Benefit Tea Set; Beekman Bank Is Open For Viewing

A varied program, to which the public is invited, has been planned in conjunction with the Siskiyou Pioneer Sites Foundation's benefit tea in Jacksonville this afternoon, according to Mrs. Dwight Houghton, chairman of the event.

In addition to plans for renovation of the U.S. Hotel, as done by architect Jeffrey Shute, an oil painting of the pioneer landmark by Eugene Bennett, Medford artist, will be exhibited at the tea at the McCully House from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The Oregon Historical society will open the Beekman bank to the public from 2 to 5 o'clock, Mrs. Houghton said. Three historic churches will hold memorial services for Jacksonville pioneers during the day. Services will be held at St. Joseph's Catholic church at 9 o'clock, at the Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock and at the old Methodist church at 2 o'clock.

Pouring for the tea will be Miss Claire Hanley, curator of the Jacksonville Museum, and Mrs. John Soliss, Medford, granddaughter of Dr. Hoover, pioneer Jacksonville physician.

No admission will be charged to the historic buildings, Mrs. Houghton said, but donations may be made to the Foundation's fund for the restoration of the U.S. Hotel.

Composition by Rossini On Philharmonic Program

Rossini's "Strabat Mater" will be the major number for the November 13 concert of the Philharmonic Society of Southern Oregon. The sacred cantata employs four soloists, soprano, second soprano, tenor and basso with chorus and orchestra.

According to R. D. Werner, director, the work is not often performed because of the difficulties for the soloists. The society announced that it considers itself fortunate in obtaining Mrs. Lois Reed, Mrs. Lois Utterback and Louis Clayton, all of California, and Maynard Hadley, Medford, for the demanding music.

The chorus, which has been rehearsing Monday evenings at Washington school, also has music to sing a capella. Enthusiasm is very high for the performance, according to Director Werner, founder of the organization. Many new members have enrolled this season. Mr. Werner reported that more members also have joined the orchestra.

In addition to the "Strabat Mater," the orchestra will perform a dramatic overture and Bizet's "L'Arlesienne suite No. 1," in which Mrs. Virginia Westerfield will be saxophone soloist.
