Search Fails To Locate Pilot Off Wake Island

Wake Island —(UPI)—Rough seas and rain squalls today hampered the search for a North Dakota Air National Guard pilot whose plane crashed at sea while he and a companion were attempting a nonstop record flight for lighter aircraft.

The missing man was Lt. Duane Stirling, 27, Fargo, N. D. His plane crashed about three miles off-shore Wednesday as he was attempting to reach this mid-Pacific island for an emergency landing.

Companion Safe
Stirling's companion, Capt.

Charles Finneg, 30, also of Fargo, landed safely. The two men, flying identical planes, were attempting a 7,698-mile

Excited New Papa Dials Wrong Number

Nashville, Tenn. — Don Bolger was more than excited when he got the word he was a proud papa. He tried time after time to make telephone calls to convey the news.

Always he got the busy signal. Finally, he realized the difficulty. He was dialing his own number.

nonstop flight from Oakland, Calif., to Manila.

A Navy crash boat found Stirling's plane drifting toward a reef about three hours later, but there was no sign of the pilot.

The cabin door was open and all survival gear was missing, indicating that Stirling may have survived the crash.

OIL DISTRIBUTION

San Antonio — There are about 42,000 oil companies and more than 200,000 gas and oil service stations in the U.S.

FIREFIGHTERS FOILED

Ft. Campbell, Ky. —(UPI)—Fire Chief Robert J. Ogden gathered members of the Command and Control Battalion together Wednesday to show the mhow to put out a fire in an Army barracks. He could not do it. Workers who built the scale-model barracks for the demonstration had used wood that was too wet to burn.

Ragweed Removed from Sauvies Island

Portland —(UPI)—A State Agriculture Department crew did what it could Wednesday to keep Western Oregon's ragweed-free reputation clean.

The crew pulled out by the roots a small infestation of ragweed on Sauvies Island north of here. The ragweed growth was the only known one in Multnomah county.

Senate Candidates Discuss Aid; Take Campaigns Out of State

By United Press International

Elmo Smith and Mrs. Maurine Neuberger carried their campaigns for the U.S. Senate out of the Portland area today after another joint appearance.

Smith, the Republican nominee, was in Klamath Falls and Mrs. Neuberger, the Democratic candidate, was in Eugene. They shared the platform Wednesday before 200 women at a League of Women Voters meeting in Portland where both spoke on foreign aid.

Smith said he should be sure foreign aid did not "hurt the giver more than it helps the getter." He said this country was banker for the free world "and maintaining a free world depends on our maintaining a solvent bank."

Mrs. Neuberger said "foreign aid requires sacrifice but if we abandon territories and peoples, I have a feeling that we will be letting down the next generation, which might have to fight an atomic war — and a losing one."

In Eugene today, Mrs. Neuberger proposed federal legislation "as an opening wedge against age discrimination in employment which is depriving our nation of a vast reservoir of skill and experience."

She told the Eugene Civitan Club "the tendency to discard workers past the age of 40 or to refuse to hire men and women past this particular age causes suffering, humiliation and loss to our economy."

She said she would support legislation to forbid firms with government contracts from imposing age restrictions in hiring practices.

Smith was scheduled to appear in Corvallis tonight at a candidates' "fair" and Mrs. Neuberger scheduled a speech to nurses meeting in Eugene. She planned to try to attend the Corvallis meeting, also, if time permitted.

A debate over ballot measure 13 was held in Portland

Wednesday at a relations meeting. The measure would increase by $135 million the amount Oregon may borrow to make housing loans to veterans.

Ralph Walstrom, of Holbrook - Walstrom Property Counselors, argued that the measure would increase the cost of bonds for highways, schools, sewers and other projects by increasing the state's bonded indebtedness.

Gibson Bowles, a realtor, argued for the measure saying the program has shown a profit so far and the increase could be made without raising any taxes.

Economy Said Sagging

In other political news: State Sen. Monroe Sweetland, Democratic nominee for secretary of state, told a Eugene audience today that Oregon's economy was "sagging and insecure." He said mills had cut down production and made layoffs and called for abandonment of the "unsuccessful" high interest rate and tight money policy.

Wallace L. Lee, Republican candidate for Congress in the 3rd district, criticized Rep. Edith Green, his Democratic opponent, for what he said were expressions of sentiment in favor of eventual admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Rep. Green announced that State Sen. Alfred H. Corbett would be chairman of a rally in Portland Oct. 30 at which two-time Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson will speak.

Elevator, Grain Burn at lone lone —(UPI)—A fire which broke out Wednesday afternoon in an elevator containing 25,000 bushels of grain on the Delbert Emert ranch about one-half mile from here, was still reported smoldering today.

The lone fire department said five pumpers had been sent to battle the blaze, which apparently broke out from a hot wire. No immediate damage estimate was available.

Why Oregon's first lady, Mrs. Mark O. Hatfield, buys only fryers with this LABEL

this FRYER grown in OREGON

OREGON-GROWN FRYERS are fresher by miles!

So says Antoinette Hatfield, wife of Oregon Governor Mark O. Hatfield. "I insist on Oregon-Grown fryers because, (1) I'm supporting an Oregon industry, and (2) they are fresher."

The fresher the fryer... the finer the flavor—that's why Oregon-Grown fryers carry the "Grown in Oregon" label... to assure you that you're buying the freshest chicken in the market.

Next time you buy fryers, look first for the "GROWN IN OREGON" label on the package. Plump, meaty, farm-fresh fryers that are tender-grown in Oregon's mild-green climate... chilled within minutes after leaving the farm... rushed to U.S.D.A. and State-inspected processing plants... and on to your grocer-in refrigerated carriers—ready for you to cook and serve at their full-flavored best. Oregon-Grown fryers are so fresh they need no added preservatives.
