leon, membership; Mrs. Larry Youmans, sponsored organizations; Mrs. Gerald Gleaves, room mother chairman; and Mrs. Frink, faculty adviser.

This association decided to purchase a 50-star flag to present to the room winning the room count at each future meeting. Mrs. Stagler's room won the count Thursday night.

A short skit, written by Mrs. George Bannister, was performed by members of the executive board and narrated by Lyle Perkins. A modern play, "Dance," presented by Miss Nicole Ober and Miss Joyce Leon.

Refreshments and a social hour followed.

For one trip down the runway Mrs. Edward Collins wore a peau de sole gown made with four draped panels which was designed for Zsa Zsa Gabor. Mrs. Blackstone modeled a gown with beaded bodice and jacket which also can be worn as a hood which was designed for Linda Darnell, and Mrs. Herried wore one of silk brocade with beaded skirt which was designed for Theresa Brewer, the singer.

Mrs. Margery Green again served as commentator and she introduced Mrs. C. M. Litzberg, owner-manager of Burelson's, and sponsor of the event, hair stylists from the store's beauty salon who styled the models' hair for the show, and Abby Green, who provided background music.

Nina Novak and Alan Howard are two of the leading dancers who will appear here with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo as part of the Jackson County Civic Music association's annual concert series. This company, which has toured the United States and Canada every year since 1938, was organized in Monte Carlo and then transplanted to the United States. The membership campaign of Civic Music is now under way in the county; headquarters are Lusk Piano company.

Oregon Cow Belles Plan Convention in Medford

Further plans for the coming convention of Oregon Cow Belles were made during the recent visit of Miss Berniz Blann, Mitchell, Ore., state president.

Miss Blann was in Medford Thursday for a meeting of Jackson County Cow Belles. The local group is in charge of the state convention which will be held in Medford November 9-12 in conjunction with the Oregon Cattlemen's association convention.

Highlight of the women's activities will be the annual luncheon Thursday at Rogue Valley Country club. A short business meeting will follow the luncheon and an additional business session is scheduled for Friday in the court-house auditorium. The president's breakfast will be held Saturday morning.

The Cow Belles convention committee has arranged for hospitality rooms, complete with hostesses, at the Medford hotel, convention headquarters. Wives of gentlemen and their guests will be welcome to relax and visit in the rooms.

On the committee are Mrs. Robert H. Field, Central Point, county president; Mrs. Armin Richter, Aplegate; Mrs. Victor Stewart, Ashland; Mrs. J. W. Bigham, Eagle Point; and Mrs. John Bohnert, Central Point.

The committee met September 28 at the Field residence.

Luncheon will be served by a committee. Child care will be available at the home of Mrs. Clifford Friesen, 2541 Table Rock road. Mothers are to send lunches for their children.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

We shall notice all through the Scriptures God has asked man to offer and take part in a blood sacrifice. We shall comment on each one of them as we come to them. We learn in the 6th Chapter of Genesis that the world had become so corrupt that God repented that he had created it. He instructed Noah to build an ark, in which the repentant and one pair of every living thing would be saved. The disobedient to God's call through Noah were lost. Gen. 8:20 states that Noah built an altar and offered sacrifices unto God, and God promised that he would not destroy the world by water again. The Scriptures do not say up to this point that God gave man any definite instructions as to the order of his worship. God begins this instruction with Abraham.
