Jacksonville in 1876. He was married to Anna Stuevens, who preceded him in death several years ago.

He was a member of the Masonic Order and of the Oddfellows lodge.

Survivors include two brothers, Olmer L. and Charles Wisdom, and one nephew, Aubrey Wisdom, of Medford.

Services were held at the Medford IOOF cemetery with Per Funeral home in charge of arrangements. The Rev. Ed. Stauffer, of the First Baptist church, officiated.

The Palms rented a building on South Front st. where they operated a variety store shortly after they came to Medford. Later Mr. Palm built a small frame structure on the corner of Main and First sts. Mrs. Palm still owned the building on that corner. When it was erected, it was the only building west of the Southern Pacific railway tracks.

When the Palms moved into the building, Mrs. Palm added a millinery stock to the variety store, since she was a trained milliner, and later they disposed of the variety stock. Mrs. Palm was in business for 19 years.

Later the couple built the home on South Holly st. where Mrs. Palm lived until she entered the hospital.

A statue in the library park was erected in Mr. Palm's honor. In recent years Mrs. Palm, a devoted Presbyterian, donated the carillon bells which now sound daily from the United Presbyterian church. Up to her death Mrs. Palm kept an active interest in local, state and national affairs.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. D. Kirkland West will officiate. Chapel Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.
