The Family Council

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. E. G. — Our middle son is a problem child.
Billy G. — Tommy's smart, Jimmy's cute, I'm just bad.

Toe-Cuddlers

7464 by Alice Brooks

Practical! Cuddle slippers with bells for trim really hug a child's foot—never fall off! Jiffy-knit! Each slipper is just one flat piece—ribbing added on. Made of knitting worsted. Pattern 7464; directions for children's sizes 4 to 12 included.

Mrs. E. G. — We have three fine boys. Tom is 14, Billy 10 and Jimmy 7. Tom and Jimmy never give me a minute of trouble. They play nicely either alone or together. But Billy! He makes up for the other two. Let Jimmy spend an hour setting up his trains and Billy swoops into the room and kicks them to the four corners. When Tom's on the phone talking to a friend, Billy will start shooting his cap pistol like mad. I'm called to school several times a month because Billy forged my name on the homework paper he was supposed to show me, or shot ink out of a water pistol I didn't even know he had. His latest trick at home is to fall down and yell, "I'm paralyzed." He yells and yells until I rub his leg and help him up.

Billy G. — I hate my life. At home I have no one to play with. In school they're always picking on me. Whatever I do, somebody gets mad. I tried to do a trick and make my mother laugh and I broke a lamp and made her yell. I brought my turtle to school but who cared? Bobby Green had a snake in a big box and that was the big attraction. I started to tell my father how I was picked to pull the curtains for the Thanksgiving play. What happened? Tom ran in to talk about the 100-meter race he won that day in the high school meet.

They really don't care about me. Once in a while I just make them care. I do things.

The Council: Billy feels lost and is making desperate attempts to be "found." The sandwich child in a family can never be sure just where he fits in. Is he one of the big kids and counted in on decisions and responsibilities? Or is he lumped with the baby who is treated more like a toy than a growing boy? Billy thinks of himself as the stale bread of the sandwich rather than the juicy roast beef. Position in a family, many studies have shown, accounts for some of the wide differences in children born to the same parents and, ostensibly, treated the same. Actually, when you think about it, no two children are born to the

Quotes From the News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL Windsor, Ont. — Wally Ballantyne, ambulance company official, describing the scene of an explosion-shattered department store: "Everybody got down in there and pitched in, even the priests who were administering the last sacraments. Here and there we could see legs sticking out." Hollywood — Actor Tab Hunter, acquitted of charges he beat and kicked his dog which had swimming pool privileges: "I knew in my heart I was right." United Nations — Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa, charging the United States is preparing a staged incident at the Guantanamo naval base: "At this very moment, the government of the USA is preparing a manufactured provocation at the Guantanamo naval base for the sake of the U. S. elections." Washington — Charles H. Tower, vice president of the National Association of Broadcasters, testifying at a hearing on pay television: "Let no one be deluded into thinking that pay TV is primarily concerned with programs appealing to limited or specialized groups. Pay TV will be mass, not class entertainment."
