Relatives at Scene of Crash To Claim Bodies

Washington—UPI—E. R. Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, suspended the operating certificate of the airline whose plane crashed in Toledo Saturday night killing 22 persons.

Toledo, Ohio—UPI—Stunned relatives were arriving today to visit—or claim the bodies of—the California Polytechnic College football players injured or killed in the crash of a chartered airliner bringing them home from Saturday's game.

Twenty-two persons, including 17 players, were killed when their two-engine C64 crashed, broke apart and burst into flames moments after taking off in a thick fog Saturday night.

Twenty-six persons survived, but all had injuries ranging from minor to critical.

A Civil Aeronautics Board investigator indicated it would be at least several days before a report on the crash is issued.

The crash of the Arctic Pacific chartered airliner was the first in history involving a major American sports team.

Flames from the front section of the plane shot 300 feet high. Survivors from the tail section heroically did their best to rescue their teammates but they never had a chance.

Some of the survivors were found wandering 300 feet away, stunned.

James Fahey, 24, Gilroy, Calif., one of the survivors, said he heard the left engine give out.

"I ducked my head and saw flames shoot out," he said. "Then the bottom went over the top. The front hit and then the back seemed to snap off. With all the flames it seemed just like a paper kite on fire."

Started Dragging People
Fahey said he unfastened his safety belt, jumped out and with Don Adams, a guard on the team, started dragging out all the people they could.

Coach Leroy Hughes, 54, known as the Sly Gray Fox because his teams had scored in all but two games during his 10 years as coach of the Mustangs, was pinned in the wreckage. Assistant coach Walter Williamson, himself injured, pulled Hughes out, his head gashed with a nasty wound.

Some of the young men were burned beyond recognition.

In their game with Bowling Green that afternoon, they had lost, 50-6.

Absentee Ballot Deadline Nears

Thursday, Nov. 3 is the deadline for making application for absentee ballots, officials of the Jackson county election department reported today.

After that date only ballots accepted will be those from the physically disabled, people who have been called out of town by their employers, or those affected by a national disaster. Affidavits from doctors and employers are required with these applications.

Election schools in the county were completed Friday, it was reported. These were held at the Jacksonville grade school, the Hanby school in Gold Hill, Eagle Point grade school and in the county courthouse auditorium.

Stressed to the election boards throughout the county was that all tally and return sheets should be kept in an envelope separate from the election pouch so each pouch doesn't have to be unlocked to get returns from that precinct. This causes considerable delay in making the tally, it was explained.

The elections department is now putting out poll books and stuffing the election pouches. Relocation of a precinct voting place in one of the outlying areas has caused a problem since officials of the church used for the voting place didn't notify the county clerk until recently, County Clerk Marvin Madden said.

Steps Demanded To End Belgium's Congo Activities

Abuse Heaped On United States

United Nations, N. Y.—UPI—Top Communist delegates attacked Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold for withholding information on The Congo today and demanded steps to end Belgian activities there and restore the government of leftist Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin and Bohdan Lewandowski, 34, Polish ambassador who is this month's Security Council president, both authorized letters critical of Hammarskjold.

New Report Promised
Hammarskjold promised a new report toward the middle of the week "now that a stage has been reached in The Congo when some meaningful information can be made available."

The new attack on Hammarskjold's Congo policy coincided with an outpouring of abuse on the United States by Soviet propaganda outlets in advance of a General Assembly debate on Cuba's charge that a U.S. invasion of the Caribbean island is imminent.

The assembly will decide this afternoon whether to send the invasion charge to its Political Committee or debate it directly on the floor of the world parliament.

Aggression Plans Told
The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda said in Moscow that "North American ruling circles are now openly preparing armed aggression against Cuba."

The Soviet delegation was expected to join Cuba at the United Nations in demanding the General Assembly give priority to Premier Fidel Castro's charges that the United States is plotting to overthrow his revolutionary regime at any moment.

County Officials To Inspect Ramp
Besides the widening of the existing boat ramp at Howard Prairie reservoir other proposed construction will be delayed until after the new fiscal year starts July 1, the county court revealed this morning.

County Commissioner Chester Wendt and County Judge Earl Miller will inspect the ramp widening now under construction, tomorrow. Estimated cost is $1,500 for the structure which will be surfaced with cinders for the added 60-foot width. Robert Haworth, city-county parks recreation director, said he also plans to inspect the facilities tomorrow.

Deer Found in Car Following Accident
Oregon State police arrested Arnold William James, 18, Merlin, on a charge of illegal possession of venison Monday. It was found during investigation of a traffic accident that James had a deer in his vehicle.

A car operated by James ran off the road in front of 842 South Riverside ave., about 6 o'clock this morning and damaged some 20 feet of shrubbery at that location.

James told city police that he was forced off the road by another unidentified vehicle. Police cited James for no operator's license in possession and no vehicle registration.

Police found the deer in James' vehicle and then contacted state police, who made the arrest.

Human Error Given Blame for Missile Failures

Washington—UPI—A study team from Stanford Research Institute has warned the Air Force that human error has been causing from one-fifth to one-half of all missile system malfunctions, a science publication reported today.

The publication—"Washington Science Trends"—said a large share of the malfunctions had been blamed on such things as "faulty design."

Analysis of Reports
It said the institute, which is located at Menlo Park, Calif., drew its conclusions from an analysis of 4,248 malfunction reports covering such missiles as the Atlas, Thor, Bomarc, Goose, Hound Dog, Mace, Matador, Titan and Snark.

"An almost complete breakdown of the Air Force failure reporting system is demonstrated by the Stanford study," the publication said.

"Although human error is considered to be the largest single identifiable cause of missile malfunctions, this is not reflected in required reports."

Guilt Implication Avoided
The Stanford study itself said there was evidence "to support the conclusion that many human-initiated malfunctions are otherwise reported in order to avoid any implications of 'guilt' on the part of reporting personnel."

In one missile system, which was not identified, 1,391 malfunctions were reported. "Science Trends" said the records show only three labeled as human errors but the Stanford study indicated the correct total was at least 322.

Marines Leave Guantanamo Base

Havana—UPI—The U.S. Navy attack transport Boxer sailed from Guantanamo Base early today carrying out the 1,450 Marines whose Saturday arrival for a liberty week end raised Cuban cries of "provocation."

The Boxer with its escorting destroyers left the Guantanamo harbor at 7 a.m. to resume Caribbean maneuvers.

A base spokesman said the Marines' week end stay was "quiet and normal." It was their first shore leave in a month of maneuvers.

The Cuban government meanwhile started cracking down on the exodus of trained professionals and two foreign airlines announced plans to end flights to Cuba because of lack of business.

AUTOPSY PLANNED

Nuclear Test Ban Talks In Third Year at Geneva

Geneva—UPI—The United States, Britain and Russia today began their third year of negotiating a treaty on banning nuclear weapons tests, still deadlocked over some major issues.

In 260 bargaining sessions, the three powers have agreed that a test ban should be controlled by 180 monitoring posts located all over the world.

Speeches Expected
U.S. delegate Charles C. Stelle, Britain's Sir Michael Wright, and Semyon K. Tsarapkin of Russia were expected to make anniversary speeches today praising the achievements of the longest conference held under United Nations or League of Nations auspices.

But lurking in the background was growing pressure for the three parties to resolve some half-dozen outstanding issues—or break up.

Model Treaty Sought
The aim of the conference is to hammer out a model treaty between Britain, Russia and the United States.

The original parties would then invite all the other nations of the world to join. The agreement would be policed by a gigantic worldwide control system bigger and more costly than the United Nations.

Stevenson Deplores Economic Embargo Against Cubans

Portland—UPI—Adlai Stevenson said Sunday night the United States may have strengthened Fidel Castro's hand in Cuba by imposing economic sanctions on the island.

Stevenson told 4,000 persons at a fund-raising dinner that the economic embargo "will do more to overthrow Castro" than former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' economic sanctions against Egypt overthrew Premier Gamal Nasser in 1956.

"Indeed, we may well have strengthened Castro's position with his people, as we did Nasser's, and helped Cuba further into the Soviet orbit," he said.

"This administration . . . has taken unilateral action by imposing an economic embargo on Cuba 20 days before our presidential election. No other country has joined us in this embargo."

World in Revolution
The twice-defeated Democratic presidential nominee said the 1960 election "is more than a choice between two kinds of leadership. It is a choice between a real man talking about the real world which is in revolution, and a make-believe world where all is well."

Stevenson said Sen. John F. Kennedy "has looked at America, he knows what is wrong. He has told the truth to the American people."

Stevenson attacked the recently-announced plan of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for a peace offensive to halt Communism.

"This was not a strategy for peace which the vice president outlined," Stevenson said. "It was a tactic for deferring decisions and trying to get elected without being committed to anything."

Stevenson was introduced by Sen. Wayne L. Morse, who opposed Kennedy for the presidential nomination in the Oregon primary last May, although other leading Oregon Democrats opposed him.

"I have come back to the battleground to keep a pledge I made last spring when I said that if I lost I would urge the closing of ranks behind the party's ticket," Morse said. "I keep this pledge with great joy and deep conviction."

Halloween Dance, UNICEF Collection Planned Tonight

Tonight is Halloween and most children will once again transform themselves into goblins, ghouls and other ghastly creatures and threaten area residents with the age-old "trick or treat."

A number of parties and other get-togethers have been planned throughout the city to celebrate the event. Not the least of these will be a teen-age dance at the Medford Armory sponsored by the Moose lodge.

Medford Police Chief Charles P. Champlin urged area young people to "have fun," but to use common sense and good judgment at the same time. He said several extra officers will be on standby duty for tonight.

The dance at the armory is being held in connection with "Youth Honor day," an annual event that is sponsored by the Moose. The dance is free and open to anyone, the only requirement being that each person sign a Youth Honor day pledge card.

Live music will be provided at the dance by the "Shadows." Arrangements for the dance, which will be held from 8 to 11 o'clock, were made by the Moose in cooperation with the Medford parks and recreation department and Medford school district.

Chief Champlin has asked "tricker treaters" to not bother homes where signs are posted that the occupant is ill or otherwise unable to go to the door.

During the past few years, Champlin said, youths have been very cooperative on Halloween and have also carried on a number of worthwhile projects such as UNICEF.

A number of children will be asking residents for contributions to UNICEF. The money collected will be turned over to the U.N. organization for use in its worldwide health and nutrition program. The fund-raising drive is sponsored by the Medford chapter of the United Nations association.

Tavern Burglary in Ashland Reported

Ashland—Ashland city police are investigating a burglary of the Greyhound Tavern, 137 East Main st., which occurred late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Two cases of beer and $15 taken from a cash register were reported missing, police said.

The burglars gained entrance to the tavern by first breaking into the adjoining Herndobler Furniture Co., 125 East Main st.

A rear door leading to the furniture store basement was forced open, police said. A wooden partition separating the tavern and furniture store basements was broken, officers report.

Furniture store officials said that nothing had been taken from their store.

Eugene—UPI—E. F. Beal, associate professor of business at the University of Oregon, was located safely shortly before noon today after being reported missing in the Cascades about 11 miles east of Oakridge.

Son Born to Queen of Iran; Nation Rejoices

Tehran, Iran—UPI—The queen of Iran gave birth to a boy today, presenting the shah and a joyous nation with an heir to the Peacock Throne.

The birth occurred at 11:50 a.m. 12:20 p.m. (p.s.t.) It touched off a wild celebration among the Iranian people.

The shah told reporters that Queen Farah and the baby both were doing fine.

"I am very happy," he beamed. Throughout the country big guns boomed 41-salvo salutes. Giant crowds which had been assembling since the queen entered the hospital in labor this morning cheered so loudly the doctors had to ask quiet.

The birth ended years of disappointment and frustration for Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and his subjects when two previous marriages had failed to produce a son.

His first marriage, to Princess Fawzia of Egypt, produced a daughter, now 21. He divorced her and married Soraya, a half-German half-Persian girl. The shah divorced her after seven years of marriage when there were no children.

After a whirlwind courtship, the shah married Farah Diba, his present queen. She is 22, he is 41.

The baby will be named Reza after the shah's father.

UN Forces Tackle Murderous Band of Baluba Tribesmen

Leopoldville, The Congo—UPI—United Nations reinforcements closed in on southern Kasai Province by air, land and water today to wipe out a murderous rampage by thousands of Baluba tribesmen.

A show of force by Ghanian U.N. troops with armored cars stopped a drive on the Isal town of Luisa during the week end and led to the capture of four whites said to have been helping rebels.

Briton Identified
One was identified as a Capt. Roberts, said to be a British officer, and the others were reported to be three Belgian businessmen supplying the Balubas with arms.

They were arrested by Liberian U.N. forces at Mwene Ditu, 70 miles northeast of Luisa.

U.N. officials in Leopoldville said up to 5,000 Balubas had been terrorizing southern Kasai, killing and beating civilians, including priests and nuns, and burning at least three villages.

Many Disarmed
The Ghanians brought them up short without firing a shot and were reported to have disarmed many of them, but the U.N. command was taking no chances.

Lt. Gen. Andarip Rikhye, U.N. military advisor in the Congo, said some reinforcements were being flown to the area immediately while 1,000 more Ghanian troops were enroute by river boat and 700 Malayan troops were working their way there by land.

NO MORE DEBATES
Washington—UPI—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy will share no more television screens before Americans choose between them for the presidency. Efforts to arrange a fifth "great debate" TV meeting between the Republican and Democratic candidates collapsed in a welter of angry charges and countercharges during the week end. Barring a reversal by both camps, the matter appeared settled—no more debates.
